Chief Healey Promises Pro-

Warns All Who Do Not Intend to Return to Keep Away From Mill

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 2.—Every available member of the Manchester police will be stationed at the gates to the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co.'s Quillage mill Monday when the mill reopens. Chief M. J. Healey declared in a public statement today in which he promised all persons desiring to work absolute protection from molestation. He warned all persons who do not intend to return to work to remain away from the mill entrances. The statement was issued after a consultation with Gov. Albert O. Brown and Mayor O. E. Trudel, and is believed to refer especially to a reputed intention of textile strikers to parade about the mill gates.

To Buy Stark Mills
MANCHESTER, N. H., June 2.—Rumored purchase of the Stark mills of this city by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. was confirmed today by officials of the International Cotton company, owners of the mills.

Neither international cotton company officials would state the purchase price of the property, but said that the Amoskeag corporation would take over the mills "within a few days."

1700 persons.

KILLS GIRL, SHOTS MAN AND HIMSELF

TRINIDAD, Colo., June 2.—Joe Mc-Gonigal, night watchman at the Jewel mine is in jail at Aguilar, charged with having shot and killed Miss Ella Centers, 25, daughter of a boarding house keeper and W. N. Ferguson, 22, of Saco, Me., student at the Colorado School of Mines.

After shooting the two last night,
McGonigal is alleged to have shot himself through the foot in an effort to substantiate an alibi of self-defense.
Jealousy over the girl is said by officials to have prompted the shooting.

BELIEVES FIRE HAD ITS ORIGIN IN BAKERY

Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders said this noon that he is satisfied the fire that practically destroyed the Stoff block in Middlesex street last Sunday afternoon, had its origin in the bakery of the Bennett-Lynch Co., on the second floor of the building.

The chief made a thorough investigation and inspection of the premises today, in company with District Chief Sullivan, Patrolman Jeremiah Dole-y and Mr. Bennett, the bakery proprietor and afterwards said that he could not come to any other conclusion.
District Chief Sullivan and Officer
Doley, who were early on the scene after the fire was discovered, coincide in the chief's hypothesis.

Mr. Bennett has claimed that the fire did not have its origin in his shop, but, rather, in a barrel of tar that was on fire a short time before the general alarm blare occurred.

Chief Saunders says that "burning tar does not send out sparks and does not believe that the tar barrel fire had any connection whatsoever

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Fine of $100 and Direct Two Months' Sentence in Liquor Case

Counsel for Defense Charges
Member of Liquor Squad
With Perjury

Arthur Vilhos of 7 Bent's court was found guilty of illegal keeping and served $100 in addition to being sentenced to serve two months in the house of correction, when he appeared before Associate Justice John J.
Pickman in district court this morning. Counsel took an appeal in the case. Justice Pickman occupied the bench in the absence of Judge Thomas J. Burleigh, who was presiding over the juvenile session.

Charging a certain officer of the liquor squad with perjury, on the witness stand, defense counsel put a real kick in the case. Although a strong appeal was made by counsel the court made the finding of guilty.

This was Vilhos' second offense, having been found guilty of illegal keeping and fined $100 on March 11.
According to the testimony offered,

CITY IN COURT MONDAY

Case Having to Do With Disappearance of Nesmith
Fund is Coming Up

In anticipation of the appearance of the city in superior court on June 5, next Monday, in connection with the disappearance of the Nesmith fund, Mayor Brown has notified City Sollicitor Edward J. Tierney that he is agreeable to a special appropriation to equal the amount of principal and interest involved. The principal of the fund is $25,000.

The case has been taken to the courts by the Nesmith heirs, represented by Fisher Nesmith, in an effort to ascertain just what happened to the fund and when, and to attempt to have it restored.

In the recent report of the state upon the audit made of the city books and accounts, it was stated as a recommendation that the bakery should be restored at the earliest possible moment.

The mayor feels that the first of next year is the time to do it, when the annual budget is being prepared.

FOR BUILDINGS

City Council Has Right to Confer With Inspector of Buildings

Inspector May Refuse Permits for Certain Buildings in Residential Sections

An opinion has been addressed to the city council by City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney, stating that the council has the right to confer with the inspector of public buildings on the matter of issuing permits for the construction of commercial buildings in residential districts and stating also, that the inspector may legally withhold any permit if, in his opinion, such a building should not be erected in a residential section.

The opinion has been given by Mr.
Tierney as the result of a petition presented to the council by Horace C.
cation of stores at the corner of West-ford and Wilder sts. The inspector of buildings held up the permit and when the petition was filed with the council, it was referred to the sollicitor for an opinion thereon.

Embodied in his opinion, Mr. Tierney says that it is clearly within the power of the council to pass an ordinance restricting the erection of alteration of buildings for industrial trades or commercial purposes to certain parts of the city, or excluding them from specified parts of the city, or providing, or specifying, that if constructed in certain sections, they must be constructed in accordance with certain regulations.

Votes Taken on Nominations for Purchasing Agent and Wire Inspector

No Vote Taken on the Mayor's Nomination for State Aid Position

Mayor George H. Brown last night nominated an entire new board of assessor, as follows:
For three years, Edward P. Mulry.
For two years, Wilfred J. Achin.
For one year, Clinton P. Tuttle.

The city council immediately laid the table of names on the table, although Councilor McMeniman endeavored to have action taken upon them at once.
Other highlights of a more or less drawn meeting were votes taken on the nominations of William F. McGreevey for inspector of wires and Albert P.
Hogue, for purchasing agent. The former was defeated, 11 to 3, while the latter failed to get confirmation when the vote was taken, 10 to 4.

An attempt was made to vote on the name of Mrs. Sarah Kittredge, the mayor's nominee for the position of assistant superintendent of state aid, but certain councilors deemed it advisable to refer the matter to the city solicitor for an opinion, as to whether or not the council has the right to vote upon a nominee for this office, which is not mentioned in the list of administrative officers in the city charter.

Pres. Bagley called the council to order at 3:30 o'clock. Councilor Queenan was in Boston and unable to be present.
At a hearing on a petition from the Lowell Electric Light Corp. for the erection of two poles in Fort Hill avenue, previous remonstrance was withdrawn by two residents of the neighborhood.

A hearing scheduled on a petition from the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. for the erection of three poles in West London street, was postponed for one week on request of attorney for re-monstrants.

An order was introduced by the

Out 20 Minutes

CAMBRIDGE, June 2.—Dr. Michael
M. Stevens was acquitted of the charge of manslaughter today against him because of the death of Miss Grace Logue, his office assistant, Christmas morning.
The jury was out only 20 minutes.

Miss Logue was found to have died of an overdose of poison. Dr. Stevens testified that he gave her two doses of a drug because she had been suffering greatly from an ulcerated tooth.
He disclaimed any knowledge of a vial of poison found on a shelf near the body in his office.

"I first bought Tanlac for myself but soon found it could be used to advantage by every member of my very large family, and it has been our only medicine for two years," said Mrs. John Marquis, 292 Belmont street, Manchester, N. "Nearly ten years ago," she said, "I began having indigestion and it soon became a chronic ailment. My appetite failed and even the lightest food formed gas which crowded around my heart so I could hardly breathe. I got so run down I had fainting spells and sleep was next to impossible.

"But I am free from all pain now, eat everything I want, sleep peacefully and have gained ten pounds. I will always feel thankful for the good Tanlac has done me and my family."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By the Theatres' Own Press Agents)

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
"Orphans of the Storm," the Griffith production, in which the Gish sisters are featured at the H. F. Keith theatre, this week, holds two remarkable portraits—those of Danton and Robespierre. Creighton, Jinks, perform the part of Danton, and the Gish sisters, the part of Robespierre. The play is remarkable in many particulars that one will bring them to mind long after seeing the picture. Both hold elements of great strength, yet they are wholly dissimilar. But two more days remain in which to see this wholly unusual picture, with the background of the French revolution, and unfolding the wonderful tale of the "Two Orphans." The unusually tall head-dresses worn at the French court at the time of Louis XVI, are shown to advantage in the picture.

NIERRECK SQUARE THEATRE
Only a few opportunities remain for Lowell movie lovers to see May McAvoy in her latest success, "A Home-Run Yarn" at the Nierreck Square theatre. Coming Sunday for four days: Rudolph Valentino and Gloria Swanson in "Beyond the Rocks."

THE STRAND
"Man to Man," the special Harry Carey western drama, which is showing at the Strand, has more real thrills than any other picture story coming out of the west. A stampede of 5000 head of cattle is only one of the many gripping situations developed. Miss Du Pont in "A Wonderful Wife" is an absorbing melodramatic creation of the screen. The comedy and Weekly are also good.

A variety of corn grains was found in the mortuary urns of prehistoric graves, recently unearthed in Tennessee.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

DRAMATIC RECITAL BY 11-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Miss Helen Margaret Simpson, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Simpson, captivated a large audience last night when she appeared in a dramatic recital in Kitchin hall, in the I.W.O.A. building. Her program consisted of monologues, selections to music and narratives, both pathetic and humorous. Miss Simpson was making her first appearance in a full evening's program and she did exceedingly well. She was ably assisted at the piano by Master William Hoyle, a pupil of William Heller's, and also by Miss Harriet Flannery, a pupil of Miss Blanche Perrin, who danced the minuet with her. Much of Miss Simpson's success must be attributed to Miss Mildred Boardman, her dancing teacher and Mrs. H. J. Corwin, her elocution instructor.

The program opened with a lengthy narrative entitled "Capital Punishment." For an encore, a brief humorous selection about "Don't" was given. The third offering was "Jimmy Brown's Sister's Wedding."

The next number on the program was contributed by Master Hoyle, who played the "Fantasia in D Minor" by Mozart. His rendition was excellent. Miss Simpson's next offering was "Tommy's Prayer," which told a pathetic story of a little crippled child.

The next number was particularly amusing. It was entitled "Mr. Brown Has His Hair Cut." As an encore Miss Simpson appeared with Miss Flannery in "The Minuet." Master Hoyle then entertained with a Russian Waltz and again was well received.

Miss Simpson's concluding numbers were "A Small Sister's Reflections" and "The Giddy Girl." Both were well rendered and as well received.

At the conclusion of the program the little star was presented with bouquets of flowers. Miss Flannery and Master Hoyle were also remembered for their excellent parts in the affair.

The ushers were Miss Claire Richard, Miss Edith Riley and Miss Harriet Flannery.

TO LIMIT STUDENT POSITIONS AT DARTMOUTH

HANOVER, N. H., June 1.—A move to limit the extra curriculum activity of undergraduates at Dartmouth has been taken by the student governing body, which announced the adoption of a group system of limiting student positions.

The most important undergraduate positions are listed in group one and no student may hold more than one position in that group or more than two positions in group two. The new system is expected to prevent any one student from having more work than he can handle properly. The regulations adopted do not affect positions determined by natural ability, but applies in the main to non-athletic and managerial positions.

NO NEW PLAN FOR HARVARD ENROLLMENT

CAMBRIDGE, June 2.—Harvard college, considering the problem presented by greatly increased entering classes, has as yet adopted no new plan for undergraduate enrollment.

nor is it likely to be able to decide on a new plan for a considerable time, it was said at the college office today.

The situation stands as presented in a statement authorized by university officials two days ago. It was added, but it was pointed out that the statement was composed of answers to several specific inquiries. This, it was explained, accounted for the fact that reference was made by name to Jews.

Antwerp, Belgium, is the center of the human hair industry.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan bleach, and complexion whitener.

BIG STEEL MERGER IS ANNOUNCED

NEW YORK, June 2.—Thomas L. Chadbourne, attorney, late yesterday announced adoption of a plan whereby the properties of the Midvale Steel & Ordnance company, Republic Iron & Steel company and Inland company will be united under ownership of Midvale. The name of the new corporation probably will be the North American Steel corporation.

Terms of Merger

The terms of the plan were outlined as follows: "All existing obligations of the three companies are to be assumed by the united company. Existing preferred and common stocks will be changed into preferred and common stocks of the united company. "The new preferred stock is to have a par value of $100 per share, is to be 7 per cent. cumulative, is to be redeemable at $115 per share and accumulated dividends, and is to be convertible for 12 years into new common stock at the rate of five shares of new common for four shares of new preferred. The common stock is to be without par value. "All assets of the three companies are to be owned by the united company except the Nicetown plant (Armour-Making Ordnance and forging) of the Midvale Steel company, which is to be transferred to a separate company with a capital of 500,000 shares without par value. "Participation in the new stock will be as follows: Under the plan Midvale company stockholders will receive 75 per cent. new common stock and 25 per cent. stock in the company formed to take over the Nicetown plant. "Republic Iron and Steel preferred stockholders are to receive dividends in cash, to date when the new preferred dividends begin to accrue and 100 per cent. in new preferred stock. "Republic Iron and Steel common stockholders are to receive 25 per cent. new preferred stock, which is to be purchased from them at $95 a share, and 70 per cent. new common stock. "Inland company stockholders are to receive 25 per cent. in new preferred stock, which is to be purchased from them at $95 a share, and 70 per cent. in new common stock. "It is intended to provide $20,000,000 additional cash working capital from the sale of common stock. Negotiations are pending. Mr. Chadbourne says, for the acquisition of other properties, but irrespective of the outcome of these negotiations Midvale, Republic and Inland Cos. propose to proceed with these merger plans. Financing will be handled by Kuhn, Loeb and Co.

Instead of its regular orchestra, the Pennsylvania Hotel installed a large machine shaped like a phonograph and tuned in on the Newark radio broadcasting station. Dance music came over by radio. Other hotels are copying this stunt.

Vampire of Lost Continent Turns Husbands to Gold

MARIE LOUISE IRIBÉ, FEMININE LEAD IN "MISSING HUSBANDS." BELOW, SHE CONVINCES WITH THE HERO TO FREE HIM OF THE VAMPIRE

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 2.—Somewhere in the desert fastnesses of French North Africa lies a hidden continent, the inhabitants of which have lived shut off from the world 7000 years.

There reigns heavenly y-clept Antinea, of form divine and eye hypnotic. A legion of vassals protect her in all her ancient glory. Whenever a man of stately bearing and handsome face passes the desert at the bounds of her sovereignty, her servants capture him and bring him before her.

No man who has thus been lured into this hidden kingdom has ever been known to return until recently when one Lieutenant Saint-Avit of the French army came back to tell of his harrowing experiences.

Saint-Avit was accompanied by Captain Morhange when he entered the kingdom. While awaiting an audience with Antinea they were shown the Hall of Red Marble.

There, in scarred rows, stood 24 golden mummies, each a former husband of Antinea. Antinea, it seems, possesses a process that turns the body to gold immediately after death.

Antinea also possesses physical charms that hopelessly ensnare a man once he gazes upon her. But she soon lures of men—witness the 24 golden mummies.

Saint-Avit fell for her good and heavy as the saying is, but Capt. Morhange was the first man ever to resist her. That angered Antinea, so she slipped Saint-Avit a doped cigarette and after he had become woozy handed him a silver hammer, telling him Morhange was the only thing standing in the way of his happiness.

Saint-Avit croaked Morhange with the silver hammer—if he hadn't been doped he wouldn't have done it—and Morhange became Golden Mummy No. 25.

Antinea's lady-in-waiting had fallen in love with Saint-Avit. She helped him to escape after he had come out of the doped. She died on the way back to civilization.

You'd think after an experience of that kind that Saint-Avit would want to stay away from the hidden continent, but even at this writing he is on the way, back to Antinea.

Of such fanciful fabric is woven the story of "Missing Husbands," by which silly American title is known the screen version of Pierre Benoit's "Antinea."

This is the best picture that has yet come to America from France. It was adapted and directed by Jacques Feyder and is in every way superior to Louis Mercanton's "Throne," which was also burdened with a silly American title, "Possession."

Feyder has told his story in narrative form with power, a slip in continuity. Many of the scenes have been taken in the desert and are of surpassing beauty. The interiors are gorgeous and have been arranged with the three dimensional idea in view.

Stacia Napierkowska, in the role of Antinea, may not cause many American husbands to be missing from home for long but she does present the popular European conception of a vampire. Marie Louise Iribé, the lady-in-waiting, seems to be a better screen actress than Napierkowska.

REELOGRAPHY
Snub Pollard burlesques the small town movie theatre in "In the Movies," his next.

One reel of "The Light in the Dark," Hope Hampton's next, is hand-colored. It represents the quest of the Holy Grail.

Two companies have been capitalized at $2,000,000 for the production in and distribution from Atlanta, Ga., of feature pictures.

Pathé has produced a one-reeler called "Boy Scouts of America."

Lehigh, towering 300 feet above the water, is shown in "Arctic Spring," part of the next Pathé review. And seven-eighths of an iceberg is under water.

DR. GANFIELD OPPOSES U. S. SEN. LAFOLLETTE

TRAIN ELEPHANTS

Yes, that is just what Ida Delmo is. She was playing in stock in Portland, Ore. A few winters ago a small carnival got stranded in that territory, and amongst the animals left with the receiver, was three elephants. Ida heard about this, and went to see them. One of the pachyderms was a baby. Ida started to pet it. She was so much in love with the little fellow that every day after her stock rehearsal, Ida would go out to the park and cuddle around. It is just as well to state here, that Ida was born in Denver, the home of the Sells-Floto circus. Her success in handling the elephants in Portland gave her the idea that she would like to be a trainer. She wrote to the circus people and the result was as mentioned. She gave up her stock engagement, and went to work with the big out-door attraction. Now Ida handles the mid-get elephant herd, with the Sells-Floto circus, now combined with the Buffalo Bill Wild West show, and you will see her here Saturday, June 10th.

Blue Serge Suit

WITH EXTRA PANTS OF SAME MATERIAL TAILORED TO YOUR MEASURE FOR

The reason why the average motorist carries a spare tire is for emergency. A blow-out, a puncture or stone bruise is liable to happen any moment. So it is with a pair of trousers, they stand most of the wear, and an extra pair doubles the life of the suit.

Lymansville Blue Serge of Rhode Island

I buy several pieces for spot cash. I don't claim these goods are $40 value—because I don't know by what standard $40 value might be measured in clothing. I do say they are 14-oz. in weight, twisted worsted both ways, absolutely wool, and no tailor advertises this make serge under $30 for a suit of clothes.

I don't care how big you are, if you can get through my door without blocking traffic, there will be no extra charge. I am going to turn these goods into cash in the next ten days. Every man should own a Blue Serge Suit and you can't find a better value than this 14-oz. material at this price of suit and extra pants of same material, made to your measure, while they last, for $26.50.

Lost Breath, Heart Fluttered After Slightest Exertion

Weak, nervous woman obtains "New Health"

"Some months ago," writes Mrs. Lizzie Corcoran, of 414 West 95th Street, New York, "I found that after the slightest exertion I suffered from shortness of breath accompanied with a fluttering of the heart. Frequently I would get a stabbing pain in my left side. I tried various remedies but instead of improving I became worse. My appetite failed and soon even the sight of food became repulsive. I forced myself to eat because I was losing flesh, but what little food I ate turned to gas and gave me sharp pains in the chest and loins. Then my nerves became so weak that I would 'jump' at any sudden sound, whilst my heart would flutter violently. I became thoroughly alarmed. My condition seemed indeed desperate. I almost gave up hope of ever getting well again. One day a friend called and, seeing my nervous and exhausted condition, told me that what I needed was Wincarnis. But I had already tried so many things without benefit that I hadn't much faith in her advice. Nevertheless, she persuaded me to send out for a bottle of Wincarnis and I began taking it right away. In all I have taken four bottles and I am amazed at the wonderful result. Words fail me to describe what Wincarnis has done for me. Where other remedies failed, it has succeeded far beyond my expectations. Today I am strong and well. And I owe all my renewed health to your wonderful Wincarnis."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Arthur Marchand of 10 Second avenue and Miss Villeda Norton of 32 Marshall street were married Tuesday at Notre Dame de Lourdes' rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Leon Lamothe, O.M.I. The bride wore white canton crepe with veil and carried a bouquet of roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. William Norton, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. George Marchand. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of bride's parents and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Boston, St. Johnsbury and Lyndonville, Vt. Upon their return they will make their home at 75 Fourth avenue.

Willitt-Lovering

Mr. Leo F. Willitt and Miss Lena Lovering were married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the Gorham Street P. M. church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. N. W. Matthews. The couple were attended by Mrs. Jennie Willitt and Miss Mary Daley.

Fields-Thayer

Yesterday afternoon Mr. William J. Fields of this city and Miss Grace Louise Thayer of Orange, Mass., were united in marriage by Rev. N. W. Matthews, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents in Orange. Mr. George Fallon of this city was best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Marion Kiley of Orange.

Kilbride-O'Neil

The marriage of Mr. William F. Kilbride and Miss May O'Neil took place Wednesday at St. Michael's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Thomas J. Heagney. Mr. Thomas O'Neil, a brother of the bride, was best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Anna Kilbride, a sister of the groom.

Shurtleff-Locke

In Philadelphia, May 30, Mr. George Shurtleff of New York and Miss Jane F. Locke of this city, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at St. Catharine church by Rev. Fr. O'Neil. After a honeymoon trip to California, the couple will make their home at 9 West 50th st., New York.

Burke-Breen

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the Immaculate Conception rectory May 30, when Mr. John D. Burke, a popular young man of Centralville, and Miss Lillian Breen, the well known bookkeeper at Ferrault & Sons in Bridge street, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. John J. Tighe. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Gertrude Burke, a sister of the groom, who wore a blue traveling suit with hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. James Waterson. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a ten-dollar gold piece, while the groom's gift to the best man was a gold signet ring. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents and later the happy couple left on an extended honeymoon trip through the state of Maine. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

John Collins, aged 3 years and residing at 42 Marginal street, was struck by an automobile in Marginal street, late yesterday afternoon and received slight injuries, which were treated by Dr. Boyle. The auto that figured in the accident was being operated by Frank Evans of 23 Sargent street, who claims that while he was driving his machine through Marginal street, the little fellow ran from the sidewalk into the path of the car, or the car was wounded. He had toured the world on the office of Dr. Boyle.

or sources of last night's Central News despatch reporting fighting between republican troops and special Ulster constables along a mile front on the Louth border. Seven heavy loads of British troops were said to have been rushed to the scene from Newry.

Set Fire to Servant's Clothes
When a gang forced the door of a doctor's residence in the southern side of the city, they were told by the servant, Susan McCormick, that he was not at home. Thereupon they poured a can of petrol over her, and set her clothing afire.

She ran screaming into the street, where neighbors extinguished the flames, but not before she had been severely burned. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Heavy Firing Reported

MILFORD, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—Heavy firing between Irish republican army forces and Ulster special constables occurred during the night at Dundookey cross, on the Louth-Armagh border. It lasted seven hours and it is believed three specials were killed. The border inhabitants in the vicinity have fled to Dundalk.

Firing also occurred at Colloville, continuing for several hours. In Irish republican army quarters it was stated that the republicans suffered no casualties in either clash.

IMPROVEMENT IN SITUATION INDICATED

LONDON, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—Premier Lloyd George will leave for Criceth tonight, to open a war memorial there tomorrow. He will probably be away for a week.

The fact that the premier is planning to absent himself from London so long encourages the belief that there is improvement in the Irish situation. Further informal meetings were expected today between Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies and Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann. It is understood the present discussions are centering principally upon the draft of the Irish constitution submitted by the Irish representatives, with a view to framing it in such a manner that it will not be at variance with the provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Although outward indications show little change in the situation, well informed quarters are more optimistic regarding the outcome of the negotiations than they were yesterday.

SATISFIED WITH THE ELECTION

There seems to be a feeling of general satisfaction in the local Greek community over the result of the annual election, which was held last Tuesday when Apostolos Johnson, a prominent business man of the district, was chosen president.

Mr. Johnson has been a resident of this city for over 15 years and a very successful business man. For a number of years he has been at the head of a cigar factory in Merrimack street, and he is also financially interested in other businesses in the Greek district. He is recognized as a man of sound judgment and a great many predict that under his administration the community will progress.

Some of President Johnson's supporters say that he has been chosen as head of the community at a trying time, as just now the community is involved in a financial tangle. A local bank, which holds mortgages on the community real estate, is threatening to foreclose and it is practically up to the president and his board of directors to raise the necessary funds to straighten out matters. It is believed, however, that the officials of the community with the sound advice of President Johnson, will be able to meet the financial obligations of the society and that within a short time everything will be all right.

SEC. ROOSEVELT AT ANNAPOLIS

Presents Diplomas and Welcomes Class of 400 Into Naval Service

Declares Graduates Dedicate Themselves to Life Not of Gain, But of Service

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 2.—Members of a naval academy graduating class again today received their diplomas from a Roosevelt.

Today it was Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late President, who was acting secretary of the navy, in the absence of Secretary Denby, who welcomed the more than 400 midshipmen of the class of 1922 to places in the permanent naval establishment of the United States. In doing so, Mr. Roosevelt impressed upon the members of the class—probably the largest out class to be commissioned for years to come—that they were starting on a life service.

"Your career is the sea," he told them, "but your career is not simply the sea—for your career is the sea and public service. We speak of the men of the navy as being 'in the service.' Those simple little words convey in themselves volumes. They constitute a tacit recognition of the fact that our navy men are public servants. In embracing the naval profession, men dedicate themselves to a life not of gain, but of service. I know of no higher resolution than this."

Although congress has shown indications of cutting down the size of the graduating classes at Annapolis, Secretary Roosevelt foresaw no time when navies would be abandoned.

"Military and naval forces," he declared, "are of great value to our country and to the world's civilization when they are devoted to the defense of our rights and to justice among the nations. Our country's aims are clean and her ideals are high. Our giant strength, our arms and our armament have been used in the past and will be used in the future only for the defense of our rights and for the benefit of humanity."

"Navies and armies properly employed correspond among the nations to the law enforcement bodies within the various countries. A civilization is based upon law and law enforcement, so civilization is dependent upon the navies and the armies of the great, high-thinking countries."

JUDGE GOFF SEES WAR ON SOCIETY

NEW YORK, June 2.—Former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff yesterday declared that, in the present country-wide crime wave, "we have an actual war on society."

Justice Goff appeared before the committee on law enforcement of the American Bar association, holding a crime symposium in various cities, after Henry W. Taft, a leader of the New York bar, had asserted that inadequate enforcement of the criminal law constituted one of the greatest blots on civilization.

Justice Goff asserted accused persons should be brought to trial more quickly, as delay gave an opportunity to disappear and caused public interest and the energy of prosecuting officials to wane.

He also depicted the facility with which bail is obtained from bonding companies, and declared sentences should be imposed promptly after a verdict of guilty, as the interim gave well-meaning persons opportunity to annoy judges with pleas for the convicted.

Council Tables Nominations

Continued

Installation of 27 ornamental street lights in East Merrimack street, as an extension of the white way system.

The board of public service reported favorably upon a petition to lay sidewalks of concrete and edgestones on both sides of Gilbride terrace, and the order was adopted.

A similar report was made upon a petition for a sidewalk in front of 124 and 130 Riverside st. and this order was adopted.

A favorable report was made upon a petition for widening a portion of First street and the order for the work was passed.

After a favorable report, the council passed an order to lay a granite sidewalk in front of 757-759 Merrimack street, to replace a brick sidewalk, now laid there.

The board recommended that Emerson street be laid out and accepted and the order attached was passed.

An order was passed to lay a sidewalk and edgestones on a portion of Riverly street.

An order to relay a portion of the surface drain in Middlesex street between Black brook and Burnside st. was adopted.

$25,000 Macadam Order
The council adopted an order authorizing the city to borrow $25,000 for macadam paving. The order previously had been advertised.

The mayor nominated Edward P. Mulry, Wilfred J. Achin and Clifton P. Tuttle for positions on the board of assessors for terms respectively of three, two and one year.

Councilor McMeniman moved immediate action. The motion was seconded by Councilor Chadwick.

Councilor Chretien opposed the motion, as did Councilor McPadden. The latter stated that if the names were not voted on separately, litigation would surely follow, for if a man should be confirmed it could not be determined as to who should replace on the present board.

Councilor Gallagher moved that the nominations be laid on the table and it was so voted.

Councilor McMeniman moved that the mayor's nomination of Mrs. Sarah Kittling be taken from the table.

Councilor Chadwick questioned the council's legal right to vote on the matter and it was referred to the city solicitor for opinion without further action.

The mayor's nomination of Albert F. Hogan for purchasing agent was taken from the table.

"Yes"—Councilors Adams, Cameron, Chadwick, Chretien, Gallagher, Genest and Stearns.

"No"—Councilors Appleton, Bagley, McMahon, McMeniman, McPadden, Moriarty and Sadler.

Absent—Councilor Queenan.

As the vote was tied, confirmation was denied.

The name of William T. McGreevey, mayor's nomination for inspector of wires, also taken from the table.

It was not confirmed by a vote of 11 to 3, with one absent. The councilors voting in favor were Messrs. Bagley, Cameron and Chadwick.

HOW TO KEEP FLIES AWAY FROM LIVE STOCK

Free your horses and cattle from the torment of flies with COBURN'S ANTI-FLY OIL. It's the "fly dope" that keeps cattle good-natured.

When used in the stable it allows the horse complete rest. It kills the dangerous blood-sucking pests. Anti-Fly Oil is a clean liquid, does not irritate the skin, nor injure the hair. It is easy and absolutely safe to use.

This preparation has also been used successfully as an exterminator of chicken mites, and when used in the interior of hen cops, keeps the quarters in a clean and healthy condition. Freed from the fly and insect pest—horses do more work—cows give more milk—poultry profits increase. Light spraying with Coburn's Anti-Fly Oil does the trick. Gallon 75c, including can.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR THE POLISH ARMY

WARSAW, June 2.—The Polish republic has begun the unification of its armament which, it has been found, will involve the scrapping of the bulk of the material accumulated from various sources during the past four years.

The renewed equipment will be one more step in the transformation of the Polish emergency force to a methodically organized national body.

Purchases are being made principally in France to replace that part of the old material that cannot be used for the equipment of the new army which, on a peace basis, was fixed at 250,000 men in the last budget.

French officers are helping in the reorganization of the army, but in much smaller numbers than served during the campaign against the Bolsheviks. There were then 1936 French officers in the field; there are now 83, all told, attached to the army as instructors in the Polish military school.

CULINARY SCIENCE IN SCANDINAVIA

STOCKHOLM, June 2.—Co-operation and scientific management have reached the kitchen in Scandinavia. The calorific contents of the market basket are no longer dependent on chance or the persuasive eloquence of the grocer and butcher, but regulated by culinary science.

The annual congress of Northern Housewives' union, attended by delegates representing some 50,000 Scandinavian and Finnish members of the National League of Swedish Housewives, the Danish Housewives' association, the Norwegian Home Welfare association and the Martha union of Finland, has just adjourned in Stockholm after a successful session where most of the modern problems of the modern housewife were deliberated and discussed at length. There were no theoretical or revolutionary measures on the agenda, only practical problems such as face any housewife any day of the week.

These housewives' unions have exerted considerable influence in dealing with servant questions and regulating market prices on necessities. Thus the Swedish league during the war and during the hard times following established co-operative stores and formed buying associations that exercised a strong regulating effect on the price level of household necessities, especially foodstuffs.

The congress just closed adopted resolutions to arrange for a vacation course of instruction in domestic science and other matters affecting the home at the Aas Agricultural school in Norway, where students will receive instructions in various household duties under capable instructors and will witness demonstrations of the latest methods of running a modern home.

Mrs. Agnes Ingelman, president of the National League of Swedish Housewives, said in an address to the delegates that women nowadays have to keep in touch with politics, public administration and legislation affecting the home. They must get together, she said, and work for the safeguarding of the home, as for instance in its building and fitting up, in arranging home exhibitions and stimulating public instruction in domestic sciences and in establishing employment bureaus, libraries and day nurseries.

"Knocks germs cold"—said our druggist

"Mr. Perkins has an awfully attractive and up-to-date drug store. He says he selects the goods he sells as carefully as he fills prescriptions. He advised me to use Sylpho-Nathol."

"You'll hunt a long time before finding anything as reliable or as effective," he said. "I know, or I wouldn't have it on sale. Sylpho-Nathol knocks germs cold."

"I wouldn't be without Sylpho-Nathol now for anything. I used Sylpho-Nathol first in our sink. For months, it had an unpleasant odor that we couldn't get rid of. I followed the directions on the bottle—a teaspoonful in a quart of water—and poured the clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution down the pipe. That ended the sink smell."

"I used Sylpho-Nathol for the garbage can. I never could keep it from smelling before—nor keep the flies away from it. Sylpho-Nathol ended that trouble also."

"I never felt that our bathroom was completely sanitary. But Sylpho-Nathol disposed of that difficulty."

"Now I use Sylpho-Nathol regularly all over the house—wherever there is a chance for germs to breed or odors to start."

Sylpho-Nathol meets a great need for a household antiseptic, disinfectant and deodorant because it is free from the objections that householders have to ordinary disinfectants. Sylpho-Nathol is sure. It absolutely destroys germs and odors. Sylpho-Nathol is pleasant to use. Its faint, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is safe. Although 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, it is no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt the skin nor injure household things. Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. Just a teaspoonful in a quart of warm water, and it is ready.

Your grocer, or druggist, has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If he hasn't it, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

ECONOMY DISCARDED IN COURT FUNCTIONS

LONDON, June 2.—Economy is no longer to be the keynote of court functions at Buckingham Palace. No more "economy cavits," as they were called, are to be held. These were established by their majesties after the war to set fashionable society a much needed example in curbing extravagance. The seal of royal approval has now again been bestowed on court trains. Indeed no woman can be presented at court who does not wear them. Of course as a main lord chamberlain cannot presume to be an expert on fashionable feminine dress, but it is one of his many official duties to lay down the rules and regulations to which women must conform at the most exalted of court functions.

That is one of the things for which he is paid $15,000 a year. He has to be a peer besides to qualify for the exalted office which is accounted among the political plums that the prime minister has to give away. The present lord chamberlain is in the top class of the peerage. He is the Duke of Athol.

By restoring the court train he has earned the blessings of the fashionable dressmakers. But they would have lengthened their trains before the war. Three yards was the regulation long while Queen Victoria didn't consider four yards too long. By the new regulations they need be only two yards in length and should not extend more than 15 inches from the heel of the wearer when standing.

To walk backwards before royalty in a train three yards long without getting tangled up in it imposes a severe tax on the agility and skill of not a few socially ambitious women. Queen Mary is a very kind woman and she would naturally wish to spare her sex making exhibitions of themselves. Hence she was in favor of the shorter length for trains.

PLAN AUTONOMY FOR SCOTLAND AND WALES

LONDON, June 2.—A bill "to provide for the better government of Scotland and Wales, and for other matters relating thereto" has been introduced into the house of commons.

This action follows upon renewed talk in some quarters of "home rule all around," in other words autonomy for Scotland and Wales as apart from England proper, and is a direct outcome of the birth of the Irish Free State. Prime Minister Lloyd George, himself a Welshman, has indicated that he would not oppose a comprehensive home rule measure.

According to the present proposals, parliaments each consisting of two chambers, would be set up for Scotland and Wales. The lower house, in the case of Scotland, would be equal in membership to the present representation at Westminster. And elected by the same constituency. The lower house in Wales would consist of twice the present representation, each of the Welsh constituencies being divided into two. The upper house of the Scots parliament would be elected by the lower house in accordance with a plan proposed by Lord Bryce's committee, and would number 38 members. The Welsh senate also would have 38 members.

Provision is made in the bill for joint sittings in the event of disagreement. Representation at Westminster is to continue unchanged pending the application to devolution to England.

THE PRIMITIVE CAPITAL OF ALBANIA

TIRANA, Albania, June 2.—The distinction of being the "toy capital of Europe," so long enjoyed by Cetinje, the old site of the palace and court of King Nicholas of Montenegro, falls now to Tirana, the capital of Albania, where regents, chiefs, boys, ministers and diplomats are beginning to congregate to set up the governmental magnificence of the new state, the last to be admitted into the League of Nations.

Tirana still burns oil for light. She has no communication with the outside world except a wagon-road leading to "her seaport," Durazzo. She boasts a market place and five mosques and has lately adapted an old building into a hotel called "The International Hotel." The government palaces are scattered throughout the winding, narrow streets, which are lined with merchants displaying their wares sitting with crossed legs in the Arab fashion.

The stores and houses, roofed with a red tile, are all of one story. Distinction is given the government buildings in the fact that they have two stories. All are old buildings adapted to the use of government by the introduction of a few chairs and desks. Each building has no more than six or eight rooms. The ministers enter their offices with great solemnity and ceremony. Orderlies and ushers stand at attention while the heads pass. Inside his office, the minister calls his ushers by an old-fashioned table bell, electric bells being wholly unknown in this primitive land. With stern severity, everyone addresses the minister as "Your excellency."

Diplomats have only a legal residence in Tirana. Minister Ayers, the British plenipotentiary, who has the unique dignity of being the representative of the only country to recognize Albania formally, lives in Durazzo making the trip to Tirana when state functions demand it. It also maintains a diplomatic residence in Durazzo.

MONUMENT TO GERMAN AIRMEN

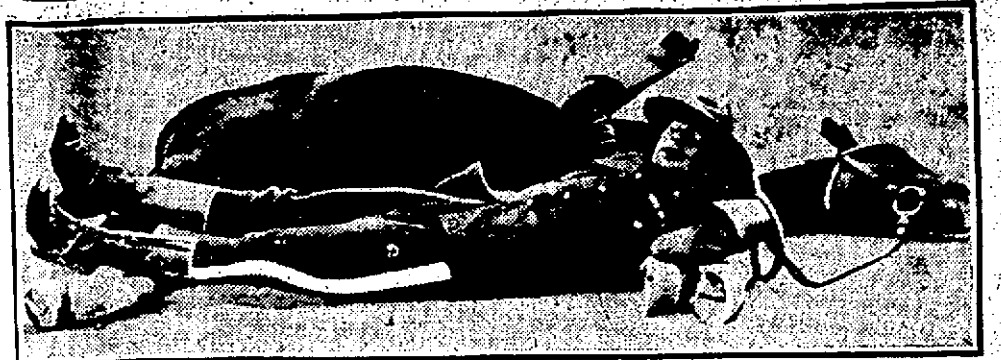

BERLIN, June 2.—An imposing monument in honor of German airmen who fell in the war is to be erected on the summit of the Regenstein, a precipitous sandstone cliff 470 feet high, situated in a romantic spot in the Harz region. Field Marshal von Hindenburg has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the committee.

The Regenstein was one of the great strongholds of the "robber barons" of the middle ages, and figures largely in German history.

as his probable hiding place, was revealed by Cunningham, according to the authorities. Cunningham revived stories of plunges made by Ward at various tracks and his acquaintance with many well known horsemen and gamblers. One story was to the effect that Ward disappeared some time ago and that detectives quietly went out to find the missing man discovered him at a race track near Baltimore.

Cunningham is of slight build and has black hair and a small mustache. He is said to have worked for Commander J. K. Ross, Canadian horseman, as an investigator of race track frauds and gambling rings. Commander Ross is the owner of Sir Barton. New York detectives are also searching for two well known characters of the underworld who have been seen recently in the white light district driving a red automobile. The police say the men are apparently in funds, although both have but recently been released from prison. Ward described the blackmailer's car as red and his general descriptions are said to fit these men.

District Attorney Weeks, who now has three groups of investigators at work, expects the Cunningham arrest to bring a sudden break in the mystery surrounding the death of Peters. The state police have entered into the chase, and agents of a private detective agency are also active. Deputy Sheriff Fred Ruscoe and Raymond Hill, county anger print expert, planned today to visit a hospital in Stamford, Conn., where Cunningham was reported to have said the second man wounded by Ward was taken.

They declined to name the hospital or discuss the purpose of their visit. It was indicated that Sheriff Warner might accompany them.

Detectives are trying to trace an ex-pugilist and semi-pro ball player known as "Charley Ross" with whom Ward was reported to have had a flat fight at the Bowie race track last spring. The fight was continued in a roadhouse near Baltimore, according to the story.

Investigators at Stamford

STAMFORD, Conn., June 2.—Deputy Sheriff Fred Ruscoe and Raymond Hill, a fingerprint expert, came here today accompanied by Sheriff George L. Werner and several private detectives, to follow up supposed clues in the Ward-Peters case. They called on Acting Chief John Bennett and later Charles Rogers, who is well known in town, and Louis Natale, a taxicab driver, were called in for questioning, separately.

It is understood the search is made for one Joe Jackson, whom acting Chief Bennett was told was brought to Stamford for treatment for a bullet wound in the stomach and two wounds in the legs. This wounded man was brought here in a touring car, and is thought to have been placed in a private hospital.

It is understood that James J. Cunningham, arrested last night, who has made certain statements in the Ward case, had mentioned a Charles Rogers but it was said at police headquarters that the Charles Rogers described by Cunningham does not appear to be the same man who this noon was being questioned. The automobile used to transport the wounded Joe Jackson is said to correspond with the make of a car which the Charles Rogers under examination has been recently driving.

Cases in the District Court

When officers raided the Vlahos home, they found a number of men seated in a room. One of them was drinking from a glass that resembled a whiskey glass. A half-pint of moonshine was found under the table. A quantity of bone was also confiscated. Vlahos explained the presence of the moonshine by saying that he had a bad cold and that he bought it for that purpose. He said that it was put under the table so as to be out of the reach of the children. He further testified that he told the raiding officers the beer was sour and that they would find it of no value and would return it to him later. He said that he made the beer last Easter. An analysis of the beer showed that it contained only a small quantity of alcohol and was not strong enough to come under the ban of the law. A number of jugs and bottles were also found by the raiders.

In making his finding the court said that a man in a private dwelling was allowed more latitude in the quantity of liquor kept than if he conducted a store, but the fact that a number of instruments connected with illegal traffic were found was pretty good evidence. Also the fact that a man had been seen drinking something and the finding of the moonshine weighed heavily against Vlahos.

Assad Owens pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal keeping and was fined $100.

DOES NOT COME

UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney will give a written opinion to the city council to the effect that the position of assistant superintendent of state aid, now held by Mrs. Mary McGrann, does not come under civil service; that it is a position created by ordinance in 1910 and that the mayor now has the right to nominate a person for the place, to be confirmed by the city council. This is the substance of a verbal opinion already given by the solicitor to Councilor Smith J. Adams. Last night, when the council prepared to act upon the nomination of Mrs. Sarah Kiltredge, it was decided to refer the matter to the solicitor, as there was doubt in the minds of several members of the council as to whether or not they had the right to consider anyone for the place. The city solicitor's opinion, however, will settle the matter and undoubtedly Mrs. Kiltredge's name will be taken up and acted upon next Thursday night.

Every year forest fires in the United States destroy enough timber to build an entire city the size of Washington, D. C.

FOR POLICING THE AIR

Sec. Weeks Urges President to Ask Congress to Enact Code of Air Rules

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The commercial aviator who joined unbidden in the dedication ceremonies Tuesday at Lincoln Memorial has awakened a train of official reflection which may end in comprehensive national legislation for policing the air.

Indignant at the action of the Memorial Day pilot, who dropped out a large part of President Harding's address by circling low about the Memorial, Secretary Weeks has suggested to the president that congress be asked to enact a code of air rules of the road.

Other government officials have had similar experiences and the secretary's proposal found quick sympathy in many quarters. It is possible the pending measures may be so amended as to put a stop to indiscriminate sight-seeing trips over the heads of public gatherings.

Secretary Weeks thinks he has found a method of punishing the aviator which will not require congressional action. The department believes the offending pilot is a reserve army officer, and Mr. Weeks holds that he was guilty not only of disturbing a solemn public ceremony, but also of showing gross disrespect for the president of the United States. Department officials say that not even a court martial would be necessary in these circumstances to take away a reserve commission.

FITCHBURG MILLS TO BE REOPENED MONDAY

FITCHBURG, June 2.—The Park-hill Manufacturing company, whose textile plants have been closed 10 weeks by a strike against a 20 per cent wage reduction, announced today that the mills will be reopened Monday. The announcement follows: During the 10 weeks we have been closed, all of the eight cotton-mills in this city and neighboring towns have continued to operate at the February reductions, and our competitors making similar fabrics, where hours of work have not been changed, have also operated under the schedule adopted in February.

"Textile wages are settled in textile centers, not in Fitchburg with its small numbers of textile workers. We reiterate our statement made prior to March 25 to a committee of our employees, that we will readjust rates to correspond with competing gingham mills, if changes are made by them."

"So many employees have inquired when the mill will start that we have decided to open Monday, June 5, for those who wish to return. The United States laws assure protection to any who wish to work; so there need be no fear of interference."

U. S. BEST FIELD FOR AVIATION

GENOA, June 2.—Gianni Caproni, the Italian inventor and constructor, considers the United States today to be the best field in the world for the development of civilian aviation. He prepared and brought to Genoa a comprehensive program for aerial communication over Europe, but this will have to wait, he said today, owing to the limited financial strength of the various countries embraced in his scheme. "But in the United States," the Italian inventor continued, "civilian aviation promises to make rapid progress."

"The country covers roughly about the same area as Europe," and all the elements for speedy growth are present, I hope to contribute to this branch of American activity."

Germans are showing the greatest activity in Europe, at the present time, in the field of aeronautics, according to aerial observers at Genoa during the recent conference. Anthony Fokker and Prof. Junkers, both German experts, have leased three airplane factories in Holland. The Zeppelin company is active in a factory on the Swiss side of Lake Constance, and at the same time has leased an Italian factory near Genoa and is organizing a company for aviation construction near Seville, Spain.

TO SETTLE $700,000,000 WOMEN ELIGIBLE FOR JUDGES IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—International bankers, headed by Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., were called in conference today with Adolfo de la Huerta, Mexican secretary of the treasury, in an attempt to settle the long standing problem of the $700,000,000 Mexican debt on which no interest has been paid since 1914.

The conference is regarded as having at least an indirect bearing on the troublesome question of export oil taxes.

It is generally believed in the financial district that a satisfactory solution of the debt problem will pave the way for the recognition of Mexico by the United States government.

MEASURE TO AID JUDGES DEFEATED

BOSTON, June 2.—By a vote of 57 to 148 the house yesterday killed the bill to allow the judges of the supreme court to accept the increase of $2000 in salary, voted to them two years ago, without losing their right to a pension of $7500 a year at retirement.

The bill had the backing of a majority of the members of the judiciary and the ways and means committee, two of the most influential committees in the legislature. It had the support of the republican leaders almost to a man, and it was argued that bill should be passed as a measure of justice to the seven men on the supreme bench who accepted their appointments with the knowledge that they would be granted pensions on retirement. None of the supreme court justices accepted the $2000 increase voted by the legislature of 1920, because acceptance of that increase, under the terms of the 1920 act, would require them to waive their rights to retirement allowances.

Opponents of the bill argued that the $10,000 salary now allowed the judges of the supreme court, with $7000 a year pension, is sufficient compensation for the performance of the judicial duties.

MISS ROACH HONORED

Miss Annie M. Roach, a nurse, stationed at the Chelmsford street hospital, in the Women's ward, who pleasantly surprised last evening when a gathering of the hospital nurses and attendants she was presented a beautiful traveling bag, the presentation being made by Miss Catherine Gill. Miss Roach is to sail the 16th of this month for Ireland where she will spend the next few months. Those present last evening wished the popular young lady a pleasant and successful voyage and she responded gracefully, thanking her friends for their gift and kind wishes.

YANKS RELEASE HARPER

NEW YORK, June 2.—The New York Americans yesterday announced the unconditional release of Harry Harper, veteran left-handed pitcher. Harper was procured from the Boston club in a trade last season, but was of little service as the result of injuring his pitching hand. Harper has not appeared in any of New York's games this year.

LONDON, June 2.—There is nothing to prevent properly qualified women from being appointed judges in England, and wearing the black gowns, big horsehair wigs and other symbols of judicial dignity, the attorney general, Sir Ernest Pollock, has ruled. He said:

TO KILL BILL FOR FIVE CENT FARE

BOSTON, June 2.—The house committee on rules will report in the house Monday against the admission of Mayor Curley's bill for a five-cent fare, with the deficit to be assessed in general taxation.

The committee has taken no action on the matter of admitting the bill to date, but a canvass yesterday afternoon showed sufficient votes against the bill to insure the filing of an adverse report, probably on Monday.

HAM AND PINEAPPLE

MAKE DELICIOUS DISH

Another delicious combination of meat and fruit into an appetizing and wholesome dish is ham and pineapple. The pineapple serves admirably in supplementing the ham and bringing out its flavor.

Ham and Pineapple
One slice ham through center of joint. Cut pineapple cubes. 2 whole cloves for each pineapple cube. paprika.

Trim fat from ham and rub over a hot frying pan. The spider should be very hot. Put in ham. Stick two cloves in each pineapple cube and add to ham in frying pan.

Broil first on one side and turn and broil on the other. When the ham is seared on both sides cover the frying pan. This will draw the juice from the pineapple and the meat and fruit flavors will be blended.

Put ham on a hot platter and sprinkle with cubes of pineapple. There should be some fat and drippings in the frying pan.

Add one cup water and bring to the boiling point. Add caramel if necessary to make brown and thicken with one tablespoon flour stirred to smooth paste in a little cold water.

Let boil five minutes, stirring constantly after the flour is added.

MISS TALMADGE GIVEN DIVORCE

NATURE LOVES BRIGHT COLORS
We see the truth of this statement in the varicolored flowers, the vivid sunset, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why, in the rosy cheeks, the transparent skin, the smooth red lips of such a woman. And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The ailing woman is deficient in natural coloring, and she does not even appear to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women who long for glowing health will find that they too can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women.—Lydia E. BELIEVE PEACE NEAR IN CHINA

End of Civil Conflicts in Progress for Years Believed to be in Sight

Whole Matter Revolves Around Dr. Sen, President of Southern Government

PEKING, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Restoration of peace in China, torn by civil conflicts for years, seems nearer than at any time since the Peking government first encountered armed opposition.

The whole matter, as viewed in the light of recent development, revolves around Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the southern government, whose fight to wrest control from the Peking government has been based on the contention that Hsu Shih Chang's occupancy of the presidential chair was illegal and that he and his associates were unduly subject to Japanese influence. Developments in the north tend to minimize the power for some weeks, and there are indications that the same pressure is operating to remove the southern president, Gen. Cheng Ching Ming, the principal military power of South China, a few days ago, demanded Dr. Sun's resignation and announced that he intended to support a movement to bring about a reassembly of the parliament and the restoration of office of Li Yuan-Hung, who was forced from the presidency by the military in 1916.

Another important step toward Chinese pacification appears to have been taken in the north, where Gen. Wu Pei-Fu, whose prime object has been announced as the removal of all who oppose Chinese unity, has started a determined drive against Gen. Chang Tso-Lin. Wu's forces were reported this morning as in complete control of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Meanwhile Chang, who long has acted as a civil disturber, is having difficulties in maintaining his own authority. Feeling against him seems to be spreading in Manchuria, previously his stronghold. There have been several mutinies among his troops and as Gen. Wu has 50,000 or more troops available, for his northward drive, Chang's situation is regarded as extremely difficult, if not precarious.

Opens New Era

PEKING, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—President Hsu Shih Chang, who yesterday resigned under pressure, will retire to Tientsin, leaving the presidential palace to his successor, who in all probability will be Li Yuan-Hung, former president. Members of the old parliament, meeting at Tientsin, have requested him to resume the presidency, from which he resigned in 1917 after the militaryists obtained control. Li is expected to come to Peking immediately to take office until the full parliament holds a regular election.

President Hsu's resignation was announced in a mandate published today. The liberal press today acclaimed the retirement of Hsu Shih-Chang as

Servant Within Vatican

ROME, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Pope Plus has disregarded the conventions of centuries by installing his old servant, Signora Linda, within the precincts of his apartment, appointing her his housekeeper and wardrobe maid, says the Giornale d'Italia.

Signora Linda has been with the papal family for 40 years. When Plus was elevated Signora Linda prepared to go to a convent, but instead was summoned to Rome.

The pope said the papal life of sacrifice, labor and responsibility made more than ever necessary the comfort of old habits and accustomed service.

SENTENCED FOR BIG GEM THEFT

NEW YORK, June 2.—A two-year prison sentence for stealing $88,000 worth of jewelry owned by Mrs. Mitchell Harrison of Philadelphia at the Pennsylvania station here, was imposed yesterday on Lumen Beebe.

A bag containing Mrs. Harrison's jewelry was by mistake placed in a taxi occupied by Beebe, and his fiancée when Mrs. Harrison arrived at the terminal en route to Rome.

On May 12 Beebe was arrested at Harrisburg, Pa., with John Gavin and David Bushnell. He pleaded guilty to grand larceny. Yesterday he exonerated the other two men and it was reported the indictments against them would later be dismissed.

MEN WANTED FOR THE COAST GUARD

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Red-blooded men are wanted for the coast guard. Assistant Secretary Clifford of the treasury department, declared today in announcing that examinations for entrance to the commissioned personnel of the service will be held June 25 throughout the country. The duties of the coast guard, he said, require officers of high physical as well as high mental qualifications.

Examinations in New England for admittance to the coast guard academy at New London, Conn., he announced, will be held at Boston, New London and Portland.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1876, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession

From a recent portrait of
Dr. W. B. CALDWELL
Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin—
Newburyville, N. H., 1920

is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the direction it is usually effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

Syrup Pepsin Free

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are concentrated now and there, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. MOTOR ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Memorial day brought another chapter of serious accidents resulting from the large motor traffic induced by the warm weather. It appears that with the increase in the number of motor vehicles, in spite of all the efforts of Registrar Goodwin, the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, keeps on growing. Last year motor cars killed 193 children and maimed 3009 others in Massachusetts. Two years ago the number of killed was 180 and the injured, 2300. It is a fact that while the drivers in many cases were to blame, in a far greater number of cases, the parents of the children killed or injured were wholly responsible. When parents allow young children to run the streets at will they need not be surprised to hear of their little ones getting killed or maimed in street accidents. Here in Lowell a great many parents who work in the mills leave children under school age to run wherever they please during working hours. We see them on East Merrimack street, on Central street and many other thoroughfares in which the traffic by motor vehicles is continuous. The children romp at will on the sidewalks and frequently run across the street without a thought of the danger they undergo. Is it any wonder that every few weeks we hear of such children being struck by autos and killed or seriously injured? At a safety conference recently held at the state house, Mrs. James D. Tillinghast of Cambridge made an appeal to parents not to let their children play on the streets. She also advised parents not to send small children unaccompanied to stores, nor let them play marbles or other games on the sidewalks, much less on the middle of the streets. She felt that it would be better to pen them in the yard or even to tie them to the end of a clothes line so that they could not get to the streets, than have them run the risk of being killed at any moment. It seems that appeals of this kind are thrown away upon the parents who are most culpable in this respect. It is, therefore, up to the police to drive small children off the streets and to impress upon parents the responsibility of allowing little children to be at large on streets in which there is heavy motor traffic.

The Massachusetts safety council sends out an appeal for a general effort to reduce the number of fatal accidents during the present summer. It calls attention to the fact that there were 66 deaths from accidents in this state last June, and it points out three ways in which it hopes the number may be reduced this year. One of these has reference to the common offense of driving across intersecting streets at an excessive rate of speed. The law which limits speed in such cases to eight miles an hour when the view is obstructed, is violated hundreds of times daily in every city in the state. To be convinced of this, one has only to watch the autos passing along any street in the city that has many intersections. Many of the motorists pay little or no heed to the cross streets, expecting that the other fellow will do all the watching. The safety council appeals to the police throughout the state to send the names of such offenders to Registrar Goodwin who will deal with them in a proper manner. That would assuredly teach them to be more cautious.

A second suggestion is, that playgrounds be opened as soon as possible so as to keep the children off the streets. The schools will close in a few weeks and then the children will be at large to enjoy themselves in play. They should have ample opportunity for amusement where there is no danger and there should be constant attractions to draw them there. The council furnishes interesting stories which if related to the children, will hold them for a part of the time and to that extent keep them off the streets. The third suggestion is, to guard against the hazard of drowning. Boys should be taught to swim under safe conditions and they should also be instructed in the prone pressure method of resuscitation. As this also applies to certain accidents in gas and electric light plants, the managers of these, too, may be interested in promoting this knowledge. Boys who want to go swimming should be attracted to the municipal bath house up the river, and even there, they will have to exercise care lest they get beyond their depth or become exhausted while swimming so that they may sink before help reaches them.

If all these suggestions and preventive measures were adopted, we should see a gratifying reduction in the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, during the summer. This aim can be accomplished only by having each individual do his or her share. Talk alone will accomplish nothing unless followed by appropriate action.

THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

It is important that New England railroads shall remain under New England management. To place them under control of the great trunk lines would still further handicap New England industries and, therefore, injuriously affect the interests of all the people who live in New England.

But this is the day of big combinations and the undoing of the smaller units in industries of all kinds. New England depends for its food supply and the raw material of its factories upon other parts of the country. It has the advantage of climate, natural ability, inventive genius and plenty of capital; but it has the serious disadvantage of distance from the coal fields and the supply of raw materials. The railroads, by the disadvantage of being confined to short hauls in which they have to compete with the motor truck and the freight steamer. That is one reason why our New England roads are in a very poor financial condition. As parts of a trunk line system, they would lose their local character; but at the same time they would be operated to the disadvantage of New England industries. Here, then, is a big problem that calls for solution. It is one on which the New England industries must depend for their very existence.

Who is to settle these railroad problems? The stockholders who see their investment dwindling in value will be the deciding factor. They can save the transportation interests of New England; but if it comes to an alternative of that or sacrificing their own, they may be excused if under the conditions they try to recover their past losses. That is what they may be expected to do, regardless of any other consideration involved. The situation calls for active intervention by chambers of commerce and other interests that can exert an influence favorable to New England.

WARNING FOR GIRLS

From Chicago comes the report of a vice commission that makes some startling revelations. One is that the old-time hardened women of the underworld is vanishing and in her place is found the young girl of 19, fresh from the country, who, whether thither, perhaps in an automobile, under some form of deception or else the victim of betrayal or bad home influences, who sought the glare of the big city and landed in the vice dens, where, after a while she is cast aside with seldom a prospect brighter than an early grave.

The commission has found that a large percentage of such girls are from homes broken up by divorce or separation of parents. There is here a serious warning for young girls.

A Thought

Not until a man has laid hold upon the absolute assurance that the right is right and that the God of righteousness will give him strength to the feeblest will in all the universe which tries to do right, has a man summoned to his end the final perfect help.—Phillips Brooks.

Must Stick Together

"Whom do you love best, Willie dear," asked the fond mother, "your father or me?" Willie pondered for a minute, and then, seeing that all the cake was gone, replied: "Dad!" "Well, Willie," said his mother, "I am surprised at you. I feel sure that you love me more." "Sorry," replied the young hopeful, "but we men must stick together, mum."

Verdict For Plaintiff

A young lawyer was so nervous over his first defense that he broke down in opening his case. His kindly colleague whispered, "Lead it off your book." For a time this succeeded, until he read this passage: "Counsel should avoid putting defendant into the box, as he cannot be believed on oath and has a long list of previous convictions." Verdict for the plaintiff.

Are We Growing Smaller?

People are not becoming wiser. Instead, they are becoming more stupid. Modern stupidity is not shown in little things, but in big things; people are stupid now in trying to fly, in trying to be gods; in trying to locate the fountain of youth; in world betterment; universal brotherhood; flat money; shorter hours; having discovered the immutability of natural law, they declare with an impudent oath that they will change it.—R. W. Howe's Monthly.

Didn't Bother Him

Dicky and Charlie were told by their mother not to play at the back of the school building, where there was a broken street and a lot of mud. When they returned home at nearly 5 o'clock that evening, their shoes were covered with mud. Their mother said: "Charlie, I do not know how your conscience let you go to the stream after promising mother that you would not." Charlie answered: "I expect my conscience wasn't working just right today, mother."—London Answers.

The Porter Won

It was a smart young traveling salesman, and he rather resented the fact that the hotel porter had directed him to the room reserved for members of his profession. "You're a traveler, aren't you?" said the porter. "Yes, but what's that got to do with you?" "I was only wondering what your line was; what you carried." Seeing an opening for smartness, the young man said: "It wouldn't interest you. I deal in brains." "You ought," replied the porter, "to carry samples."

Today's Word

"Today's word is 'palpable.' It's pronounced—pat-pa-ble, with accent on the first syllable. It means—capable of being touched or felt; perceptible to the touch; plain, distinct, from—Latin, 'palpare,' to feel; to stroke, the Latin word being derived from 'palpus,' the soft palm of the hand. It's used like this: 'Critics of Attorney General Daugherty's connection with the Morse case say that his supporters' attempt to answer by attacking their critics is a palpable evasion of the issue.'"

Cow-Killing Engine

A farmer sued a railway company for damages resulting from the death of one of his cows, the poor animal having been run into by a freight train. The engineer was giving evidence. The lawyer for the farmer heckled the witness on all kinds of technicalities, but kept reverting to his one pet question, which was: "Now, tell me, was the cow on the tracks?" The engineer became peeved and, having been asked the same question so often, answered: "Well, if you want me to tell the real truth the cow was backing in the stream on the other side of the bank. But the engine saw it, left the track, dashed over the bank, and landing clean on the cow, strangled it to death without a word."

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of The Lowell Sun: My Dear Editor:

I would like to give me space in your paper to state that the Volunteers of America are in no way connected with the Salvation Army, and people giving their money to the Volunteers, whom I understand are making a canvass of Lowell at the present time, do not help our organization. It seems to me that every time the Salvation Army puts on a drive in Lowell that the Volunteers of America come to our city and solicit funds during the time our campaign is going on. Many people not knowing the difference between the two organizations give their money to the Volunteers and think they are giving to the Salvation Army.

The Volunteers of America are not a local organization, and have no branch in Lowell, but the money that they raise in Lowell is taken out of the city to support and help people in other cities that can't better afford to help the people of Lowell. It is the same with the Salvation Army. Our work is done in Lowell. Our work is done in Lowell. Our work is done in Lowell.

The money you give to the Salvation Army is spent for the benefit of the people of Lowell. It is the same with the Salvation Army. Our work is done in Lowell. Our work is done in Lowell. Our work is done in Lowell.

Thanking you for this space in your paper, I am very sincerely yours, MARK ARNOLD, Adjt. 106 Appleton St., Lowell, Mass.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Members of the Yankee Division—there are many in this city—will be interested to know that a blue and white insignia has replaced the familiar YD on the uniform of Maj.-Gen. Clarence D. Edwards, former commander of the 25th. The insignia is a blue circle on a white background which the "Daddy of the 25th" now wears. Some people thought this was the insignia worn by general officers only, but I am told that it is the new insignia of the First Army corps area which the former commander is now wearing.

The mountains or the seashore is the question that is bothering most of us now as the vacation season draws near. You will meet some, who will say, "Go to the mountains by all means. You will have the best time. There is nothing like a mountain vacation, or a real good rest and plenty of fun." Right around the next corner you will meet another who will say: "Why the seashore is the only place to go for a real rest." So there you are. Both places have their backers and boosters. As we see it, you can get a fine rest in the mountains and an equally good rest at the seashore. A seaboard can be obtained at either place or a gentle train, which seems to be one of the desires of all vacationists.

The race for first honors in the popular player contest being conducted by Frank Ricard among the members of the Lowell Twilight league seems to be warming up quite a bit now that the season is fairly underway. Mr. Ricard is sure his contest will be again the most popular attraction, outside the playing of the games, connected with the season. The Central street merchant reports that votes are coming in faster than last season and more are on hand now than at this time last year. The voters evidently believe in getting an early start. Most everyone knows that The Sun is the only paper in Lowell which carries Ricard's vote. It is printed each night in all three issues. The only other possible way to get coupons is at Ricard's store.

Thomas R. Atkinson, newly appointed superintendent of police, is going to come to work back upon last Saturday as a real letter day in his career. From the moment he stepped into the station shortly after 9 o'clock until he left late at night, he received congratulations from many parts of the city. Some people called in person while those unable to call used the telephone. The first man to congratulate the new chief was his new right-hand man, Deputy Chief Hugh Downey. In the warm handshakes and the few words that passed between the two men, there was a deeper meaning than the handclasp and words could convey. Chief Atkinson stopped in the day office to be interviewed by newspapermen a few minutes later. While standing there conversing, Fred Cotter, superintendent of the chauffeurs, stuck his head in the door and said, "Telephone, chief." For just the slightest fraction of a second Mr. Atkinson forgot. Then a smile spread over his face as he picked up the phone. As usual it was a congratulatory. Frank Ricard, president of the Lowell Advertising club and head of the Retail Jewelers' association, called in person and, on behalf of the two clubs, extended his congratulations. Later in the day Chief Atkinson received two beautiful pieces of flowers.

Lawrence rooters cheering feats of Lowell athletes against Lawrence teams seems almost unheard of to most of us who for years have witnessed the bitter struggles and intense rivalry between representatives of these two cities. But such a thing really did happen and it was so unusual as to draw the comment of Lawrence newsmen attending the game. It was during the hotly contested 11 inning baseball game between Lowell and Lawrence, in Lawrence Wednesday and which was won by the Lawrence team, 8 to 7. Lowell was leading by a score of 1 to 0. Lawrence had men in a position to score. A sharp hit went to the infield. A Lowell boy raced over, made a nice stop of the ball and retired the side. It cut off Lawrence runs and at a time when runs were mighty hard to get. Fully 2000 spectators were there and the stands rocked with applause for the Lowell team's fine work. One Lawrence sport writer remarked, "Well did you ever see anything like that. Lawrence rooters cheering Lowell." And as the game wore on, Lowell was applauded several times for meritorious work. And then when Lowell went into the eleventh inning and scored three runs, more than one Lawrence rooter was heard to remark, "I will be satisfied even if Lowell wins. The boys have surely earned the victory by their fine work." Actions and remarks of this kind are always pleasing because they indicate a different kind of good sportsmanship. Rivalry is all right if it is the good natured kind, and if the axe is buried as soon as the contest terminates. While small in a way, the events of Wednesday surely show that the rivalry between the two cities is reaching a degree of perfection as far as sportsmanship is concerned.

The one time popular sport of dog-breeding and the rivalry which it developed seems to be returning once more in this city. On Memorial day the Lowell Kennel club held a monster dog show in the Crescent rink. While the club has held several smaller shows in the past, this one surpassed anything yet to be held. There were dogs of every breed shown at the exhibition. Visitors to the show were really surprised by the strides this organization has made in the past few months. Credit for the success of this organization in a large part must be given to the officers, but the membership at large has been loyal and worked earnestly to make every affair a success. The Lowell Kennel club will surely be heard from in a greater degree before many months.

Inspirations

BY BERTON BRALEY

I sat at my desk by the window
And gazed at the busy street
And saw grim tragedy slipping by
And Victory and Defeat
And Age away and Youth aglow
And love that is blithe and sweet.

And a breeze blew in at my window
And whispered of restless seas,
While a . . . set piano twanged a cheer
Of rol . . . ring melodies,
And I said to myself, "I will make a song
From lyrical feelings like these!"

"For there is the whole great earth
Without
And the busy and surging throng,
And there is a lay in each sight and sound
To make me a lovely song.
So it's easy enough for a bard to sing
Of life as it moves along."

So I sat at my desk by the window
While the world passed by outside,
And I started a dozen different songs
But my fingers balked and shied,
And the net result is this ballad here—
But you gotta admit I tried!

"WILD MAN" IN COURT BOXER RESCUES MAN

Savage Held on Charges of Assault With Intent to Murder Templeton Farmer

GARDNER, June 2.—John Savage, alias Sawiga, 38 years old, who was arrested in bed in a house in Old Park, Orange, last night, after a search of nearly a week, was arraigned in district court today on charges of assault with intent to murder John Merkle, a Templeton farmer, and with attempting to poison Merkle's stock. He was held in $2000 bail for the August grand jury.

Savage pleaded not guilty to both charges.

Court records in Gardner showed he was arrested in January on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

Savage is a native of Lithuania, and came to the United States 16 years ago. In default of bail, he was removed to Fitchburg jail.

KNEW NO LAW AGAINST MAKING WHISKEY

PETERSBURGH, W. Va., June 2.—"I've been making whiskey for nigh on 40 years and this is the first time I knew there was any law against it," said Henry Hours, venerable resident of the Smokehole district, in Grant and Pendleton counties, when he was visited by state police and arrested today.

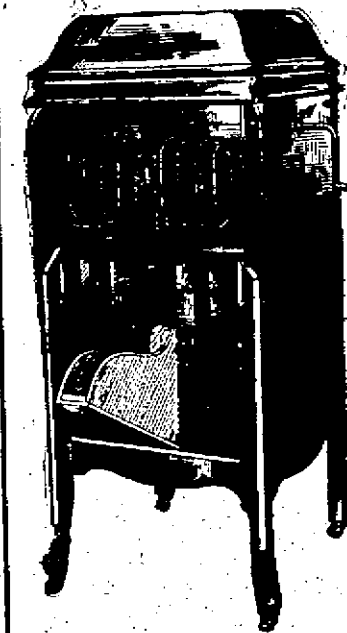

A native of the district proffered information to the troopers that "old man" Hours was running a still and had done so ever since he could remember.

Corp. Briner, who led the state policemen, said the episode was the beginning of an educational campaign in the Smokehole region.

WAGE CUT IN SHOE FACTORIES

BROCKTON, June 2.—The Brockton Shoe Manufacturers' association and Treas' Local, Doot & Shoe Workers' union, have been notified by the state board of arbitration of a decision cutting the wages of piecework troors 10 per cent. in 38 factories in Brockton, effective June 1. The reduction will be extended to most of the factories in the Old Colony district and will affect the wage of 550 piecework troors. Independent factories will receive the benefit by concession by the union. This decision completes the 10 per cent. wage reduction in all branches in the industry of the Brockton district. Other branches were cut by the general decision dated March 10.

JOSEPH WALKER FOR M'CALL FOR SENATOR

BOSTON, June 2.—Former Gov. Samuel W. McCall arrived in Boston yesterday to find waiting for him a letter from Joseph Walker of Brookline, pledging support for a primary fight against Henry Cabot Lodge for the republican nomination for United States senator.

Walker, himself an avowed candidate against Lodge in no other candidate offers to take the field, will retire from the primary contest and support the war governor of Massachusetts for the senatorial nomination.

McCall was not ready last night to state whether or not he will oppose Lodge in the primaries, but he made it clear that he does not intend to run as an independent candidate simply for the purpose of aiding in the election of a democrat over Lodge.

"I do not propose to break into politics," said Mr. McCall on his arrival in Boston yesterday afternoon, "until I have had a chance to get some of the Massachusetts atmosphere and look over the situation."

"I can say this, however: I have never run for office for the primary purpose of defeating anybody. Of course the defeat of somebody takes course in every contest, but the defeat of the other fellow has been incidental in my purpose."

"When I decide to run, and if I should decide for the United States senate, it will not be as a sacrifice candidate for the primary purpose of defeating Senator Lodge."

"Does that mean that you will not run as an independent candidate on election day?" the former governor was asked.

"As an independent candidate I would be little more than a side show," replied Mr. McCall, "because of course the democrats will nominate."

"Do you think there is any likelihood of the democrats turning their endorsement over to you?"

"That does not seem at all probable to me," said Mr. McCall.

U. S. Expects $200,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(By Associated Press)—Announcement of Great Britain's preparations to pay this country $100,000,000 next fall as interest upon that government's war debt to the United States, had reached the allied debt funding commission only through newspaper reports, officials said today.

Payment of interest by Great Britain in the fall has been apparently counted upon for some time by this government as estimates of receipts for the coming fiscal year transmitted to congress by Secretary Mellon contained an item of $200,000,000 as receivable from England in interest during the year.

War This Week or the Next

of staff, by the cabinet and the introduction of the Earl of Balfour into the conferences are everywhere regarded as emphasizing the gravity of the Irish situation.

Southern forces have been massed at certain points along Ulster's borders with the apparent intention of invading the north. This, together with the new outbreak of violence in Belfast has caused great concern, adding to the government's perplexities.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier is understood to have emphasized in his interviews with the cabinet, the magnitude of the Sinn Fein forces concentrated along the border, and to have expressed fear for the safety of Londonderry.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional Irish Free State government, is said to have assured the government that he is in no wise responsible for this menace, which he utterly disavows, and to have declared he will do what he can to remedy the situation. It is also reported that the Ulster premier is pressing the government to order the British forces in Ulster to scatter the Sinn Fein concentrations.

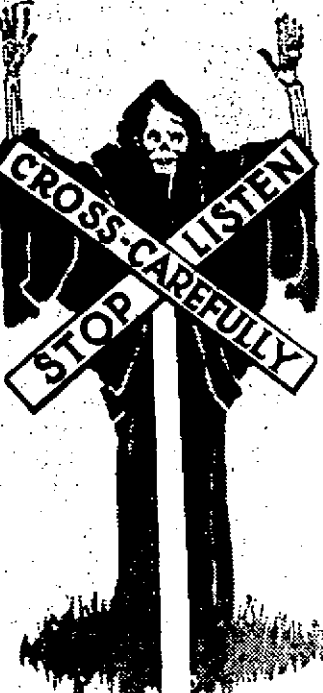

Another point contributing to the government's difficulties is the proposed new Irish constitution provided for under the treaty. This, it is said, temporarily overshadows the Collins-De Valera political agreement.

Reports are current that the constitution as drawn up in Dublin and brought here for submission, to the cabinet is unacceptable.

Constitution Election Panel
DUBLIN, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The Sinn Fein headquarters today issued the national election panel, resulting from the recent agreement between Eamon de Valera and Michael Collins, which leaves the present composition of the Dail intact, only slightly altered.

The panel gives 66 seats for proponents of the Anglo-Irish treaty and 59 for republicans. There are only four candidates who are not members of the present Dail.

Independents probably will contest 20 constituencies. The Irish farmers' union has between 20 and 25 candidates ready, the labor nominees number 20 and half a dozen candidates will run in the cities of Dublin, Cork and Limerick on behalf of business interests.

MANY KILLED EACH YEAR AT R. R. CROSSINGS

BY NEA SERVICE
NEW YORK, June 2.—Cross crossings cautiously!

That is the slogan adopted for the Careful Crossing Campaign, which began June 1 and ends September 30.

During that period the American Railway Association wants to educate the public to think and act safely. Backing the campaign are the United States Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Highway Traffic Association, the National Safety Council, and numerous other organizations.

Tremendous increases in the number of fatal accidents at railroad crossings, in most of which automobiles were involved, brought about the campaign of education.

Accidents Increase

Since 1919, statisticians of the American Railway association point out, the population of the country has increased 65 per cent, while crossing accidents have increased 348 per cent. In fatalities and 652 per cent. in injuries.

The United States Bureau of Standards has just announced the figures for 1921. But in 1920 automobiles were involved in 76 per cent. of all crossing accidents. Persons killed (death resulting in 24 hours) totaled 3731, while 5077 were injured. 116 of the latter dying subsequently.

Here are the figures for automobile accidents at crossings:

	Accidents	Killed	Injured
1918	3270	1131	3100
1919	2571	1232	3558
1920	3012	1273	3977

Railroads are concentrating on public education because they declare total elimination of crossings is impossible.

Preventive Work Costly

There are 251,339 highway crossings in the country. Of this number only 359 were eliminated in one year. Each elimination cost $50,000, making the cost of eliminating all crossings $12,566,000.

The association pledges co-operation by the railroads in keeping crossings in good condition for travel giving reasonable notice of the existence of crossings and seeing to it that flagmen are fully duty in warning of the approach of trains.

The value of safety first campaigns is shown railroad officials say by the reduction in deaths from 4851 in 1907 to 3578 in 1920.

Safety engineers urge automobile drivers to form the habit of checking into low speed at all crossings. This practice causes drivers instinctively to pause at crossings and also reduces to a minimum the risk of stalling on the tracks.

COTTON CONDITIONS REPORT ISSUED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Condition of cotton on May 25, was 63.8 per cent. of a normal, compared with 66.0 last year, 62.4 in 1920; 75.6 in 1915 and 74.6 the 10 year average, the department of agriculture announced today in its first condition report of the season. A forecast of production was not issued but will be announced with the first estimate of cotton acreage in July.

Revised figures for 1921, were announced as follows: Area in cultivation at end of June, 31,675,000 acres; area picked, 29,502,000 acres, and yield per acre 124.5 pounds of lint.

CHAIRMAN GARY MAKES DENIAL

Denies Other Members of Finance Committee Were "Rubber Stamps"

NEW YORK, June 2.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, testifying before the Lockwood legislative committee today, thwarted efforts of Samuel Untermyer, committee counsel to draw from him admissions that J. P. Morgan dominated the corporation.

"Is it not a fact that J. P. Morgan named the directors?" Mr. Untermyer demanded.

"Certainly not," retorted Mr. Gary.

"Who does name them?"

"The stockholders."

Mr. Untermyer smiled, and Mr. Gary smiled back at him.

"Who really name them?" Mr. Untermyer persisted.

"I'll have to admit and claim," said Mr. Gary, "that I do more of that than anyone else, and always have."

Mr. Untermyer then tried to get Mr. Gary to admit that he and Mr. Morgan together controlled the corporation, and that the other five members of its finance committee, which he had testified selected, the directors were more "rubber stamps."

"That is not a fact," said Mr. Gary. "The other members aid in the selection."

He then recounted how, last year, he and President Farrell had selected three directors who were elected against Mr. Morgan's judgment but against his wishes.

The belief that the firm of Morgan controlled United States Steel, he continued, probably rose from the fact that the banking house "in a sense organized the corporation."

It was left to the late J. P. Morgan, he said, to fix the relative values of the companies entering the merger.

The elder Morgan, he admitted, named the first board of directors.

Reverting to J. P. Morgan, Jr., Mr. Gary testified he had never shown any desire to dominate the corporation, and that he served merely as one of seven members of the finance committee.

Mr. Gary testified his corporation was able to deliver its products at $3 a ton less than the independent competitors.

He did not think the differential ever ran as high as $5 a ton, as stated yesterday by John A. Topping, chairman of the Republic Iron & Steel Co. Mr. Topping had testified that the great difference in costs made it practically impossible for the independents to compete with United States Steel.

Mr. Gary conceded the difference in costs was largely accounted for by the fact that United States Steel owned more than 1500 miles of railroad connecting its plants with ore centers.

REVENUE AGENT KILLED BY TRAIN AT DEPOT

HAUGATUCK, Conn., June 2.—Joseph P. Courtney, employed in the estate tax division of the United States internal revenue department, and attached to the New Haven office, was killed by a N. Y. N. H. & H. R. train at the Haugatuck-Westport station early today.

The body was identified by letters and documents found strewn along the track. Courtney's home was at Bloomfield, N. J.

Friends said that Courtney during the war was a captain in the air service and was credited with bringing down two enemy airplanes.

Hoover Confers With Coal Dealers

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Having obtained agreement among operators producing 80 per cent of the bituminous coal now being mined to restrict spot prices to a maximum of $3.50 a ton for the duration of the strike, Secretary Hoover was understood today to be considering a conference of wholesale and retail coal dealers to discuss means of insuring to the public the benefits of the price agreements. Definite plans for the conference are yet to be determined, it was said at the department of commerce. The general proposal is to obtain the co-operation of the two classes of dealers. Secretary Hoover was called upon in a resolution offered by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, and adopted today by the senate, to report the effect of the strike upon coal prices and what steps the government had taken to terminate the strike and to protect consumers from exorbitant prices.

Broadways Win Over K. of C. In Twilight League Game

The Broadway club, with many new faces in the lineup, won an 8 to 3 decision over the Knights of Columbus baseball team in last night's Twilight league game played on the South common.

As the game was late in starting it was decided to play but six innings, with darkness fast approaching. Umpire Bird called off hostilities after the last man was retired in the sixth from Broadway.

The contest was one of the best of the season as far as fielding was made in earned, as but one error was made in the entire game, this being charged to Second Baseman Daley of the losers.

Both teams got away to fast starts and each scored three runs in the first inning. Three runs proved to be the losers' total as after this, Broadway's pitcher, held the K. of C. team in check. The winners got over a counter in the third and then clinched the game in the next frame with three more runs. The final run was made in the fifth inning.

The first man up for the Broadway in the first inning, broke open the game with a single, followed by a one out, sending Gath to the keyhole sack. Then came the only error of the game and it proved costly. Sullivan, who had been hit by a line drive, crossed the plate while Sullivan stepped down to second. Gath was on a long fly to Gleason and Daley, who was long enough to allow Sullivan to score.

As Cassey came right back and evened the count. Crowe was passed and Paddy McGowan doubled, sending Crowe to the plate. When a fly to the pitcher, the Broadway, making his debut in the Twilight league, Daley's first score. Crowe and McGowan, while the batter went to second on the throw. Lortus drove out a long fly to Gleason and Daley, who was long enough to allow Sullivan to score.

Gath opened the third with a pass and went all the way over to the corner. Sullivan, who had been hit by a line drive, crossed the plate while Sullivan stepped down to second. Gath was on a long fly to Gleason and Daley, who was long enough to allow Sullivan to score.

How to Play Baseball

Pitching, and Outguessing the Batter, by Billy Evans

BY BILLY EVANS
American League Umpire and Sporting Editor of N.E.A. Service

To become a great pitcher one must first have the ambition.

In baseball one doesn't get very far unless he sets for himself a lofty goal and then works his head off to achieve it.

Never be satisfied with good enough. No matter how well you are succeeding as a pitcher, always work on the theory that you can improve your standard.

Control ranks second to ambition. Control seldom comes natural to a pitcher.

Every young pitcher, no matter how wild he is, can attain control if he possesses the proper determination.

Control comes from constant pitching practice. It is not acquired by mere haphazard throwing of the ball to some other player. Rather it is the result of an effort on the pitcher's part to make up his mind to throw a ball at a certain height and then attempt to do it.

Very often advice from some veteran pitcher will help considerably. A blip in one's delivery, overstriding, or an improper position on the rubber, may alter play, but with a pitcher's efforts to get the ball over the plate.

Nerve is needed. Nerve, or to use the slang of the ball field, "guts," is most essential. If you lack courage you are never going to get far as a pitcher.

Be a good player on the diamond. A pitcher who is not a good player on the diamond meets up with the trying situations that constantly confront a pitcher. If you are easily discouraged, there is no new experience for you.

NEW EXPERIENCE FOR MIGHTY SWATTER

Bob Veach, one of the greatest natural hitters the game has ever produced, underwent a new sensation the other day.

He was removed from the Detroit lineup to permit a recruit to take his place in left field.

It was the first time during his career as a major league player that Veach ever has been taken out of a ball game. However, he has been in a batting slump for several weeks.

In a recent game against the Athletics, when Moore, a left-hander, was selected to pitch for Philadelphia, the Detroit veteran was removed and Derollet, a recruit was sent to left field.

It must have been a decidedly peculiar situation for Veach, a player always noted for his remarkable hitting ability.

The strange thing about it, is that his successor almost lost the game by misplaying a fly ball with two out, turning it into a home run and scoring three runs, as two were on at the time.

But in this game Veach, as a pinch hitter, in the ninth inning, hit a home run and scored the tying run, the Tigers later winning the game.

No doubt Veach's removal from the game because of a batting slump, gave rise to the opinion that the veteran is slipping.

BY BILLY EVANS
For years the Detroit club has boasted of its sluggers.

The Tigers' lineup always has included one or more players who have stood prominently because of their ability to hit.

Back in the old days there was Sam Thompson. Now that baby could sweat them down. Sam is alive and well, but he takes a leading part in the opening-day ceremonies at Detroit.

When the American league came into existence Detroit was one of the cities of the Johnsonian circuit. That was more than a score of years ago.

In the Detroit lineup was Crawford, known to baseball fans the country over as "Wahoo Sam." This title was conferred upon him because he hailed from the hamlet of Wahoo, Neb.

Five Form at Bat
No player in the history of baseball had more form at bat than Crawford. His stance was perfect, his cut at the ball the poetry of motion.

He looked good even when he was striking out.

Crawford was a natural swinger. He took a healthy cut at the ball, he connected the sphere certainly.

I venture to say that Crawford, had he played in these days of the "loose ball" would be leading in the home-run honors.

As Crawford began to slow up, as the premier swatter of the Detroit club Claudio Rossman sprang into prominence.

Many of the veteran American league twirlers, who have now passed out of the picture, will tell you that Rossman was one of the greatest batters they ever pitched to.

Rossman hit 'em on a line. Inability to throw, however, caused his departure from the major leagues when he was at the top of his game as a batter.

Advent of Veach

RING HISTORY MADE LAST NIGHT

Jack Sheehan Referees for Young Flaherty as He Did for Latter's Dad Years Ago

First Time on Record, Says Veteran Referee—Avila-Diggins Bout a Bloomer

Johnny Avila won over Porky Diggins of Nashua in the fifth round of last night's battle staged in the Crescent Club by the Moody club. After warning Diggins for his holding tactics in the earlier rounds of the scheduled 10 round bout, Sheehan of Boston sent Diggins to his corner in the fifth and announced Avila as the winner. After the bout Referee Sheehan explained his actions with Diggins' tactics. He wasn't fighting. The Massachusetts Boxing commission insists that the men shall fight. The crowd received the referee's decision with much interest. It was called out just such a step. Every boxing club is found to have a silver bullet in the season and this happened to be the Moody club's night. It was the first time in argument of the season which hasn't lived up to expectations.

The Nashua boxer made a good showing in his match with Avila, who seemed to be afraid of Avila's right hand. And then again, Avila didn't seem to be very fast. He looked over- weight and sluggish. The first rounds resembled a wrestling match more than a boxing bout. Avila got in a few telling blows to the body while Diggins rarely counted heavily.

Parker Defeats Ketchel
But the crowd got a good run for its money in the preliminary bout, and in the semifinal. Young George Parker and Young Ketchel of Lawrence put up a very fast rugged eight round fight, the latter going to semi-final with the honors, going to the Lowell boy. This bout was really a war of action and hard hitting. Parker clearly won the decision, although Ketchel made him go every minute of the way.

In the first round Parker hit Ketchel with a full left hand swing and knocked him down. When the referee did not get up Parker, Ketchel like a tiger, but to the surprise of all, Ketchel came back strong and in a subsequent mixup sent Parker to the floor with a clean punch in the eighth round. Parker had been badly battered, stuck it out to the finish. Both boys were loudly applauded by the slim crowd.

Young Flaherty Makes Good
Martin Flaherty, Jr., surely proved a chip of the old block, when he won the third round over Eddie Mack of New York. Referee Sheehan stopped the bout when Mack was helpless and unable to continue. Flaherty proved that he is a coming boxer and one able to hit hard. To express his joy at the victory Flaherty jumped into the air and landed a big kiss on his forehead. His action brought forth a storm of applause.

In the final preliminary, Jimmie Manning of Boston was awarded a six round decision over Young Rancourt of Lawrence. Manning's lead was slight.

Ring History
When Referee Sheehan left the ring at the conclusion of the "history" bout he made the remark that he had also refereed in bouts in which Martin Flaherty, Sr., had taken part and that to his knowledge it was the first time in ring history that such a coincidence was recorded. Referee Sheehan was favorably impressed with the work of Young Flaherty.

It was announced that Young George Gardner and Jimmy Boyle had been re-matched for a 10 round bout on next Thursday night.

After a long layoff in the boxing field, the Army and A. A. Boston, will throw open its doors next Tuesday evening with a slugging all star card which features Irish Johnny Curtin against Abe Friedman and Pete Hartley against John Clinton and a triple bill featuring Mickey Travers and Tommy Noble of England and Billy Carney and Pete Hobling of Belgium fighter, will complete the bill.

CHAMPION TO DEFEND TITLE

Jack Hutchinson has gone to the old country to play in this year's open golf championship tourney.

He won at St. Andrews, last year, which made him British open champion. Recently he announced that "The Athletics can hit. A club that can hit is always dangerous. Most of the Athletics are natural hitters. This ability to hit, plus the uncanny ability of Danny Murphy in calling the pitches, is a big obstacle for any team."

Kerns' Em' Posted
"Danny Murphy, from his position in the coaches' box at third base, calls accurately every ball pitched. By some word signal he lets the batters know whether to expect a curve, fast ball or splitter. His judgment is uncanny."

"This is quite an advantage. It enables a batter who is weak on a certain style of pitching to get properly set in an effort to overcome this weakness."

The Athletics have always been noted for a strong defensive game. Cy Perkins the club has a great catcher.

Offer Tough Opposition
Regardless of where Connie Mack's team finishes, no club in the American league offers tougher opposition day after day.

Steve O'Neill's opinion of the Athletics is shared by a great many other players, pitchers in particular.

All Connie Mack says in reply to the many kind things that are being said about his club is:

"Looks as if the other teams were through kicking my club around."

RADIO INVENTION WILL DIRECT FISHERMEN

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Earl C. Hanson, radio experimenter, has added another product to his list of inventions.

HANSON'S LATEST INVENTION

tion of a miniature radiophone that amplifies sound for persons hard of hearing.

Hanson's latest is small enough to take up little room in a fisherman's dory.

While away from the schooner the fisherman equipped with this instrument can hear signals from the mother ship, in spite of fog or distance.

The schooner is equipped with a one-kilowatt transformer, a motor generator, a "chopper wheel" to send out the signals and an aerial. This chopper wheel issues a continuous moaning noise which is caught by the receiving set in the dory.

The receiver not only catches the sound but tells the fisherman from what direction it comes so that he could row toward its source.

To equip a fishing schooner and its fleet of 12 or more dories, Hanson says, would not cost more than $2000.

GUARD YOUR HOME AGAINST LIGHTNING

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

America's Foremost Radio Authority. Does a radio set add to the chances for fire which may result from lightning discharges? Thousands ask the question, wonder about it—and then let it go at that.

In many years' experience with radio installation I have never heard of lightning having actually caused the destruction of a building in which an amateur outfit was housed. But I have heard of many cases where fires were narrowly averted.

Therefore the one rule that all radio fans should follow is: Safety first.

The precautions necessary are few and easily carried out. The wires of any set more than compensate for any trouble, for a properly installed antenna forms a first-class protection against lightning.

Lightning need not necessarily strike the antenna to do real damage. Heavy discharges in the clouds even at a distance of a quarter of a mile may induce currents in the antenna of sufficient strength to overheat small conductors.

Hot Wires

Where the wires connecting the antenna or ground to the receiving apparatus are of small gauge, or where they have been laid carelessly over the cloth cover of a table or along the dry woodwork, the currents may heat the wires to a red heat. I have seen this happen on numerous occasions.

When lightning actually strikes the antenna it may completely destroy some of the smaller connecting wires and, if no ready path to earth is available, may take a short cut through the woodwork, produce a great heat and set fire to the building.

Fire underwriters' rules, which should be followed by everyone, call for the provision of a "lightning ground wire" outside the building and some form of approved lightning arrester. In some states there is also required a "lightning switch."

In nearly all states the lightning ground wire switch and arrester must be placed outside the building. The ground wire must be kept from the building at a distance of several inches on insulating supports of either glass or porcelain.

Instructions Free

Detailed instructions for the proper installation of protective means are available upon application to your fire insurance company or a representative of the Fire Underwriters' association.

A little care now will save you considerable worry and inconvenience when the season of heavy electrical storms comes along later in the summer.

It may also make it easier for you to collect insurance in case of a fire due to other causes, where otherwise it may be impossible on account of an infraction of the underwriters' rulings.

Quenched Gap—A spark gap between electrodes which are kept cool and are placed close together. This produces a pure wave, one that is sharply tuned and has the advantage of being less in operation because of the short gap. The action is improved if the spark gap is enclosed in an air-tight chamber.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL MACHINISTS EXPERT

Two pupils of the Vocational school, Louis Kochanek and Ralph Haavie, have become quite proficient in the art of handling auto machinery.

A few days ago, a four-way flush-hydrant post, the property of the local fire department and valued at $125, was completely put out of commission when it accidentally fell from one of the fast-moving fire vehicles.

The damaged flush was sent to the Vocational school for repairs and to the above-mentioned boys was allotted the difficult task of reconditioning it.

Energically, the boys undertook the delicate work and through dint of personal effort, succeeded in restoring the piece of apparatus to its original shape.

The result was such that the alterations could hardly be detected. In fact, officials proclaim the flush in better working order now than at any time previous to the mishap.

All this is credited to the young machinists, who labored under the additional handicap of a small lathe machine, the operation of which is the reverse of the natural order.

Ordinarily the piece to be repaired revolves and the tool remains stationary. In this particular instance it is just the opposite, thus necessitating greater care and skill. The boys were equal to the occasion, however, and clearly demonstrated the ability so characteristic of the majority of Vocational school pupils.

DISCUSSED BRICK WALL ORDINANCE

The council committee on ordinances met prior to the council session last night to discuss the new ordinance relative to eight-inch walls for two-story brick dwellings.

Councillor James J. Gallagher, chairman of the committee, wished to have inserted in the ordinance the proper proportions of materials used in making mortar and especially the provision that cement should be used in generous quantities.

It was said by Councillor Appleton that contractors are fairly well agreed that an eight-inch wall is all right, provided that a sufficient amount of cement is used.

The other members of the committee are Messrs. Gallagher, Adams, Sadler and Gonest.

WILL RENOVATE OLD HIGH SCHOOL

The special council committee on public buildings and property, Councillor Appleton, chairman, visited the high school yesterday for the purpose of determining the need of interior renovation of the old building to bring it up to a fair comparison with the new.

The committee unanimously feels that the building should be kalsomined, varnished and generally freshened and several of the stair flights need new treads.

The work, which would probably cost in the neighborhood of $5000, will be done this summer by the department of lands and buildings.

HEALS RUNNING SORES AND CONQUERS PILES

Also Stops All Itching of Eczema Almost Immediately

"I felt it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a 7-inch sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."

A. C. Gilchrist, 702 Reed Street, Erie, Pa. "I rather get a letter like that," says Peterson of Buffalo, "than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man."

For years I have been suffering through eczema. I was told to use Peterson's Ointment for a cure. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic. Sores, other remedies do not seem to even relieve and, speedily, conquered."

It stops itching in five minutes and for relief and cure is simply wonderful. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

The only comment Oser will make upon the opposition of Mrs. McCormick, his fiancée's mother, is that the marriage will take place in spite of all obstacles.

MILLER TESTIFIES IN TRIAL OF SMALL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 1.—(By the Associated Press) Edward E. Miller, state treasurer, took the stand today for the state in the trial of Gov. Len Small, charged with conspiracy to defraud the state during his term as state treasurer, several years ago.

Mr. Miller testified that Gov. Small advised him upon entering office to obtain personal bondsmen instead of giving a surety bond. The governor, Mr. Miller said, told him a surety bond was unnecessary and "might lead to investigation" of the office by the surety company.

Identifying a receipt presented to him by his predecessor, Lieut. Governor Fred E. Sterling, for his signature, when he took over the office, Mr. Miller said he declined to sign it on the day he took office, because he had been unable to check two items. One was $15,000 deposited in a bank then in the hands of a receiver, and the other was $10,000,000 in securities marked as held in Chicago for safe keeping.

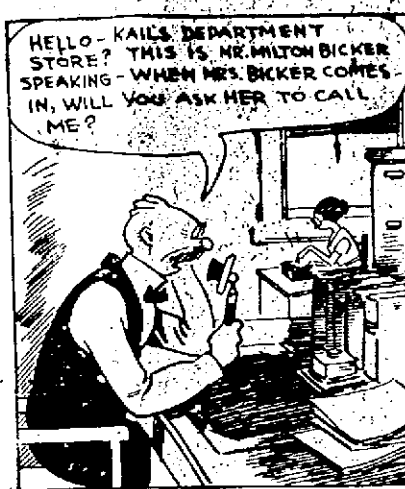

Mr. Sterling told him, he testified, that the $10,000,000 was in the custody of Governor Small. The following day, he said, he asked the governor for the securities and later met the governor and Vernon S. Curtis, a codefendant, at the governor's office, when Mr. Small delivered $9,000,000 in packers' notes.

"I called his attention to the fact that the list was $100,000 short," Mr. Miller testified.

"After some conversation, the governor loaned me $100,000 in notes and mortgages."

BOSTON, June 1.—Hearing of the case of Benjamin W. Morse, son of Charles W. Morse, the steamship owner, who, with his three sons, is under indictment by a federal grand jury in New York on charges of using the mails to defraud, was postponed today until June 12. When the case was called on the issue of Benjamin W. Morse's status as a fugitive from justice, United States attorneys said they had received word from United States Attorney Hayward in New York that questions regarding the indictments had arisen which might affect the case in several particulars. Because the courts had not yet acted on these questions, he said, it was advisable to have the hearing set for today postponed.

EVIDENCE OF EASING MONEY RATES

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Evidence of easing money rates were further seen today in an application to the interstate commerce commission by the New York Central railroad for issuance of $25,000,000 in 5 per cent. bonds from the sale of which it will pay off ahead of maturity an issue of 7 per cent. bonds of similar size.

The railroad's statement said that its $25,000,000 issue of 10-year 7 per cent. bonds now outstanding could be redeemed at 102 on a new interest date and that the payment of the premium and the replacement of the 7 per cent. issue with the 5 per cent. issue would result in decreased annual capital charges against its operation.

READY TO START FOR ICE FLOES

Amundsen's Exploration Ship
Maud, Crammed With Supplies Sails Tomorrow

Two Airplanes to Be Used
in Investigations Loaded
Aboard the Vessel

SEATTLE, Wash., June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Captain Roald Amundsen's exploration ship, Maud, crammed with equipment and supplies, is ready to sail tomorrow on the first lap of the long voyage through the ice floes about the North Pole, Captain Amundsen said today.

Two airplanes, to be used in meteorological and topographical investigations in the uncharted Polar basin, were loaded aboard the vessel. Captain Amundsen will join his ship at Nome, Alaska, on the Seattle Sunday on the steamer Victoria.

Lumber forms an important item in the Maud's cargo. The explorer explained that after the ship is frozen into the Arctic ice pack—with which he expects to drift for the North Pole—quarters for the dogs and huts for scientific observations will be constructed on the ice.

For days the explorer's feminine admirers at the University of Washington have been engaged in making candy for members of the expedition. Candy, it seems, is an essential in the navigation of the Arctic wastes, and Captain Amundsen gratefully has accepted the gifts.

As Captain Amundsen drifts slowly across the ice, the chances are good that he will search the white waste about him for signs of the "phantom fleet"—the frozen company of lost ships that the Eskimos believe swims around the North Pole. He will be out, gripped in the inexorable clutch of ice.

Vessels have disappeared strangely in the unexplored Polar basin since the beginning of Arctic navigation. In one full swoop the hungry ice pack in 1875 carried off six whaling ships from the waters north of the American continent.

WILL INSPECT PAVING IN CONNECTICUT

The city's asphalt problem was discussed Friday at a meeting of the board of public service last afternoon, when representatives of a number of concerns submitted proposals relative to furnishing an asphalt mixing plant for use in this city. The board was interested in a form of asphalt paving, known as Ameslie and voted to go to several Connecticut cities next Wednesday to look over samples of this preparation. Hartford and New Britain will be visited, with a view toward taking this paving on Lowell streets if it seems satisfactory.

The Traylor-Dewey Co. of Allentown, Pa., submitted a proposal to the board to do the necessary gunning on Central bridge for $5000. While the board favored the proposal, it was thought advisable first to take it up with Lewis B. Moore, consulting engineer.

Supt. of Buildings Francis A. Connor called the board's attention to a dangerous condition of a portion of the street department, which is in need of underpinning and flooring, but that the finances of his department will not allow him to do the work. The board voted that whatever work is necessary there, is strictly up to the buildings department and that the board cannot offer any financial assistance.

A bill of $1200 from the health department for the feed and care of horses for the month of May was referred to the street superintendent for investigation.

Residents of West Adams street protested against the closing of that thoroughfare, but inasmuch as the street already has been closed, no action could be taken.

The board voted to accept an invitation from the municipal employees' union to attend the annual outing of that organization at Willow Dale on Sunday, June 11.

The board voted to call Beaven street, between Sixth and Eleventh streets, in response to a petition from residents of that neighborhood.

RICARD'S POPULAR PLAYER CONTEST

The third week of Ricard's Most Popular Contest, conducted exclusively in The Sun, finds hundreds of votes to be added to last week's list, and the standing to be published tomorrow will no doubt show many changes in the order and standing of contestants. Have you sent all those votes you have saved for your favorite to Ricard's store yet? Don't delay. Remember your votes count and will help keep your favorite ball player near the top of the list. It is planned to publish the standing of the contest each Saturday in The Sun so you are urged to get your votes in not later than Friday morning of each week if you are to have them credited in that week's standing. Don't fail to get The Sun tomorrow.

MOB THREATENS TO HANG BASEBALL UMPIRE

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 2.—If Umpire Bruneau, who evidently has faith in his own convictions, is on the job today when Three Rivers and Valleyfield clubs of the Eastern Canada league meet, he may expect to step into a cauldron of boiling pitch when he leaves the field at the end of the game.

Yesterday Mr. Bruneau called some close ones against Three Rivers, resulting in the loss of the game by the home team and a close call for Mr. Bruneau, who nearly lost his neck. A mob of wild-eyed fans, waiting for him outside the park, a squad of police escorted him to his hotel.

Harry Poulis, proprietor of the local club, today telegraphed President Page of the Eastern Canada league, that if Mr. Bruneau officiates today he will not be responsible for the "mobbing" that he says is positive to occur.

MORE DEATHS THIS YEAR

During the first five months of 1922 there occurred eight more deaths in Lowell than in the corresponding months of last year. This year 701 deaths have been reported to the board of health up to June 1, against 693 last year. By a peculiar coincidence, deaths under one year total 125 for the first five months of each year.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

Mayor Says Maintenance
Money Must Be Provided
Before Building Opens

The mayor reiterated today that no plans will be formulated for the opening of the Memorial Auditorium until the city council sees fit to provide the money necessary for its maintenance for the balance of the year, which is approximately $20,000.

The mayor also said that he was surprised that the council did not take some action on the order last night, but Pres. Patrick J. Bagley comes back with the statement that he should not be surprised, for he, Dr. Bagley, has stated publicly a number of times that he does not believe in the method of obtaining the money, and in consequence, will not even read the order to the council.

The order as drawn up by the mayor, provides that the money shall be transferred from the overlay surplus account, and this method of financing the city does not meet with Pres. Bagley's approval.

The mayor points out that when the council, earlier in the year, transferred $10,000 from overlay surplus to the park department, it established a precedent, and to be consistent, the similar action should be taken in the present case.

City Solicitor Tierney has ruled that the money may legally be acquired in this way, but in the same opinion, rules against the transferring of $10,000 for an extension of the white wash lighting system in Gorham st.

The law states that money may be taken from overlay surplus to meet extraordinary or unforeseen conditions.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING ACTIVITY

Ample proof that building activity has greatly increased in the city this year is furnished in the reports of May of the building department and the summary of the permits issued the first five months of this year, compared with the permits issued a similar length of time in 1921.

For the first five months of last year permits were issued that entailed a total approximate expenditure of $355,582, while this year the department has issued permits that have a gross value in dollars and cents of $1,153,732.

In the month of May the department issued 192 permits, for a total estimated expenditure of $281,658. Ninety-one of the permits were given for new buildings, including 12 for new buildings, while 103 permits were given for alterations.

ANNUAL DRAWING FOR VACATIONS

An event occurred at the postoffice today which is of more or less consequence to the employees. It was the annual drawing for vacation periods. The 70 or more carriers and parcel post men made their drawings this morning while the 40 clerks will pick numbers from the hat late this afternoon.

The manner of drawing is simple. A number for each employee is put into a hat. Then, in turn, the men step up and pick one piece of paper. The number on the paper entitles the man to a certain position in the list, those that pick low numbers are considered the most fortunate because they have first choice and naturally choose the most ideal times. It does not make so much difference to the clerks, but the carriers like to get off during the hottest part of the year.

GALLAGHER FOR WIRE INSPECTOR

Mayor George H. Brown today made out the nomination of Charles L. Gallagher for the position of city inspector of wires, which he will send to the city council at its meeting next Thursday night. He said that he has not made up his mind whether or not he will again send in the name of Albert F. Hogue as a nominee for the position of purchasing agent.

One of the most widely followed professions in the far north is that of the ivory carver.

DARING RESCUE BY N. Y. FIREMEN

Two Pull Unconscious Boy
From "Well" Belching Smoke and Water Filled

Chief Went Down Rickety Ladder, Held by Driver—Both Pulled Back to Safety

NEW YORK, June 2.—Two firemen, one an acting battalion chief and the other his chauffeur, today made one of the most daring rescues in the history of a department filled with deeds of heroism.

Michael Kramer, aged five, in fleeing with his parents from a blaze in a lower West Side tenement, had tumbled from a narrow plank which had been placed over a five-foot chasm between the roofs of two buildings, and fallen into the "well" formed by the walls of the structures.

David J. Oliver, the acting battalion chief, heard the lad's moans. Seizing a rickety ladder found on the roof, he ordered the driver, William A. Frazer, to hold it and lower it into the "well," which was belching smoke. Frazer braced himself against the coping while his superior, a heavy man, swayed and groped in the darkness.

The ladder, 30 feet long, was not quite long enough and Oliver had to dangle to the lower rung by one hand. Water meanwhile was filling the "well" but finally Oliver grasped the unconscious boy and held him while Frazer, with a show of almost superhuman strength, slowly dragged both up to the roof.

The boy was rushed to a hospital in a serious condition.

"DOLLAR DAY" DRIVE IN FULL SWING

The "Dollar" day drive under the auspices of the Lowell Textile council, for the benefit of the strikers of the Hamilton and Bay State mills, is on in full swing. Six strikers, three men and three women, equipped with proper credentials, left the strike headquarters at 10 o'clock this morning on a tour of the business places of the city.

The collectors were given instructions to visit the business men of Lowell and urge them to donate one dollar or more for the strikers' fund, and they were told not to give up their task until the entire city had been properly covered. More collectors were sent out this afternoon and it is expected that every store or other business place will be visited between now and next Tuesday night.

According to information given out at the strike headquarters this noon, the collectors are meeting with success. All checks are to be made payable to Mrs. Annie Reagan, treasurer of the Textile council strike fund.

Vampire of Lost Continent Turns Husbands to Gold

MARIE LOUISE IRLBE, FEMININE LEAD IN "MISSING HUSBANDS." BELOW, SHE CONNIVES WITH THE HERO TO FREE HIM OF THE VAMPIRE

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 2.—Somewhere in the desert fastnesses of French North Africa lies a hidden continent, the inhabitants of which have lived shut off from the world 7000 years.

There reigns heavenly y-e-e-e-e-e. Antinea, of form divine and eye hypnotic. A legion of vassals protect her in all her ancient glory. Whenever a man of stately bearing and handsome face passes the desert at the bounds of her sovereignty, her servants capture him and bring him before her.

No man who has thus been lured into this hidden kingdom has ever been known to return until recently when one Lieutenant Saint-Avit of the French army came back to tell of his harrowing experiences.

Saint-Avit was accompanied by Captain Morhange when he entered the kingdom. While awaiting an audience with Antinea they were shown the Hall of Red Marble.

There, in tiered rows, stood 24 golden mummies, each a former husband of Antinea. Antinea, it seems, possesses a process that turns the body to gold immediately after death.

Antinea also possesses physical charms that hopelessly ensnare a man once he gazes upon her. But this soon lures of men—witness the 24 golden mummies.

Saint-Avit fell for her good and heavy rather saying, but Capt. Morhange was the first man ever to resist her. That stopped Antinea, so she slipped Saint-Avit a doped cigarette and after he had become woozy handed him a silver hammer, telling him Morhange was the only thing standing in the way of his happiness.

Saint-Avit croaked Morhange with the silver hammer—if he hadn't been doped he wouldn't have done it—and Morhange became Golden Mummy No. 25.

Antinea's lady-in-waiting had fallen in love with Saint-Avit. She helped him to escape after he had come out of the doped. She died on the way back to civilization.

You'd think after an experience of that kind that Saint-Avit would want to stay away from the hidden continent, but even at this writing he is on the way back to Antinea.

Of such fanciful fabric is woven the story of "Missing Husbands," by which silly American title is known the screen version of Pierre Benoit's "L'Atlantide."

This is the best picture that has yet come to America from France. It was adapted and directed by Jacques Feyder and it is in every way superior to Louis Mercanton's translation of Sir Anthony Hope's "Pharos," which was also burdened with a silly American title, "Possession."

Feyder has told his story in narrative form, with never a slip in continuity. Many of the scenes have been taken in the desert and are of surprising beauty. The interiors are gorgeous and have been arranged with the three dimensional idea in view.

Stacia Napierkowska, in the role of Antinea, may not cause many American husbands to be missing from home for long but she does present the popular European conception of a vampire. Marie Louise Irlbe, the lady-in-waiting, seems to be a better screen actress than Napierkowska.

REMOLOGRAPHY

Snob Pollard burlesques the small town movie theatre in "In the Movies," his next.

One reel of "The Light in the Dark," Hope Hampton's next, is hand-colored. It represents the quest of the Holy Grail.

Two companies have been capitalized at $2,000,000 for the production in and distribution from Atlanta, Ga., of feature pictures.

Falco has produced a one-reeler called "Boy Scouts of America." Icebergs towering 300 feet above the water are shown in "Arctic Spring," part of the next Pathé movie. And never a glimpse of an iceberg is under water.

DR. GANFIELD OPPOSES U. S. SEN. LAFOLLETTE

MILWAUKEE, June 2.—Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Carroll college, Waukesha, today was in the field as choice of the citizens' state republican convention to oppose Senator Robert M. La Follette, in the contest for the party nomination for United States senator at the September primary. The convention unanimously selected Dr. Ganfield last night.

William J. Morgan, state attorney general, who led the fight two years ago against the state backed by the Non-Partisan League in Wisconsin, was nominated to run for governor. The convention placed a full state ticket in the field.

The platform denounced radicalism and attacked the stand of La Follette in the senate.

On the prohibition question, the platform calls for "enforcement of the law."

One resolution declared: "The vital issue in the state of Wisconsin is to office and forever eliminate the shame and disgrace that became attached to this great commonwealth through the disloyalty of Senator La Follette."

"He was not true to his country in the time of its extreme need and peril. He failed to act when patriotic action was imperative and by his public utterances and open opposition to participation in the world war he has shown himself unfit to represent the state."

HOUSE KILLS AUTO INSURANCE BILL

BOSTON, June 2.—The house yesterday killed the bill to require automobile owners to take out liability insurance to the amount of not less than $2500, the vote on passing the bill being 90 to 104.

Representative Hays of Boston moved reconsideration and the fight will be renewed in today's session. The bill, which was sponsored by Representative Mitchell of Springfield, was designed to provide a guarantee that persons injured by reckless automobile driving might recover from the owner of the car.

MERRIMACK PARK

The management of Merrimack Park announce a grand concert for Sunday afternoon and evening. The program is said to be one of the best arranged cards that has been seen or heard locally in some time. There will be selections from our most famous authors and then there will be popular melodies with just enough of the "jazz" element to make them worth while. The program for the afternoon will be entirely different than the evening, there will be two well balanced programs under the direction of Professor Githin with numerous solos introducing some of the latest and most popular music hits of the day. The afternoon concert will commence at 2.30, and the evening at 8. The Eastern Massachusetts railway has promised ample street car service and will run special cars to the park to accommodate all those who wish to enjoy this offering.

The time difference between New York and London is five hours.

BUSTER PARKED A PEANUT IN THE MAJOR'S COLLAR-

Yes. That is just what Ida Delmo did. She was playing in stock in Portland, Ore. A few winters ago a small carnival got stranded in that territory, and amongst the animals left with the receiver was three elephants.

Ida heard about this, and went to see them. One of the pachyderms was a baby. Ida started to pet it a little, and it wanted to follow her. She was so much in love with the little fellow that every day after her stock rehearsal, Ida would go out to the park and tussle around.

It is just as well to state here, that Ida was born in Denver, the home of the Sells-Floto circus. Her success in handling the elephants in Portland gave her the idea that she would like to be a trainer.

She wrote to the circus people and the result was as mentioned. She gave up her stock engagement, and went to work with the big out-door attraction. Now Ida handles the mid-got elephant herd, with the Sells-Floto circus, now combined with the Buffalo Bill Wild West show, and you will see her here Saturday, June 10th.

Lymansville Blue Serge of Rhode Island

I buy several pieces for spot cash. I don't claim these goods are $40 value—because I don't know by what standard $40 value might be measured in clothing. I do say they are 14-oz. in weight, twisted worsted both ways, absolutely wool, and no tailor advertises this make serge under $30 for a suit of clothes.

I don't care how big you are, if you can get through my door without blocking traffic, there will be no extra charge. I am going to turn these goods into cash in the next ten days. Lost Breath, Heart Fluttered After Slightest Exertion

"Some months ago," writes Mrs. L. L. Concoran, of 414 West 25th Street, New York, "I found that after the slightest exertion I suffered from shortness of breath accompanied with a fluttering of the heart. Frequently I would get a stabbing pain in my left side. I tried various remedies but instead of improving I became worse. My appetite failed and soon even the sight of food became repulsive. I forced myself to eat because I was losing flesh, but what little food I ate turned to gas and gave me sharp pains in the chest and loins. Then my nerves became so weak that I would 'jump' at any sudden sound, whilst my heart would flutter violently. I became thoroughly alarmed. My condition seemed indeed desperate. I almost gave up hope of ever getting well again. One day a friend called and, seeing my nervous and exhausted condition, told me that what I needed was Wincarnis. But I had already tried so many things without benefit that I hadn't much faith in her advice. Nevertheless, she persuaded me to send out for a bottle of Wincarnis and I began taking it right away. In all I have taken four bottles and I am amazed at the wonderful result. Words fail me to describe what Wincarnis has done for me. Where other remedies failed, it has succeeded far beyond my expectations. Today I am strong and well. And I owe all my renewed health to your wonderful Wincarnis."

Burke, a popular young man of Centralville, and Miss Lillian Breen, the well known bookkeeper at Perrault & Sons in Bridge street, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. John J. Tighe. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with picture hat to match, and carried bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Gertrude Burke, a sister of the groom, who wore a blue traveling suit with hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. James Waterson. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a ten-dollar gold piece, while the groom's gift to the best man was a gold signet ring. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents and later the happy couple left on an extended honeymoon trip through the state of Maine. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE
John Collins, aged 3 years and residing at 42 Marginal street, was struck by an automobile in Marginal street, late yesterday afternoon and received slight injuries, which were treated by Dr. Boyle. The auto that figured in the accident was being operated by Frank Evans of 20 Saratoga street, who claims that while he was driving his machine through Marginal street the little fellow ran from the sidewalk into the path of the car and was wounded. He had toured the world on the office of Dr. Boyle.

Catholics Flee From Belfast
or sources of last night's Central News despatch reporting fighting between republican troops and special Ulster constables along a mile front on the Louth border. Seven lorry loads of British troops were said to have been rushed to the scene from Newry.

Set Fire to Servant's Clothes
When a gang forced the door of a doctor's residence in the southern side of the city, they were told by the servant, Susan McCormick, that he was not at home. Thereupon they poured a can of petrol over her, and set her clothing afire. She ran screaming into the street, where neighbors extinguished the flames, but not before she had been severely burned. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Heavy Firing Reported
BELFAST, June 2. (By the Associated Press.) Heavy firing between Irish republican army forces and Ulster special constables occurred during the night at Dungooly cross, on the Louth-Armagh border. It lasted seven hours and it is believed three specials were killed. The border inhabitants in the vicinity have fled to Dundalk. Firing also occurred at Cullinstown, continuing for several hours. In Irish republican army quarters it was stated that the republican forces suffered no casualties in either clash.

IMPROVEMENT IN SITUATION INDICATED
LONDON, June 2. (By the Associated Press.) Premier Lloyd George will leave for Greece tonight, to open a war memorial there tomorrow. He will probably be away for a week. The fact that the premier is planning to absent himself from London so long encourages the belief that there is improvement in the Irish situation. Further informal meetings were expected today between Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies and Arthur Griffith, president of the Irish Free State. It is understood the present discussions are centering principally upon the draft of the Irish constitution submitted by the Irish representatives, with a view to framing it in such a manner that it will not be at variance with the provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty. Although outward indications show little change in the situation, well informed quarters are more optimistic regarding the outcome of the negotiations than they were yesterday.

SATISFIED WITH THE ELECTION

There seems to be a feeling of general satisfaction in the local Greek community over the result of the annual election, which was held last Tuesday, when Apostolos Johnson, a prominent business man of the district, was chosen president.

Mr. Johnson has been a resident of this city for over 15 years and a very successful business man. For a number of years he has been at the head of a cigar factory in Merrimack street, and he is also financially interested in other businesses in the Greek district. He is recognized as a man of sound judgment and a great many predict that under his administration the community will progress.

Some of President Johnson's supporters say that he has been chosen as head of the community at a trying time, as just now the community is involved in a financial tangle. A local bank, which holds mortgages on the community real estate, is threatening to foreclose and it is practically up to the president and his board of directors to raise the necessary funds to straighten out matters. It is believed, however, that the officials of the community with the sound advice of President Johnson, will be able to meet the financial obligations of the society and that within a short time everything will be all right.

SEC. ROOSEVELT AT ANNAPOLIS

Presents Diplomas and Welcomes Class of 400 Into Naval Service

Today it was Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late president, who as acting secretary of the navy, in the absence of Secretary Denby, welcomed the more than 400 midshipmen of the class of 1922 to places in the permanent naval establishment of the United States. In doing so, Mr. Roosevelt impressed upon the members of the class—probably the largest class to be commissioned for years to come—that they were starting on a life service.

"Your career is the sea," he told them, "but your career is not simply a sea—for your career is in the sea and public service. We speak of the men of the navy as being 'in the service.' Those simple little words convey in themselves volumes. They constitute a tacit recognition of the fact that our navy is a public profession; men dedicate themselves to a life not of gain, but of service. I know of no higher resolution than this."

Although congress has shown indications of cutting down the size of the graduating classes at Annapolis, Secretary Roosevelt foresaw no time when navies would be abandoned.

"Military and naval forces," he declared, "are of great value to our country and to the world's civilization when they are devoted to the defense of our rights and to justice among the nations. Our country's aims are clean and her ideals are high. Our giant strength, our arms and our armament have been used in the past and will be used in the future only for the defense of our rights and for the benefit of humanity."

"Navies and armies properly employed correspond among the nations to the law enforcement bodies within the various countries. As civilization is based upon law and law enforcement, so civilization is dependent upon the navies and the armies of the great, high-thinking countries."

JUDGE GOFF SEES WAR ON SOCIETY

NEW YORK, June 2.—Former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff yesterday declared that in the present country-wide crime wave, "we have an actual war on society."

Justice Goff appeared before the committee on law enforcement of the American Bar association, holding a crime symposium in various cities, after Henry W. Taft, a chief justice of the New York bar, had asserted that the inadequate enforcement of the criminal law constituted one of the greatest blots on civilization.

Justice Goff asserted accused persons should be brought to trial more quickly, as delay gave an opportunity to disappear and caused public interest and the energy of prosecuting officials to wane.

He also deplored the facility with which bail is obtained from bonding companies, and declared sentences should be imposed promptly as the infliction of delay gave well-meaning persons opportunity to annoy judges with pleas for the convicted.

Council Tables Nominations

Installation of 27 ornamental street lights in East Merrimack street, an extension of the White way system.

The board of public service reported favorably upon a petition to lay sidewalks of concrete and edgestones on both sides of Clifton terrace and the order was adopted.

A similar report was made upon a petition for a sidewalk in front of 124 and 130 Riverside st. and this order was adopted.

A favorable report was made upon a petition for widening a portion of First street and the order for the work was passed.

After a favorable report, the council passed an order to lay a granite sidewalk in front of 157-753 Merrimack street, to replace a brick sidewalk, now laid there.

The board recommended that Emery street be laid out and accepted and the order attached was passed.

An order was passed to lay a cinder sidewalk and edgestones on a portion of Riverby street.

An order to relay a portion of the surface drain in Middlesex street between Black brook and Burnside st. was adopted.

$25,000 Macadam Order
The council adopted an order authorizing the city to borrow $25,000 for macadam paving. The order previously had been advertised.

The mayor nominated Edward P. Mulry, Wilfred J. Achin and Clinton P. Tuttle for positions on the board of assessors for terms respectively of three, two and one year.

Councillor McMeniman moved immediate action. The motion was seconded by Councillor Chadwick.

Councillor Chretien opposed the motion, as did Councillor McPadden. The latter stated that if the names were not voted on separately, litigation would surely follow, for if a man should be confirmed it could not be determined as to who should replace on the present board.

Councillor Gallagher moved that the nominations be laid on the table and it was so voted.

Councillor McMeniman moved that the mayor's nomination of Mrs. Sarah Kitteridge as assistant superintendent of state aid, be taken from the table. Councillor Chadwick questioned the council's legal right to vote on the matter and it was referred to the city solicitor for opinion without further action.

The mayor's nomination of Albert F. Hogue for purchasing agent was taken from the table.

The roll call vote was recorded as follows:

Yes—Councillors Adams, Cameron, Chadwick, Chretien, Gallagher, Ganeal and Stearns.

No—Councillors Appleton, Bagley, McMeniman, McMeniman, McPadden, Moriarty and Sadlier.

Absent—Councillor Queenan.

As the vote was tied, confirmation was denied.

The name of William T. McGreevey, mayor's nomination for inspector of wires, also was taken from the table. It was not confirmed by a vote of 11 to 3, with one absent. The councillors voting in favor were Messrs. Bagley, Cameron and Chadwick.

HOW TO KEEP FLIES AWAY FROM LIVE STOCK

Free your horses and cattle from the torment of flies with COBURN'S ANTI-FLY OIL. It's the "fly dope" that keeps cattle good-natured. When used in the stable it allows the horse complete rest. It kills the dangerous blood-sucking pests. Anti-Fly Oil is a clean liquid, does not irritate the skin, nor injure the hair. It is easy and absolutely safe to use. This preparation has also been used successfully as an exterminator of chicken mites, and when used in the interior of hen coops, keeps the quarters in a clean and healthy condition. Freed from the fly and insect pest—horses do more work—cows give more milk—poultry profits increase. Light spraying with Coburn's Anti-Fly Oil does the trick. Gallon 75c, including can.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR THE POLISH ARMY

WARSAW, June 2.—The Polish republic has begun the unification of its armament which, it has been found, will involve the scrapping of the bulk of the material accumulated from various sources during the past four years.

The renewed equipment will be one more step in the transformation of the Polish emergency force to a methodically organized national body.

Purchases are being made principally in France to replace that part of the old material that cannot be used for the equipment of the new army which, on a peace basis, was fixed at 250,000 men in the last budget.

French officers are helping in the reorganization of the army, but in much smaller numbers than served during the campaign against the Bolsheviks. There were then 1386 French officers in the field; there are now 63, all told, attached to the army as instructors in the Polish military school.

CULINARY SCIENCE IN SCANDINAVIA

STOCKHOLM, June 2.—Co-operation and scientific management have reached the kitchen in Scandinavia.

The calorie contents of the market basket are no longer dependent on chance or the persuasive eloquence of the grocer and butcher, but regulated by culinary science.

The annual congress of Northern Housewives' union, attended by delegates representing some 50,000 Scandinavian and Finnish members of the National League of Swedish Housewives, the Danish Housewives' association, the Norwegian Home Welfare association and the Martha union of Finland, has just adjourned in Stockholm after a successful session where most of the modern problems of the modern housewife were potholed and discussed at length. There were no theoretic or revolutionary measures on the agenda, only practical problems such as face any housewife any day of the week.

These housewives' nations have exerted considerable influence in dealing with servant questions and regulating market prices on necessities. Thus the Swedish league during the war and during the hard times following established co-operative stores and formed buying associations that exercised a strong regulating effect on the price level of household necessities, especially foodstuffs.

The congress just closed adopted resolutions to arrange for a vacation course of instruction in domestic science and other matters affecting the home at the Aus Agricultural school in Norway, where students will receive instructions in various household duties under capable instructors and will witness demonstrations of the latest methods of running a modern home.

Mrs. Agnes Ingelman, president of the National League of Swedish Housewives, said in an address to the delegates that women nowadays have to keep in touch with politics, public administration and legislation affecting the home. They must get together, she said, and work for the safeguarding of the home, as for instance in its building and fitting up, in arranging home exhibitions and stimulating public instruction in domestic sciences and in establishing employment bureaus, libraries and day nurseries.

Porto Rico's new commissioner of education is the first native ever appointed to the post.

"Knocks germs cold"—said our druggist

"Mr. Perkins has an awfully attractive and up-to-date drug store. He says he selects the goods he sells as carefully as he fills prescriptions. He advised me to use Sylpho-Nathol.

"You'll hunt a long time before finding anything as reliable or as effective," he said. "I know, or I wouldn't have it on sale. Sylpho-Nathol knocks germs cold."

"I wouldn't be without Sylpho-Nathol now for anything. I used Sylpho-Nathol first in our sink. For months it had had an unpleasant odor that we couldn't get rid of. I followed the directions on the bottle—a teaspoonful in a quart of water—and poured the clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution down the pipe. That ended the sink smell."

"I used Sylpho-Nathol for the garbage can. I never could keep it from smelling before—nor keep the flies away from it. Sylpho-Nathol ended that trouble also."

Sylpho-Nathol meets a great need for a household antiseptic, disinfectant and deodorant because it is free from the objections that householders have to ordinary disinfectants. Sylpho-Nathol is sure. It absolutely destroys germs and odors. Sylpho-Nathol is pleasant to use. Its faint, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is safe. Although 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, it is no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt the skin nor injure household things. Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. Just a teaspoonful in a quart of warm water, and it is ready.

Your grocer, or druggist, has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If he hasn't it, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

ECONOMY DISCARDED IN COURT FUNCTIONS

LONDON, June 2.—Economy is no longer to be the keynote of court functions at Buckingham Palace. No more "economy courts," as they were called, are to be held. These were established by their majesties after the war to set fashionable society a much needed example in curbing extravagance. The seal of royal approval has now again been bestowed on court trains. Indeed no woman can be presented at court who does not wear them. Of course as a man the lord chamberlain cannot presume to be an expert on fashionable feminine dress, but it is one of his many official duties to lay down the rules and regulations to which women must conform at the most exalted of court functions.

That is one of the things for which he is paid $15,000 a year. He has to be a peer besides to qualify for the exalted office which is accounted among the political plums that the prime minister has to give away. The present lord chamberlain is in the top class of the peerage. He is the Duke of Atholl.

By restoring the court train he has earned the blessings of the fashionable dressmakers. But they would have lengthened the trains. Before the war three yards was their regulation length, while Queen Victoria didn't consider four yards too long. By the new regulations they need be only two yards in length and should not extend more than 12 inches from the heel of the wearer when standing.

To walk backwards before royalty in a train three yards long without getting tangled up in it, imposes a sort of veto tax on the agility and skill of even a few socially ambitious women. Queen Mary is a very kind woman and she would naturally wish to spare her sex making exhibitions of themselves. Hence she was in favor of the shorter length for trains.

PLAN AUTONOMY FOR SCOTLAND AND WALES

LONDON, June 2.—A bill "to provide for the better government of Scotland and Wales, and for other matters relating thereto," has been introduced into the house of commons.

This action follows upon renewed talk in some quarters of "home rule all around," in other words autonomy for Scotland and Wales as apart from England proper and is a direct outcome of the birth of the Irish Free State. Prime Minister Lloyd George, himself a Welshman, has indicated that he would not oppose a comprehensive home rule measure.

According to the present proposals, parliaments each consisting of two chambers, would be set up for Scotland and Wales. The lower house, in the case of Scotland, would be equal in membership to the present representation at Westminster and elected by the same constituencies. The lower house in Wales would consist of twice the present representation, each of the Welsh constituencies being divided into two. The upper house of the Scots parliament would be elected by the lower house in accordance with a plan proposed by Lord Boyd's committee, and would number 35 members. The Welsh senate also would have 35 members.

Provision is made in the bill for joint sittings in the event of disagreement. Representation at Westminster is to continue unchanged pending the application to devolution to England.

THE PRIMITIVE CAPITAL OF ALBANIA

TIRANA, Albania, June 2.—The distinction of being the "toy capital of Europe," so long enjoyed by Cetinje, the old site of the palace and court of King Nicholas, of Montenegro, falls now to Tirana, the capital of Albania, where regents, chiefs, beys, ministers and diplomats are beginning to congregate to set up the governmental magnificence of the new state, the last to be admitted into the League of Nations.

"Tirana still burns oil for light." She has no communication with the outside world except a wagon-road leading to "her seaport," Durazzo. She boasts a market place and five mosques and has lately adapted an old building into a hotel called "The International Hotel." The government palaces are scattered throughout her winding, narrow streets, which are lined with merchants displaying their wares sitting with crossed legs in the Arab fashion.

The stores and houses, roofed with red tile are all of one story. Distinction is given the government buildings in the fact that they have two stories. All are old buildings adapted to the use of government by the introduction of a few chairs and desks. Each building has no more than six or eight rooms. The ministers enter their offices with great solemnity and ceremony. Orderlies and ushers stand at attention while the heads pass. Inside his office, the minister calls his ushers by an old-fashioned table bell, electric bells being wholly unknown in this primitive land. With stern severity, everyone addresses the minister as "Your excellency."

Diplomats have only a legal residence in Tirana. Minister Ayers, the British plenipotentiary, who has the unique dignity of being the representative of the only country to recognize Albania formally, lives in Durazzo making the trip to Tirana when state functions demand it. It also maintains a diplomatic residence in Durazzo.

MONUMENT TO GERMAN AIRMEN

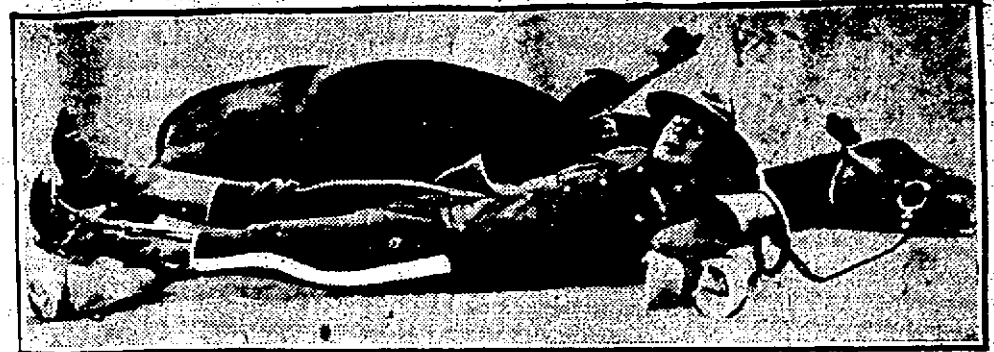

BERLIN, June 2.—An imposing monument in honor of German airmen who fell in the war is to be erected on the summit of the Regenstein, a precipitous sandstone cliff 170 feet high, situated in a romantic spot in the Harz region. Field Marshal von Hindenburg has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the committee.

The Regenstein was one of the great strongholds of the "robber barons" of the middle ages, and figures largely in German history.

as his probable hiding place, was revealed by Cunningham, according to the authorities.

Arrest of Cunningham revived stories of plunges made by Ward at various tracks and his acquaintance with many well known horsemen and gamblers. One story was to the effect that Ward disappeared some time ago and that detectives quickly sent out to find the missing man discovered him at a race track near Baltimore.

Cunningham is of slight build and has black hair and a small mustache. He is said to have worked for Commander J. H. Ross, Canadian horseman, as an investigator of race track frauds and gambling rings. Commander Ross is the owner of Sir Barton. New York detectives are also searching for two well known characters of the underworld who have been seen recently in the white light district driving a red automobile. The police say the men are apparently in funds, although both have but recently been released from prison. Ward described the blackmailer's car as red and his general descriptions are said to fit these men.

District Attorney Weeks, who now has three groups of investigators at work, expects the Cunningham arrest to bring a sudden break in the mystery surrounding the death of Peters. The state police have entered into the chase, and agents of a private detective agency are also active.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Ruscoe and Raymond Hill, county finger print expert, planned today to visit a hospital in Stamford, Conn., where Cunningham was reported to have said the second man wounded by Ward was taken.

They declined to name the hospital or discuss the purpose of their visit. It was indicated that Sheriff Werner might accompany them.

Detectives are trying to trace an ex-pugilist and semi-pro ball player known as "Charley Ross" with whom Ward was reported to have had a fist fight at the Dowle race track last spring. The fight was continued in a roadhouse near Baltimore, according to the story.

Investigations at Stamford
STAMFORD, Conn., June 2.—Deputy Sheriff Fred Ruscoe and Raymond Hill, a fingerprint expert, came here today accompanied by Sheriff George L. Warner and several private detectives, to follow up supposed clues in the Ward-Peters case. They called on Acting Chief John Bennett and later Charles Rogers, who is well known in town, and Louis Natale, a taxicab driver, were called in for questioning, separately.

It is understood the search is made for one Joe Jackson, whom acting Chief Bennett was told was brought to Stamford for treatment for a bullet wound in the stomach and two wounds in the legs. This wounded man was brought here in a touring car, and is thought to have been placed in a private hospital.

It is understood that James J. Cunningham, arrested last night, who has made certain statements in the Ward case, had mentioned a Charles Rogers but it was said at police headquarters that the Charles Rogers described by Cunningham does not appear to be the same man who this noon was being questioned. The automobile used to transport the wounded Joe Jackson is said to correspond with the make of a car which the Charles Rogers under examination has been recently driving.

Continued

When officers raided the Vlahos home, they found a number of men seated in a room. One of them was drinking from a glass that resembled a whiskey glass. A half-pint of moonshine was found under the table. A quantity of beer was also confiscated.

Vlahos explained the presence of the moonshine by saying that he had a bad cold and he kept it for that purpose. He said that it was put under the table so as to be out of the reach of the children. He further testified that he told the raiding officers the beer was sour and that they would find it of no value and would return it to him later. He said that he made the beer last Friday and analysis of the beer showed that it contained only a small quantity of alcohol and was not strong enough to come under the ban of the law. A number of jugs and bottles were also found by the raiders.

In making his finding the court said the man in a private dwelling was allowed more latitude in the quantity of liquor kept than if he conducted a store but the fact that a number of instruments connected with illegal traffic were found was pretty good evidence. Also the fact that a man had been seen drinking something and the finding of the moonshine weighed heavily against Vlahos.

Angus Owens pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal keeping and was fined $100.

DOES NOT COME UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney will give a written opinion to the city council to the effect that the position of assistant superintendent of state aid, now held by Mrs. Mary McGrann, does not come under civil service; that it is a position created by ordinance in 1910 and that the mayor now has the right to nominate a person for the place, to be confirmed by the city council.

This is the substance of a verbal opinion already given by the solicitor to Councilor Smith J. Adams. Last night, when the council prepared to act upon the nomination of Mrs. Sarah Kittredge, it was decided to refer the matter to the solicitor, as there was doubt in the minds of several members of the council as to whether or not they had the right to consider anyone for the place.

The city solicitor's opinion, however, will settle the matter and undoubtedly Mrs. Kittredge's name will be taken up and acted upon next Thursday night.

FOR POLICING THE AIR FITCHBURG MILLS TO BE REOPENED MONDAY

Sac. Weeks Urges President to Ask Congress to Enact Code of Air Rules

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The commercial aviator who joined the Lincoln Memorial has awakened a train of official reflection which may end in comprehensive national legislation for policing the air.

Indignant at the action of the Memorial Day pilot, who dived out a large part of President Harding's address by circling low about the Memorial, Secretary Weeks has suggested to the president that congress be asked to enact a code of air rules of the road.

Other government officials have had similar experiences and the secretary's proposal found quick sympathy in many quarters. It is possible the pending measures may be so amended as to put a stop to indiscriminate sight-seeing trips over the heads of public gatherings.

Secretary Weeks thinks he has found a method of punishing the aviator which will not require congressional action. The department believes the offending pilot is a reserve army officer, and Mr. Weeks holds that he was guilty not only of disturbing a solemn public ceremony, but also of showing gross disrespect for the president of the United States. Departmental officials say that not even a court martial would be necessary in these circumstances to take away a reserve commission.

FITCHBURG, June 2.—The Park-hill Manufacturing company, whose textile plants have been closed 10 weeks by a strike against a 10-cent wage reduction, announced today that the mills will be reopened Monday. The announcement follows: "During the 10 weeks we have been closed, all of the eight cotton mills in this city and neighboring towns have continued to operate at the February reductions, and our competitors making similar fabrics where hours of work have not been changed, have also operated under the schedule adopted in February.

"Textile wages are settled in textile centers, not in Fitchburg. With its small number of textile workers, we affirm our statement made prior to March 25 to a committee of our employees, that we will readjust rates to correspond with competingingham mills, if changes are made by them.

"So many employees have inquired when the mill will start that we have decided to open Monday, June 5, for those who wish to return. The United States laws assure protection to any who wish to work, so there need be no fear of interference."

U. S. BEST FIELD FOR AVIATION

GENOA, June 2.—Gianni Caproni, the Italian inventor and constructor, considers the United States today to be the best field in the world for the development of civil aviation. He prepared and brought to Genoa a comprehensive program for aerial communication over Europe, but this will have to wait, he said today, owing to the limited financial strength of the various countries embracing in his scheme. "But in the United States," the Italian inventor continued, "civil aviation promises to make rapid progress.

"The country covers roughly about the same area as Europe," and all the elements for speedy growth are present. I hope to contribute to this branch of American activity."

Germans are showing the greatest activity in Europe, at the present time, in the field of aeronautics according to aerial observers at Genoa during the recent conference. Anthony Fokker and Prof. Junkers, both German experts, leased three airplane factories in Holland. The Zeppelin company is active in a factory on the Swiss side of Lake Constance, and at the same time has leased an Italian factory near Genoa and is organizing a company for aviation construction near Seville, Spain.

TO SETTLE $700,000,000 WOMEN ELIGIBLE FOR JUDGES IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—International bankers, headed by Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., were called in conference today with Adolfo de la Huerta, Mexican secretary of the treasury, in an attempt to settle the long standing problem of the $700,000,000 Mexican debt on which no interest has been paid since 1914. The conference is regarded as having at least an indirect bearing on the troublesome question of export oil taxes.

It is generally believed in the financial district that a satisfactory solution of the debt problem will pave the way for the recognition of Mexico by the United States government.

MEASURE TO AID JUDGES DEFEATED
BOSTON, June 2.—By a vote of 87 to 143 the house yesterday killed the bill to allow the judges of the supreme court to receive the increase of $2000 in salary, voted to them two years ago, without losing their right to a pension of $7500 a year at retirement.

The bill had the backing of a majority of the members of the judiciary and the ways and means committees, two of the most influential committees in the legislature. It had the support of the republican leaders almost to a man, and it was argued that the bill should be passed as a measure of justice to the seven men on the supreme court who accepted their appointments with the knowledge that they would be granted pensions on retirement. None of the supreme court justices accepted the $2000 increase voted by the legislature of 1920, because acceptance of that increase, under the terms of the 1920 act, would require them to waive their rights to retirement allowances.

Opponents of the bill argued that the $10,000 salary now allowed the judges of the supreme court, with $7000 a year pension, is a sufficient compensation for the performance of the judicial duties.

MISS ROACH HONORED

Those present last evening wished the popular young lady a pleasant and successful voyage and she responded gracefully, thanking her friends for their gift and kind wishes.

YANKS RELEASE HARPER
NEW YORK, June 2.—The New York Americans yesterday announced the unconditional release of Harry Harper, veteran left-handed pitcher. Harper was procured from the Boston club in a trade last season, but was of little service as the result of injuring his pitching hand. Harper has not appeared in any of New York's games this year.

LONDON, June 2.—There is nothing to prevent properly qualified women from being appointed judges in England, and wearing the black gowns, big horsehair wigs and other symbols of judicial dignity, the attorney general, Sir Ernest Pollock, has ruled. He said:

"Any woman who possesses the statutory qualifications required for the appointment to a judicial office, is equally with any man, eligible for appointment to that office."

TO KILL BILL FOR FIVE CENT FARE
BOSTON, June 2.—The house committee on rules will report in the house Monday against the admission of Mayor Curley's bill for a five-cent fare, with the deficit to be assessed in general taxation.

The committee has taken no action on the matter of admitting the bill to date, but a canvass yesterday afternoon showed sufficient votes against the bill to insure the filing of an adverse report, probably on Monday.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Memorial day brought another chapter of serious accidents resulting from the large motor traffic induced by the warm weather. It appears that with the increase in the number of motor vehicles, in spite of all the efforts of Registrar Goodwin, the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, keeps on growing. Last year motor cars killed 193 children and maimed 3000 others in Massachusetts. Two years ago the number of killed was 150 and the injured, 2300. It is a fact that while the drivers in many cases were to blame, in a far greater number of cases, the parents of the children killed or injured were wholly responsible. When parents allow young children to run the streets at will they need not be surprised to hear of their little ones getting killed or maimed in street accidents. Here in Lowell a great many parents who work in the mills leave children under school age to run wherever they please during working hours. We see them on East Merrimack street, on Central street and many other thoroughfares, in which the traffic by motor vehicles is continuous. The children romp at will on the sidewalks and frequently run across the street without a thought of the danger they undergo. Is it any wonder that every few weeks we hear of such children being struck by autos and killed or seriously injured? At a safety conference recently held at the state house, Mrs. James D. Tillinghast of Cambridge made an appeal to parents not to let their children play on the streets. She also advised parents not to send small children unaccompanied to stores, nor let them play marbles or other games on the sidewalks, much less on the middle of the streets. She felt that it would be better to pen them in the yard or even to tie them to the end of a clothes line so that they could not get to the streets, than have them run the risk of being killed at any moment. It seems that appeals of this kind are thrown away upon the parents who are most culpable in this respect. It is, therefore, up to the police to drive small children off the streets and to impress upon parents the responsibility of allowing little children to be at large on streets in which there is heavy motor traffic.

The Massachusetts safety council sends out an appeal for a general effort to reduce the number of fatal accidents during the present summer. It calls attention to the fact that there were 66 deaths from accidents in this state last June, and it points out three ways in which it hopes the number may be reduced this year. One of these has reference to the common offense of driving across intersecting streets at an excessive rate of speed. The law which limits speed in such cases to eight miles an hour when the view is obstructed, is violated hundreds of times daily in every city in the state. To be convinced of this, one has only to watch the autos passing along any street in the city that has many intersections. Many of the motorists pay little or no heed to the cross streets, expecting that the other fellow will do all the watching.

The safety council appeals to the police throughout the state to send the names of such offenders to Registrar Goodwin who will deal with them in a proper manner. That would assuredly teach them to be more cautious.

A second suggestion is, that playgrounds be opened as soon as possible so as to keep the children off the streets. The schools will close in a few weeks and then the children will be at large to enjoy themselves in play. They should have ample opportunity for amusement where there is no danger and there should be constant attractions to draw them there. The council furnishes interesting stories which if related to the children, will hold them for a part of the time and to that extent keep them off the streets. The third suggestion is, to guard against the hazard of drowning. Boys should be taught to swim under safe conditions and they should also be instructed in the prone pressure method of resuscitation. As this also applies to certain accidents in gas and electric light plants, the managers of these, too, may be interested in promoting this knowledge. Boys who want to go swimming should be attracted to the municipal bath house up the river, and even there, they will have to exercise care lest they get beyond their depth or become exhausted while swimming so that they may sink before help reaches them.

If all these suggestions and preventive measures were adopted, we should see a gratifying reduction in the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, during the summer. This aim can be accomplished only by having each individual do his or her share. Talk alone will accomplish nothing unless followed by appropriate action.

THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

It is important that New England railroads shall remain under New England management. To place them under control of the great trunk lines would still further handicap New England industries and, therefore, injuriously affect the interests of all the people who live in New England.

But this is the day of big combinations and the undoing of the smaller units in industries of all kinds. New England depends for its food supply and the raw material of its factories upon other parts of the country. It has the advantage of climate, natural ability, inventive genius and plenty of capital; but it has the serious disadvantage of distance from the coal fields and the supply of raw materials. The railroads have the disadvantage of being confined to short hauls in which they have to compete with the motor truck and the freight steamers. That is one reason why our New England roads are in a very poor financial condition. An part of a trunk line system, they would lose their local character; but at the same time they would be operated to the disadvantage of New England industries. Here, then, is a big problem that calls for solution. It is one on which the New England industries must depend for their very existence.

Who is to settle these railroad problems? The stockholders who see their investment dwindling in value will be the deciding factor. They can save the transportation interests of New England; but if it comes to an alternative of that or sacrificing their own, they may be excused if under the conditions they try to retrieve their past losses. That is what they may be expected to do, regardless of any other consideration involved. The situation calls for active intervention by thousands of common sense and other interests that can exert an influence favorable to New England.

WARNING FOR GIRLS

From Chicago comes the report of a vice commission that makes some startling revelations. One is that the old-time hardened woman of the underworld is vanishing and in her place is found the young girl of 18, fresh from the country, whisked thither, perhaps in an automobile, under some form of deception or else the victim of betrayal or bad home influences who sought the glare of the big city and landed in the vice dens, where after a while she is cast aside with seldom a prospect brighter than an early grave.

The commission has found that a large percentage of such girls are from homes broken up by divorce or separation of parents. There is here a serious warning for young girls.

A Thought

Not until a man has laid hold upon the absolute assurance that the right is right and that the God of righteousness will give him strength to the feeblest will in all the universe which tries to do right, has a man summoned to his aid the final perfect help.—Phillips Brooks.

Must Stick Together

"Whom do you love best, Willie dear?" asked the fond mother, "your father or me?" Willie pondered for a minute, and then, seeing that all the cake was gone, replied: "Dad!" "Well, Willie," said his mother, "I am surprised at you. I felt sure that you loved me best!" "Sorry," replied the young hopeful, "but we men must stick together, mum."

Verdict For Plaintiff

A young lawyer was so nervous over his first defense that he broke down in opening his case. His kindly colleague whispered, "Read it off your brief." For a time this succeeded, until he read the paragraph: "Counsel should avoid putting defendant into the box, as he cannot be believed on oath and has a long list of previous convictions." Verdict for the plaintiff.

Are We Growing Stupid?

People are not becoming wiser, instead, they are becoming more stupid. Modern stupidity is not shown in little things, but in big things; people are stupid now in trying to fly in trying to be gods; in trying to locate the fountain of youth; in world betterment; universal brotherhood; fat money; shorter hours—having discovered the immutability of natural law, they declare with an impudent oath that they will change it.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Didn't Rather Him

Dicky and Charlie were told by their mother not to play at the back of the school building, where there was a swollen stream. When they returned home at nearly 5 o'clock that evening, their shoes were covered with mud. Then mother said: "Charlie, I do not know how your conscience let you go to the stream after promising mother that you would not go. Charlie answered: 'I expect my conscience wasn't working just right today, mother.'—London Answers.

The Porter Won

He was a smart young traveling salesman, and he rather enjoyed the fact that the hotel porter had directed him to the room reserved for members of his profession. "You're a porter, aren't you?" said the salesman. "Yes, but what's that got to do with you?" "I was only wondering what your line was; what you carried." Seeing an opening for smartness, the young man said: "O, it wouldn't interest you. I deal in brains." "You ought," replied the porter, "to carry samples."

Today's Word

Today's word is "palpable." It's pronounced—pal-pa-ble, with accent on the first syllable. It means—capable of being touched or felt; perceptible to the touch; plain, distinct, obvious, readily perceived. It comes from—Latin "palpare," to touch. The Latin word being derived from "palpus," the soft palm of the hand. It's used like this—"Critics of Attorney General Daugherty's connection with the Moore case say that his supporters' attempt to answer by attacking their motives is a palpable evasion of the issue."

Cow-Killing Engine

A farmer sued a railway company for damages resulting from the death of one of his cows, the poor animal having been run into by a freight train. The engineer was giving evidence. The lawyer for the farmer heckled the witness on all kinds of technicalities, but kept reverting to his one point, questioning which was: "Now, tell me, was the cow on the tracks?" The engineer became annoyed and, having been asked the same question so often, answered: "Well, if you want me to tell the real truth the cow was bathing in the stream along side of the bank. But the engineer saw it, left the track, dashed over the bank, and landing clean on the cow, strangled it to death without a word."

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of The Lowell Sun:

My Dear Editor: Would you allow me space in your paper to state that the Volunteers of America are in no way connected with the Salvation Army, and people giving their money to the Volunteers, whom I understand are making a canvass of Lowell at the present time, do not help our organization.

It seems as though every time the Salvation Army puts on a drive in Lowell that the Volunteers of America come to our city and solicit funds during the time the Salvation Army is going on a canvass of Lowell. Our work is in full Salvation Army uniforms when calling on the public, and I am very sincerely yours, MARK ARNOLD, Jr., 106 Appleton St., Lowell, Mass.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Members of the Yankee Division—and there are many in this city—will be interested to know that a blue and white insignia has replaced the familiar YD on the uniform of Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, former commander of the 26th. The insignia is a blue circle on a white background which the "Daddy of the 26th" now wears. Some people thought this was the insignia worn by general officers only, but I am told that it is the new insignia of the First Army Corps area which the former commander is now wearing.

The mountains or the seashore is the question that is bothering most of us now as the vacation season draws near. You will meet some who will say, "Go to the mountains by all means. You will have the best time. There is nothing like a mountain vacation for a real good rest and plenty of fun." Tight around the next corner you will meet another who will say: "Why the seashore is the only place to go for a real rest." So there you are. Both places have their backers and boosters. As we see it, you can get a fine rest in the mountains and an equally good rest at the seashore. A sunburn can be obtained at either place or a gentleman, which seems to be one of the desires of all vacationists.

The race for first honors in the popular player contest being conducted by Frank Ricard among the members of the Lowell Twilight League seems to be warming up quite a bit now that the season is fairly underway. Mr. Ricard will have his contest with him again the most popular attraction, outside the playing of the games, connected with the season. The Central street merchant reports that votes are coming in faster than last season and more are on hand now than at this time last year. The voters evidently believe in getting an early start. Most everyone knows that The Sun is the only paper in Lowell which carries Ricard's vote. It is printed each night in all three issues. The only other possible way to get coupons is at Ricard's store.

Thomas R. Atkinson, newly appointed superintendent of police, in years ago will look back upon that Saturday as a red letter day in his career. From the moment he stepped into the station shortly after 9 o'clock until he left late at night, he received congratulations from many parts of the city. Some people called in person while those unable to call used the telephone. The first man to congratulate the new chief was his now right-hand-man, Deputy Chief Hugh Downey. In the warm handshakes and the few words that passed between the two men, there was a deeper meaning than to handshakes and words could convey. Chief Atkinson stepped into his office to be interviewed by newspapermen a few minutes later. While standing there conversing, Fred Colter, superintendent of the chauffeurs, stuck his head in the door and said, "Telephone, chief." For just the slightest fraction of a second, Atkinson forgot that he was a chief. Then he remembered that he was a chief and picked up the phone. As usual it was a congratulatory call. Frank Ricard, president of the Lowell Advertising club and head of the Retail Jewelers' association, called in person and, on behalf of the two clubs extended his congratulations. Later in the day Chief Atkinson received two beautiful pieces of flowers.

Lawrence rosters cheering feats of Lowell athletes against Lawrence teams seems almost unheard of to most of us who for years have witnessed the bitter struggles and intense rivalry between representatives of these two cities. But such a thing really did happen and it was so unusual as to draw the comment of Lawrence newspapermen attending the game. It was during the hotly contested 11 inning baseball game between Lowell and Lawrence, in Lawrence Wednesday and which was won by the Lawrence team, 8 to 7. Lowell was leading by a score of 1 to 0. Lawrence had men in a position to win. A sharp hit went to the infield. A Lowell boy raced over, made a nice stop of the ball and retired the side. It cut off Lawrence runs and at a time when runs were mighty hard to get. Fully 2000 spectators were there and the stands rocked with applause for the Lowell team's fine work. One Lawrence sport writer remarked, "Well did you ever see anything like that. Lawrence rosters cheering Lowell." And as the game wore on, Lowell was applauded several times for meritorious work. And then when Lowell went into the eleventh inning and scored three runs, more than one Lawrence rooster was heard to remark, "I will be satisfied even if Lowell wins. The boys have surely earned the victory by their fine work." Actions and remarks of this kind are always pleasing because they indicate the cleanest kind of good sportsmanship. Rivalry is all right if it is the good natured kind, and if the axe is buried as soon as the contest terminates. While small in a way, the events of Wednesday surely show that the rivalry between the two cities is reaching a degree of perfection as far as sportsmanship is concerned.

The one time popular sport of dog-breeding and the rivalry which it developed seems to be returning once more in this city. On Memorial day the Lowell Kennel club held a monster dog show in the Crescent rink. While the club has held several smaller shows in the past, this one surpassed anything yet to be held. There were dogs of every breed shown at the exhibition. Visitors to the show were really surprised by the strides this organization has made in the past few months. Credit for the success of this organization in a large part must be given to the officers, but the membership at large has been loyal and worked earnestly to make every affair a success. The Lowell Kennel club will surely be heard from in a greater degree before many months.

Inspirations

BY BERTON BRALEY

I sat at my desk by the window
And gazed at the busy street,
And saw grim Tragedy limping by
And Victory, and Defeat;
And Age away and Youth aglow
And love that is blithe and sweet.

And a breeze blew in at my window
And whispered of restless seas,
While I set piano twanged a sheet
Of rol ling melodies,
And I said to myself, "I will make a song
From lyrical things like these!"

"For there is the whole great earth
Without!
And the busy and surging throng,
And there is a lay in each sight and sound
To make me a lovely song,
So it's easy enough for a bard to sing
Of life as it moves along."

So I sat at my desk by the window
While the world passed by outside,
And I started a dozen different songs
But my Pegasus balked and staid;
And the net result is this ballad here—
But you gotta admit I tried!

"WILD MAN" IN COURT

Savage Held on Charges of Assault With Intent to Murder Templeton Farmer

GARDNER, June 2.—John Savage, alias Sawigo, 38 years old, who was arrested in bed in a house in Old Park, Orange, last night, after a search of nearly a week, was arraigned in district court today on charges of assault with intent to murder John Templeton, a Templeton farmer, and with attempting to poison Templeton's stock. He was held in $2000 bail for the August grand jury.

Savage pleaded not guilty to both charges.

Court records in Gardner showed he was arrested in January on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

Savage is a native of Lithuania, and came to the United States 16 years ago. In default of bail, he was removed to Fitchburg jail.

KNEW NO LAW AGAINST MAKING WHISKEY.

PETERSBURGH, W. Va., June 2.—"I've been making whiskey for high on 40 years and this is the first time I knew there was any law against it," said Henry Hours, venerable resident of the Smokehole district, in Grant and Pendleton counties, when he was visited by state police and arrested today.

A native of the district proffered information to the troopers that "old man" Hours was running a still and had done so ever since he could remember.

Corp. Briner, who led the state police, said the episode was the beginning of an educational campaign in the Smokehole region.

JOSEPH WALKER FOR M'CALL FOR SENATOR

BOSTON, June 2.—Former Gov. Samuel W. McCall arrived in Boston yesterday to find waiting for him a letter from Joseph Walker of Brookline, pledging support for a primary fight against Hiram Cabot Lodge for the republican nomination for United States senator.

Walker, himself an avowed candidate against Lodge if no other candidate offers to take the field, will retire from the primary contest and support (he was governor of Massachusetts for the senatorial nomination.

McCall was not ready last night to state whether or not he will oppose Lodge in the primaries, but he made it clear that he does not intend to run as an independent candidate simply for the purpose of being in the election of a democratic over Lodge.

"I do not propose to break into politics," said Mr. McCall on his arrival in Boston yesterday afternoon, "until I have had a chance to get some of the Massachusetts atmosphere and look over the situation."

Can you see this, however: I have never run for office for the primary purpose of defeating anybody. Of course the defeat of somebody takes place in every contest, but the defeat of the other fellow has been incidental in my purpose.

"When I decide to run, and if I should decide, for the United States senate, it will not be as a sacrifice candidate for the primary purpose of defeating Senator Lodge."

"Do you think there is any likelihood of the democrats turning their endorsement over to you?"

"That does not seem at all probable to me," said Mr. McCall.

U. S. Expects $200,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(By Associated Press)—Announcement of Great Britain's preparations to pay this country $100,000,000 next fall as interest upon that government's war debt to the United States, had reached the allied debt funding commission only through newspaper reports, officials said today.

Payment of interest by Great Britain in the fall has been previously counted upon for some time by this government as estimates of receipts for the coming fiscal year transmitted to congress by Secretary Mellon contained an item of $200,000,000 as receivable from England in interest during the year.

of staff, by the cabinet and the introduction of the Earl of Dalfour into the conference are everywhere regarded as emphasizing the gravity of the Irish situation.

Southern forces have been mused at certain points along Ulster's borders with the apparent intention of invading the north. This, together with the new outbreak of outrages in Belfast has caused great concern, adding to the government's perplexities.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier is understood to have emphasized in his interview with the cabinet, the magnitude of the Sinn Fein forces concentrated along the border, and to have expressed fear for the safety of Londonderry.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional Irish Free State government, is said to have assured the government that he is in no wise responsible for this menace, which he utterly disapproves, and to have declared he will do what he can to remedy the situation. It is also reported that the Ulster premier is pressing the government to order the British forces in Ulster to scatter the Sinn Fein concentrations.

Another point contributing to the government's difficulties is the proposed new Irish constitution provided for under the treaty. This, it is said, temporarily overshadows the Collins-De Valera political agreement.

Reports are current that the constitution as drawn up in Dublin and brought here for submission to the cabinet is unacceptable.

Condition Election Panel

DUBLIN, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The Sinn Fein headquarters today issued the national condition election panel, resulting from the recent agreement between Eamon de Valera and Michael Collins, which leaves the present composition of the Dail Eireann only slightly altered.

The panel gives 65 seats for proponents of the Anglo-Irish treaty and 59 for republicans. There are only four candidates who are not members of the present Dail.

MANY KILLED EACH YEAR AT R. R. CROSSINGS

BY NEA SERVICE

NEW YORK, June 2.—Cross crossings cautiously!

That is the slogan adopted for the Careful Crossing Campaign, which began June 1 and ends September 30.

During that period the American Railway Association wants to educate the public to think and act safely first. Backing the campaign are the United States Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Highway Traffic Association, the National Safety Council, and numerous other organizations.

Tremendous increases in the number of fatal accidents at railroad crossings, in most of which automobiles were involved, brought about the campaign of education.

Accidents Increase

Since 1910, statisticians of the American Railway association point out, the population of the country has increased 68 per cent, while crossing accidents have increased 348 per cent, in fatalities and 652 per cent in injuries.

The United States Bureau of Standards has not yet announced the figures for 1921. But in 1920 automobiles were involved in 78 per cent of all crossing accidents. Persons killed (death resulting in 24 hours) totaled 1731, while 6077 were injured, 116 of the latter dying subsequently.

Here are the figures for automobile accidents at crossings:

Year	Fatalities	Injured
1918	2710	3100
1919	2871	3558
1920	3012	3977

Railroads are concentrating on public education because they declare that elimination of crossings is impossible.

Preventive Work Costly

There are 25,530 highway crossings in the country. Of this number only 325 were eliminated in one year. Each elimination cost $50,000, making the cost of eliminating all crossings $12,500,000,000.

The association pledges co-operation by the railroads in keeping crossings in good condition for travel giving reasonable notice of the existence of crossings and seeing to it that flagmen do their full duty in warning of the approach of trains.

The value of safety first campaigns is shown in statistics by the reduction in deaths from 1914 to 1917 to 2578 in 1920.

Safety engineers urge automobile drivers to form the habit of shifting gears into low speed at all crossings. This practice causes drivers instinctively to pause at crossings and also reduces to a minimum the risk of stalling on the tracks.

COTTON CONDITIONS REPORT ISSUED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Condition of cotton on May 25, was 89.6 per cent of a normal, compared with 66.0 last year, 62.4 in 1920; 75.8 in 1919 and 74.6 the 10 year average, the department of agriculture announced today in its first condition report of the season. A forecast of production was not issued but will be announced with the first estimate of cotton acreage in July.

Revised figures for 1921, were announced as follows: Area in cultivation at end of June, 31,675,000 acres; area picked 20,509,000 acres, and yield per acre 124.5 pounds of lint.

CHAIRMAN GARY MAKES DENIAL

Denies Other Members of Finance Committee Were "Rubber Stamps"

NEW YORK, June 2.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, testifying before the Lockwood legislative committee today, thwarted efforts of Samuel Untermyer, committee counsel to draw from him admissions that J. P. Morgan dominated the corporation.

"Is it not a fact that J. P. Morgan names the directors?" Mr. Untermyer demanded.

"Certainly not," retorted Mr. Gary. "Who does name them?"

"The stockholders," Mr. Untermyer smiled, and Mr. Gary smiled back at him.

"Who really names them?" Mr. Untermyer persisted.

"I'll have to admit and claim," said Mr. Gary, "that I do more of that than anyone else, and always have."

Mr. Untermyer then tried to get Mr. Gary to admit that he and J. P. Morgan together controlled the corporation, and that the other five members of its finance committee, which he had testified selected the directors were mere "rubber stamps."

"That is not a fact," said Mr. Gary. "The other members aid in the selection."

He then recounted how, last year, he and President Farrell had selected three directors who were elected against Mr. Morgan's judgment but against his wishes.

He said that the firm of Morgan controlled United States Steel, he continued, probably rose from the fact that the banking house "in a sense organized the corporation."

It was left to the late J. P. Morgan, he said, to fix the relative values of the companies entering the merger.

The older Morgan, he admitted, named the first board of directors.

Reverting to J. P. Morgan, Jr., Mr. Gary testified he had never shown any desire to dominate the corporation, and that he served merely as one of seven members of the finance committee.

Mr. Gary testified his corporation was able to deliver its products at $3 a ton less than its independent competitors.

He did not think the differential over ran as high as $5 a ton, as stated yesterday by John A. Topping, chairman of the Republic Iron & Steel Co. Mr. Topping had testified that the great difference in costs made it practically impossible for the independents to compete with United States Steel.

Mr. Gary conceded the difference in costs was largely accounted for by the fact that United States Steel owned more than 1500 miles of railroad connecting its plants with ore centers.

REVENUE AGENT KILLED BY TRAIN AT DEPOT

SAUGATUCK, Conn., June 2.—Joseph P. Courtney, employed in the estate tax division of the United States internal revenue department, and attached to the New Haven office, was killed by a N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. train at the Saugatuck-Westport station early today.

The body was identified by letters and documents found strewn along the track. Courtney's home was at Bloomfield, N. J.

Friends said that Courtney during the war was a captain in the air service and was credited with bringing down two enemy airplanes.

Hoover Confers With Coal Dealers

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Having obtained agreement among operators producing 80 per cent of the bituminous coal now being mined to restrict spot prices to a maximum of $3.50 a ton for the duration of the strike, Secretary Hoover was understood today to be considering a conference of wholesale and retail coal dealers to discuss means of insuring to the public the benefits of the price agreements. Definite plans for the conference are yet to be determined, it was said at the department of commerce. The general proposal is to obtain the co-operation of the two classes of dealers. Secretary Hoover was called upon in a resolution offered by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, and adopted today by the senate, to report the effect of the strike upon coal prices and what steps the government had taken to terminate the strike and to protect consumers from exorbitant prices.

Broadways Win Over K. of C. In Twilight League Game

The Broadway club, with many new players, won an 8 to 3 decision over the Knights of Columbus baseball team in last night's Twilight League game played on the South common.

As the game was late in starting it was possible to play but six innings, and with darkness of nightfall after the last man was retired in the sixth frame.

The contest was one of the best of the season far as fielding was concerned, as but one error was made in the entire game, this being charged to Second Baseman Daley of the Broadway team.

Both teams got away to fast starts and each scored three runs in the first inning. The three runs proved to be the last for the Broadway team. The Knights of Columbus pitchers, hold the K. of C. team in check. The winners got over a counter in the third and then clinched the game in the next frame with three runs.

The final run was made in the fifth inning. Gath, the first man up for the Broadway team, hit a single over third base. Gleason then followed with a one out, sending Gath to the error of the Knights of Columbus. The error of the Knights of Columbus was made by Sullivan, who hit a single over third base. Sluggers All—Thompson, Crawford, Rossman, Veach—Now Comes Clarke

For years the Detroit club has boasted of its sluggers. The Tigers' lineup always has included one of the players who have stood out prominently because of their ability to hit.

Back in the old days there was Sam Thompson. How that heavy center fielder was a slugger is alive and well still. Each year he takes a leading part in the opening-day ceremonies at Detroit.

When the American League came into existence Detroit was one of the cities of the Johnsonian client. That was more than a score of years ago. In the Detroit lineup was Crawford, known as "Whoo" Crawford. That title was conferred upon him because he hailed from the hamlet of Whoo, Neb.

One of the history of baseball had more form at bat than Crawford. His stance was perfect, his cut at the ball the poetry of motion. Crawford was one of those hitters who looked good even when he was striking out.

Crawford was a natural swinger. He took a healthy cut at the ball. When he connected the sphere certainly traveled.

I venture to say that Crawford, had he played in these days of the live ball would be pushing Babe Ruth mightily hard for the home-run honors. As Crawford began to slow up as the premier slugger of the Detroit club, Claude Rossman sprang into prominence.

Many of the veteran American League twirlers, who have now passed out of the picture, will tell you that Rossman was one of the greatest hitters they ever pitched against. He hit 'em on a line.

Rossman hit 'em on a line. Inability to throw, however, caused his departure from the major leagues when he was at the top of his game as a batter.

Advent of Veach When Rossman went to the minors, the Detroit club was looking for a replacement. The answer came in the person of Veach.

Loftus of K. of C. Leads Single Scull Race

NEW YORK, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—Interest in the gold challenge cup single scull race at Philadelphia tomorrow is intensified by the fact that two of the participants, whether they win or lose, will sail next week for England to participate in the Royal Henley regatta, the "world series" of British sculling, to be rowed on the Thames July 6.

Walter Hecker, American national singles sculling champion of 1914, and Hilton Brier, Canadian champion, will be the two entrants in the historic diamond challenge sculls, which will compete tomorrow on the Schuylkill river and then head ahead for Henley.

CHELSEA GRANGE The annual "Patriotic" night under the auspices of Chelsea Grange was held last evening in L.O.O.F. hall, Centre village and the affair was well attended. The evening's program was as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. G. Leslie Putnam; recitation, Master Lawrence Hale of Chelsea; drill by Troop 1, Chelsea; vocal solo, Mrs. G. Leslie Putnam; recitation, "In Flanders Fields," Mrs. Madeline Lupton; duet, "When Shall We Meet Again," Misses Charlotte Hyde and Agnes Brown, with Mrs. G. Leslie Putnam at the piano; drill by Chelsea Grange Scouts. A singing contest, using the national flag between the girls and boys scouts was an interesting number. RING HISTORY MADE LAST NIGHT

Jack Sheehan Referee for Young Flaherty as He Did for Latter's Dad Years Ago

First Time on Record, Says Veteran Referee—Avila-Diggins Bout a Bloomer

Johnny Avila won over Porky Diggins of Nashua in the fifth round of last night's battle staged in the Crescent rink by the bloody club. After warning Diggins for his holding tactics in the earlier rounds of the scheduled 10 rounder, Referee Sheehan of Boston sent Diggins to his corner in the fifth and announced Avila as the winner. After the bout Referee Sheehan explained his actions with: "I stopped the bout because of Diggins holding tactics. It wasn't fighting. The Massachusetts Boxing commission insists that the men shall fight." The crowd received the referee's decision well as many times it had done for just such a stop. Every boxing club is bound to have a blower bout in the season and this happened to be the Moody club's night. It was the first argument of the season which hasn't lived up to expectations.

The Nashua boxer made a good showing in his match with Avila, here several weeks ago and his showing last night was a disappointment. He seemed to be afraid of Avila's right hand. And then again, Avila didn't seem to be very fast. He looked over-weight and sluggish in the first rounds, but a wrestling match more than a boxing bout. Avila got in a few telling blows to the body while Diggins rarely counted heavily.

Parker Defeats Ketchel But the crowd got a good run for its money in the preliminary bouts. In the semifinal, Young George Parker and Young Ketchel of Lawrence put up a very fast rugged eight round semifinal with the honors going to the Lowell boy. This bout was really with action and hard hitting. Parker clearly won the decision. Although Ketchel made him go every minute of the way.

In the first round Parker hit Ketchel with a left hand swing and knocked him down. When the referee laid out for Parker went after him like a tiger. But to the surprise of all Ketchel came back strong and in a subsequent mixup sent Parker to the floor with a clean punch. In the eighth round Parker had a knockout almost within his grasp, but although badly was too strong, and although badly battered, stuck it out to the finish. Both boys were loudly applauded by the slim crowd.

Young Flaherty Makes Good Martin Flaherty, Jr., surely proved a chip of the old block when he won in the third round over the little Mack of New York. Referee Sheehan stopped the bout when Mack was helpless and unable to continue. The bout was full of action while it lasted. Flaherty was a coming boxer and one able to hit hard. To express his joy at the victory Daddy Flaherty, who sat behind his son, jumped to the ring at the conclusion of the bout and planted a big kiss on his son's forehead. His action brought forth a storm of applause.

In the first preliminary, Jimmie Manning of Boston was awarded a six round decision over Young Hancock of Lawrence. Manning's lead was slight.

Ring History When Referee Sheehan left the ring at the conclusion of the Flaherty-Mack bout he made the remark that he had also refereed in bouts in which Macky Flaherty, Sr. had taken part and that to his knowledge Mack was the first time in ring history that such a coincidence was recorded. Referee Sheehan was favorably impressed with the work of Young Flaherty.

It was announced that Young George Gardner and Phiney Boyle had been re-matched for a 10 round bout on next Thursday night.

After a long layoff in the boxing field, the Army A. A. of Boston, will throw open its doors to the boxing public with a smashing all star card which features Irish Johnny Curtin against Abe Friedman, Pete Hartley and Johnny Clinton. The card is headed by rouser, Mickey Travers and Tommy Noble of England and Billy Carney and Pete Hebing, the Belgian fighter, will complete the bill.

Braves Defeat World Champs Fillingim Pitches Tribe to Victory at Boston—Cardinals Beat Pirates

Sisler Wins Game for the Browns in 12th Inning—Yanks Trim Red Sox

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Giants lost to the Braves at Boston last night when Fillingim pitched against whom they romped at the Polo Grounds a few days ago, was in form. The lovely Braves saved themselves from a cellar trip 2 to 0.

Jack Fournier of St. Louis, helped himself to a homer which defeated Pittsburgh, and instead of being tied for third place, with the Dodgers to play, the Cardinals have the place all to themselves. Pittsburgh's hold on second place was weakened a trifle.

The Reds battled Alexander hard in early innings and defeated the Cubs, 5 to 1. Luque the Red moundsman, hurled effectively.

The St. Louiser over a fruitful hitter, singled in the 12th frame of a thrilling contest with the White Sox and drove Shorten in with the winning Brown run.

Connolly, connecting for a long triple, drove in the two runs that brought victory for the Yankees in a hard fought game with the Boston Red Sox.

The Sox, by virtue of Babe's three sacker, counted his sixth successive victory of the season. Rip Collins, a former Yankee, opposed Bush, a former Red Sox, in the mound.

Sneaker's Indians, with good hitting by Uhl, bunched their hits on the Detroit pitchers and won, 5 to 3.

Wilmington High Wins The Wilmington high school baseball team defeated the Chelmsford high aggregation on the Chelmsford grounds yesterday afternoon, the score being 10 to 5.

he wouldn't trouble to defend his title. Still more recently he changed his mind and decided that he would. Thereafter he sailed for Europe on this mission.

JUNIOR TWILIGHT LEAGUE GAMES

Some good games were played in the Junior Twilight League last night. In the first division, the Units defeated the Eagles and the Ramblers won from the Tigers. The latter victory puts the Ramblers in a tie for first place with the Pawtucket Blues, and they will settle the first round next Monday evening on the Woodward avenue grounds.

In the second division games last night, the Highland Daylights defeated the Buckhorns on the North common, the Belmonts defeated the Hill-sides and the Tyler A. C. won from the Willie Stars on the South common.

RADIO INVENTION WILL DIRECT FISHERMEN

By N.E.A. Service.
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Earl C. Hanson, radio experimenter, has added another product to his list of inventions.

HANSON'S LATEST INVENTION

tion of a miniature radiophone that amplifies sound for persons hard of hearing.

Hanson's latest is small enough to take up little room in a fisherman's dory. While away from the schooner the fisherman equipped with this instrument can hear signals from the mother ship, in spite of fog or distance.

The schooner is equipped with a one-kilowatt transformer, a motor generator, a "chopper wheel" to send out the signals and an aerial. The chopper wheel issues a continuous moaning noise which is caught by the receiving set in the dory.

The receiver not only catches the sound but tells the fisherman from what direction it comes so that he could row toward its source.

GUARD YOUR HOME AGAINST LIGHTNING

BY PAUL F. GODFREY,
America's Foremost Radio Authority.
Does a radio set add to the chances for fire which may result from lightning discharges? Thousands ask the question, wonder about it—and then let it go at that.

In many years' experience with radio installation I have never heard of lightning having actually caused the destruction of a building in which an amateur outfit was housed. But I have heard of many cases where fires were narrowly averted.

Therefore the one rule that all radio fans should follow is: Safety first. The precautions necessary are few and easily carried out. The sense of safety more than compensates for any trouble for a properly installed antenna forms a first-class protection against lightning.

Lightning need not necessarily strike the antenna to do real damage. Heavy discharges in the clouds even at a distance of a quarter of a mile may induce currents in the antenna of sufficient strength to overheat small conductors.

Hot Wires.
Where the wires connecting the antenna or ground to the receiving apparatus are of small gauge, or where they have been laid carelessly over the cloth cover of a table or along the dry woodwork, the currents may heat the wires to a red heat. I have seen this happen innumerable times.

When lightning actually strikes the antenna it may completely destroy some of the smaller connecting wires and if no ready path to earth is available, may take a short-cut through the woodwork, produce a great heat and set fire to the building.

Fire underwriters' rules, which should be followed by every one, call for the provision of a lightning ground wire outside the building and some form of approved lightning arrester. In some states there is also required a "lightning switch."

In nearly all states the lightning ground wire switch and arrester must be placed outside the building. The ground wire must be kept from the building at a distance of several inches on insulating supports of either glass or porcelain.

Instructions Free.
Detailed instructions for the proper installation of protective means are available upon application to your fire insurance company or a representative of the Little Underwriters' association.

A fire car now will save you considerable worry and inconvenience when the season of heavy electrical storms comes along later in the summer.

It may also make it easier for you to collect insurance in case of a fire due to other causes, where otherwise it may be impossible on account of a infraction of the underwriters' rulings.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL MACHINISTS EXPERT

Two pupils of the Vocational school, Louis Kochanek and Ralph Hanvick, have become quite proficient in the art of handling lathe machinery. A few days ago, a four-way flush-hydrant post, the property of the local fire department and valued at $125, was completely put out of commission when it accidentally fell from one of the fast-moving fire vehicles. The damaged flush was sent to the Vocational school for repairs and to the above-mentioned boys was allotted the difficult task of reconditioning it.

Energetically, the boys undertook the delicate work and succeeded in restoring the piece of apparatus to its original shape. The result was such that the alterations could hardly be detected; in fact, officials proclaim the flush in better working order now than at any time previous to the mishap. All this is credited to the young machinists, who labored under the additional handicap of a small lathe machine, the operation of which is the reverse of the natural order. Ordinarily the piece to be repaired revolves and the tool remains stationary, but in this particular instance it is just the opposite, thus necessitating greater care and skill. The boys were equal to the occasion, however, and clearly demonstrated the ability so characteristic of the majority of Vocational school pupils.

DISCUSSED BRICK WALL ORDINANCE

The council committee on ordinances met prior to the council session last night to discuss the new ordinance relative to eight-inch walls for two-story brick dwellings.

Councillor James J. Gallagher, chairman of the committee, wished to have inserted in the ordinance the proper proportions of materials used in making mortar and especially the provision that cement should be used in generous quantities.

It was said by Councillor Appleton that contractors are fairly well agreed that an eight-inch wall is right, provided that a sufficient amount of cement is used.

The other members of the committee are Messrs. Gallagher, Adams, Sadler and Gonest.

WILL RENOVATE OLD HIGH SCHOOL

The special council committee on public buildings and property, Councillor Appleton, chairman, visited the high school yesterday for the purpose of determining the need of interior renovation of the old building, to bring it up to a fair comparison with the new.

The committee unanimously feels that the building should be kalsomined, varnished and generally freshened and several of the stair flights need new treads.

The work, which would probably cost in the neighborhood of $5000, will be done this summer by the department of lands and buildings.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 2.—Speculative or selective issues continued to feature the stock market at the dull opening of today's session. Oils, chemicals and food shares again were taken in hand by pools. General cash, California Petroleum, Texas company and Producers and Refiners, made fractional gains. Independent steel ignored the prospective combination of Republic, Midvale and Inland, the only noteworthy movement in that group being a one-point advance in Republic, preferred. Virginia-Carolina Chemicals and National Enamelling, at gains of 1 and 2 1/2 points, respectively, represented the specialties. Fractional advances among rails embraced Chesapeake and Ohio, Lehigh Valley, Southern Pacific and Rutland preferred. Foreign exchanges were irregular, aside from further strength in sterling, which duplicated yesterday's record price of the past three years.

Call money opened and renewed into the coming week at 5 per cent. This is the highest initial quotation in more than three months. Further consideration of the intent steel merger provoked selling of Republic and Midvale at declines of 1 1/4 and 2 1/2 points. Lackawanna Steel also reacting. Cocoa Cola fell 3 1/2 points on profit-taking and some of the major rails were inclined to fall back. In the general list, however, especially among oils, motors, shippings and miscellaneous shares, higher prices ruled. Leaders of those divisions included Mexican Petroleum, Studebaker, Mercantile Marine, American Sugar and Sars, Roebuck.

Reductions in the call money rate to 4 1/2 per cent, the buoyant character of sterling and the creation of a new high record for the year in United States Steel at 103, a rise of 7 1/2 points, influenced active buying of a wide assortment of stocks. Early weak features such as Republic and Midvale Steels and American, Sumatra, de la Plata, vigorously, Chesapeake and Ohio, American Can, Allis Chalmers, Owens Bottle, Martin, Parry, Pierce Arrow, Pont, Lake Erie and Western common and preferred and Studebaker were marked up 1 to 2 1/2, these shares reflecting the varied character of the buying.

Extreme gains in two to eight points in California Petroleum, Pacific Oil, National Enamelling, Crucible Steel and minor rails, indicated the speculative character of the later dealings. The closing was strong.

Had Your Iron Today?

Let's Have Raisin Bread Tonight

HOW long since you've had delicious raisin bread—since you've tasted that incomparable flavor? Serve a loaf tonight. No need to bake it.

Just telephone your grocer or a bakery. Say you want "full-fruited bread—generously filled with luscious, seeded, Sun-Maid Raisins."

The flavor of these raisins permeates the loaf.

A cake-like daintiness makes every slice a treat.

Serve it plain at dinner or as a tasty, fruited breakfast toast.

Make delicious bread pudding with left-over slices. Use it all. You need not waste a crumb.

Raisin bread is luscious, energizing, iron-food. So it's both good and good for you.

Serve it at least twice a week. Start this good habit in your home today.

But don't take any but a real, full-fruited, genuine raisin bread. Your dealer will supply it if you insist.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Amundsen's Exploration Ship
Maud, Crammed With Supplies Sails Tomorrow

Two Airplanes to Be Used
in Investigations Loaded
Aboard the Vessel

SEATTLE, Wash., June 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Captain Roald Amundsen's exploration ship, Maud, crammed with equipment and supplies, is ready to sail tomorrow on the first lap of the long voyage through the ice floes about the North Pole. Captain Amundsen said today:

Two airplanes, to be used in meteorological and topographical investigations in the uncharted Polar basin, were loaded aboard the vessel. Captain Amundsen will join his ship at Nome, Alaska, leaving Seattle Sunday on the steamer Victoria.

Lumber forms an important item in the Maud's cargo. The explorer explained that after the ship is frozen into the Arctic ice pack—with which he expects to drift past the North Pole—living quarters for the dogs and huts for scientific observations will be constructed on the ice.

For days the explorer's feminine admirers at the University of Washington have been engaged in making candy for members of the expedition. Candy, it seems, is an essential in the navigation of the Arctic wastes, and Captain Amundsen gratefully has accepted the gifts.

As Captain Amundsen drifts slowly across the cheerless expanse of the Polar basin, from which no white man ever emerged, he will search the white waste about him for signs of the "phantom fleet"—the frozen company of lost ships that the Eskimos believe swung around the North Pole year in and year out, gripped in the inexorable clutch of ice.

Vessels have disappeared strangely in the unexplored Polar basin since the beginning of Arctic navigation. In one full sweep the hungry ice pack in 1876 carried off an whaling ship from the waters north of the American continent.

WILL INSPECT PAVING IN CONNECTICUT

The city's asphalt problem was discussed further at a meeting of the board of public service last yesterday afternoon, when representatives of a number of concerns submitted propositions relative to furnishing an asphalt mixing plant for use in the city. The board became somewhat interested in a form of asphalt paving, known as Amiesite and voted to go to several Connecticut cities next Wednesday to look over samples of this preparation. Hartford and New Britain have used it for $5000. While the board favored the proposition it was thought advisable first to take it up with Lewis E. Moore, consulting engineer.

The Traylor-Dewey Co. of Allentown, Pa., submitted a proposal to the board to do the necessary gunning on Central street for $5000. While the board favored the proposition it was thought advisable first to take it up with Lewis E. Moore, consulting engineer.

Supt. of Buildings Francis A. Connor called the board's attention to a dangerous condition of a portion of the street, between Broadway and Broadway, and stated that it needs new underpinning and flooring, but that the finances of his department will not allow him to do the work. The board voted that whatever work is necessary there, is strictly up to the buildings department and that the board cannot offer any financial assistance.

A bill of $126 from the health department for the feed and care of horses for the month of May was referred to the street superintendent for investigation.

Residents of West Adams street protested against the closing of that thoroughfare, but, inasmuch as the street already has been closed, no action could be taken.

The board voted to accept an invitation from the municipal employees' union to attend the annual outing of that organization at Willow Dale on Sunday, June 11.

The board voted in all Beacon street, between Sixth and Eleventh streets, in response to a petition from residents of that neighborhood.

MOB THREATENS TO HANG BASEBALL UMPIRE

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 2.—If Umpire Bruneau, who evidently has faith in his own convictions, is on the job today when Three Rivers and Valleyfield clubs of the Eastern Canada league meet, he may expect to step into a cauldron of boiling pitch when he leaves the field at the end of the game.

Yesterday Mr. Bruneau called some close ones against Three Rivers, resulting in the loss of the game by the home team and a close call for Mr. Bruneau, who nearly lost his neck. A mob of wild-eyed fans hanging rope with a net noose, waited for him outside the park. A squad of police escorted him to his hotel.

Harry Poules, proprietor of the local club, today telegraphed President Page of the Eastern Canada league, that if Mr. Bruneau officiates today, he will be responsible for the "mobbing" that he says is positive to occur.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM DARING RESCUE BY N. Y. FIREMEN

Mayor Says Maintenance
Money Must Be Provided
Before Building Opens

The mayor reiterated today that no plans will be formulated for the opening of the Memorial Auditorium until the city council sees fit to provide the money necessary for its maintenance for the balance of the year, which is approximately $20,000.

The mayor also said that he was surprised that the council did not take some action on the order last night. But Pres. Patrick J. Bagley comes back with the statement that he should not be surprised for he, Dr. Bagley, has stated publicly a number of times that he does not believe in the method of obtaining the money and in consequence, will not even read the order to the council.

The order as drawn up by the mayor, provides that the money shall be transferred from the overlay surplus account, and this method of financing the city does not meet with Pres. Bagley's approval.

The mayor points out that when the council, earlier in the year, transferred $10,000 from overlay surplus to the park department, it established a precedent and the council must be consistent. A similar action should be taken in the present case.

City Solicitor Tierney has ruled that the money may legally be acquired in this way, but in the same opinion, rules against the council's action. He is of the opinion that the council's action is a violation of the city charter and that the council should be held in contempt.

The law states that money may be taken from overlay surplus to meet extraordinary or unforeseen conditions.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING ACTIVITY
Ample proof that building activity has greatly increased in the city this year is furnished in the report for May of the buildings department and the summary of the permits issued the first five months of this year, compared with the permits issued a similar length of time in 1921.

For the first five months of last year permits were issued that entailed an expenditure of approximately $355,552, while this year the department has issued permits that have a gross value in dollars and cents of $1,115,332.

In the month of May the department issued 153 permits, for a total estimated expenditure of $231,555. Ninety-one of the permits were given for new buildings, including garages, while 103 permits were given for alterations.

ANNUAL DRAWING FOR VACATIONS
An event occurred at the postoffice today which is of more or less consequence to the employees. It was the annual drawing for vacation periods. The 70 or more carriers and parcel post men made their drawings this morning while the 40 clerks will pick numbers from the hat late this afternoon.

The manner of drawing is simple. A number for each employee is put into a hat. Then, in turn, the men step up and pick one piece of paper. The number on the paper entitles the picker to a certain position in the list. Those that pick low numbers are considered the most fortunate because they have the most ideal times. It does not make so much difference to the clerks; but the carriers like to get off during the hottest part of the year.

GALLAGHER FOR WIRE INSPECTOR
Mayor George H. Brown today made out the nomination of Charles L. Gallagher, electrician, for the position of city inspector of wires, which he will send to the city council at its meeting next Thursday night. He said that he has not made up his mind whether or not he will again send in the name of Albert E. Brown as a nominee for the position of purchasing agent.

Twilight League Notes

Young Francis Reagan, who pitched the "Broadways" to victory over the Knights of Columbus last night, is the son of Police Officer "Boss" Reagan, the latter one of the greatest baseball enthusiasts in the city. "Boss" was on hand to see the boy perform and he was busy receiving congratulations on the excellent work of the youngster. Reagan's performance will be greatly appreciated when one considers that while the game marked Young Reagan's debut as a twilight leaguer, it was the third pitching assignment the "kid" had filled during the week.

Louis Lord, the hustling manager of the Highland Daylights, is giving his many pitching stars crack at the box work. He has already worked Mulino, Hubert and Long John Smith on the rubber, and tonight he has Bridgeford listed to do the honors.

The Y.M.C.I. continues to add strength and indications point to this outfit being one of the strongest in the league before the season is over.

The champion Centralvilles and the South Ends are scheduled to play on the South common tomorrow afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

The Lawrence K. of C. team, now leading the down-river Twilight League, which played the Centralvilles of Lowell for the inter-city championship last season, will come to Lowell Sunday to play Ray Boy's Centralvilles at Spaulding park. The Lawrence team has greatly strengthened since last season and has not lost a game this year. The Centralvilles also have a clean slate to date and a hard fought game is expected. Manager Foye hopes to be able to have Whitney on hand for Sunday, as the latter is said to be rapidly recovering from an operation for appendicitis, which he underwent about three weeks ago.

COUNCIL TABLES NOMINATIONS

Mayor George H. Brown last night nominated an entire new board of assessors, as follows:

For three years, Edward P. Mulry.

For two years, Wilfred J. Achin.

For one year, Clinton P. Tuttle.

The city council immediately laid the table of names on the table, although Councilor McMenamin endeavored to have action taken upon them at once.

Other highlights of a more or less dramatic session were taken by the nomination of William H. Albert as assessor for purchase agent. The former was defeated 14 to 3, while the latter failed to get confirmation when the vote was taken with one councilor absent.

An attempt was made to vote on the name of Mrs. George F. Kittredge, the mayor's nominee for the position of assistant superintendent of state aid, but certain councilors deemed it advisable to refer the matter to the city solicitor for an opinion, as to whether or not the council has the right to vote upon a woman for this office, which is not mentioned in the list of administrative officers in the city charter.

Pres. Bagley called the council to order at 8:30 o'clock. Councilor Queenan was in Boston and unable to be present. AMOSKEAG MILLS REOPEN MONDAY

Every Available Member of Manchester Police Force to Guard Gates

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 2.—Every available member of the Manchester police will be stationed at the gates to the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co.'s Coolidge mill Monday when the mill reopens. Chief M. J. Healey declared in a public statement today in which he promised all persons desiring to work absolute protection from molestation. He stated that all persons who do not intend to return to work, to remain away from the mill entrances. The statement was issued after a consultation with Gov. Albert O. Brown and Mayor G. B. Trudel, and is believed to refer especially to a reported intention of the mill strikers to picket about the mill gates.

To Buy Stark Mills

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 2.—Rumored purchase of the Stark mills of Manchester by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. was confirmed today by officials of the International Cotton company, owners of the mills.

Neither International nor Amoskeag officials would state the purchase price of the property, but said that the Amoskeag corporation would take over the mills "within a few days."

The Stark mills normally employ 1750 persons.

Officials of the textile council announced that the strikers would obey the law fully when the mills open. Amoskeag corporation officials today said that there would be no attempt to halt picketing by an injunction unless disturbances occurred.

CITY IN COURT MONDAY

In anticipation of the appearance of the city in superior court on June 5, next Monday, in connection with the disappearance of the Nesmith fund, Mayor Brown has notified City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney that he is agreeable to the restoration of the fund next year by a special appropriation to equal the amount of principal and interest involved. The principal of the fund is $25,000.

The case has been taken to the courts by the Nesmith heirs, represented by Fisher Nesmith, in an effort to ascertain just what happened to the fund and when, and to attempt to have it restored.

In the recent report of the state upon the audit made of the city books and accounts, it was stated as a recommendation that the fund should be restored at the earliest possible moment.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Fine of $100 and Direct Two Months' Sentence in Liquor Case

Arthur Vlahos of 7 Bent's court was found guilty of illegal keeping and fined $100 in addition to being sentenced to serve two months in the house of correction, when he appeared before Associate Justice John J. Pickman in district court this morning. Counsel took an appeal in the case. Justice Pickman occupied the bench in the absence of Judge Thomas J. Enright, who was presiding over the juvenile session.

Changing a certain officer of the liquor squad with perjury, on the witness stand, defense counsel put a real kick in the case. Although a strong appeal was made by counsel the court made the finding of guilty.

This was Vlahos' second offense, having been found guilty of illegal keeping and fined $100 on March 11. According to the testimony offered,

SENATE TACKLES ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL

Chairman Wadsworth of the military affairs committee expressed the hope that the army measure could be put through within a few days.

Chairman McCumber of the senate finance committee in agreeing to let the tariff measure be temporarily aside tracked, called attention to the necessity of getting all appropriations through before the new fiscal year begins July 1. He also agreed to allow the naval bill to be taken up when committee consideration of it is completed.

Today's consideration of the army bill was expected to be limited to small and less important items.

GIVING PERMITS FOR BUILDINGS

City Council Has Right to Confer With Inspector of Buildings

An opinion has been addressed to the city council by City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney, stating that the council has the right to confer with the inspector of public buildings on the matter of issuing permits for the construction of commercial buildings in residential districts and stating also, that the inspector may legally withhold any permit, if, in his opinion such a building should not be erected in a residential section.

The opinion has been given by Mr. Tierney as the result of a petition presented to the council by Horace C. Page, et al., protesting against the location of stores at the corner of Westford and Wilder streets. The inspector of buildings held up the permit and when the petition was filed with the council, it was referred to the solicitor for an opinion thereon.

Embodied in his opinion, Mr. Tierney says that it is clearly within the power of the council to pass an ordinance restricting the erection or alteration of buildings for industrial trades or commercial purposes to certain parts of the city, or excluding them from specified parts of the city, or providing, or specifying, that if constructed in certain sections, they must be constructed in accordance with certain regulations.

Further the solicitor states that it is his belief that without delay a proper ordinance should be framed and advertised and in the meantime, if the council deems it wise, he believes it would be advisable to have an little delay in the matter as possible.

Tanlac Highly Praised by Mrs. John Marquis for Entirely Overcoming Long Standing Trouble

"I first bought Tanlac for myself but soon found it could be used to advantage by every member of my very large family, and it has been our only medicine for two years," said Mrs. John Marquis, 223 Belmont street, Manchester, N. H. Mrs. Marquis is the mother of 14 children and is widely known and respected.

"Nearly ten years ago," she said, "I began having indigestion and it soon became a chronic ailment. My appetite failed and even the lightest food formed gas which crowded around my heart so I could hardly breathe. I got so run down I had fainting spells and sleep was next to impossible.

"But I am free from all pain now, eat everything I want, sleep splendidly and have gained ten pounds. I will always feel thankful for the good Tanlac has done me and my family."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. E. KETTER'S THEATRE

"Orphans of the Storm," the Griffith production, in which the Gladiators are featured at the H. E. Ketter theatre, this week, holds no remarkable portraits—those of Deanna and Robert, Creighton Hale, portrays the first named, and Monte Blue gives the second. They are so remarkable in many particulars that one will bring them to mind long after seeing the picture. Both hold elements of great strength, yet they are wholly dissimilar. But two more days remain in which to see this wholly unusual picture, with the background of the French revolution, and unfolding the wonderful tale of the "Two Orphans." The unusually tall head-dresses worn at the French court at the time of Louis XVI. are shown to advantage in the picture.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Only a few opportunities remain for Lowell movie lovers to see May McAvoy in her latest success, "A Home-Coming Vamp," at the Merrimack Square theatre. Coming for four days: Rudolph Valentino and Gloria Swanson in "Beyond the Rocks."

THE STRAND

"Man to Man," the special Harry Carey western drama, which is showing at The Strand, has more real thrills than any other picture story coming out of the west. A stampede of 500 head of cattle is only one of the many gripping situations developed. Miss Du Pont in "A Wonderful Wife" is an absorbing melodramatic creation of the screen. The comedy and Weekly are also good.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked, and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the nutty mixture at home. (All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound.") It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

DRAMATIC RECITAL BY 11-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Miss Helen Margaret Simpson, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Simpson, captivated a large audience last night when she appeared in a dramatic recital in Kilton hall, in the Y.W.C.A. building. Her program consisted of monologues, selections to music and narratives, both pathetic and humorous. Miss Simpson was making her first appearance in a full-evening program and she did exceedingly well. She was ably assisted at the piano by Master William Hoyle, a pupil of William Heller's, and also by Miss Harriet Flannery, a pupil of Miss Blanche Perrin. She danced the minuet with her mother. Much of Miss Simpson's success must be attributed to Miss Alfredd Bon-dreau, her dancing teacher and Mrs. H. J. Corwin, her elocution instructor.

The program opened with a lengthy narrative entitled "Capital Punishment." For an encore, a brief humorous selection about "Dad" was given. The third offering was "Jimmy Brown's Sister's Wedding."

The next number on the program was contributed by Master Hoyle, who played the "Fantasie in D Minor" by Mozart. His rendition was excellent. Miss Simpson's next offering was "Tommy's Prayer," which told a pathetic story of a little crippled child.

The next number was particularly amusing. It was entitled "Mr. Brown Has His Hair Cut." As an encore Miss Simpson appeared with Miss Flannery in "The Minuet." Master Hoyle then entertained with a Russian Waltz and again was well received.

Miss Simpson's concluding numbers were "A Small Sister's Reflections" and "The Giddy Girl." Both were well received and as well received.

At the conclusion of the program the little star was presented with bouquets of flowers. Miss Flannery and Master Hoyle were also remembered for their excellent parts in the affair.

The ushers were Miss Claire Richard, Miss Edith Riley and Miss Harriet Flannery.

Women represent 65 per cent of the 300,000 persons engaged in the candy industry in the United States.

TO LIMIT STUDENT POSITIONS AT DARTMOUTH

HANOVER, N. H., June 2.—A move to limit the extra-curriculum activity of undergraduates at Dartmouth has been taken by Palaeopius the student governing body, which announced the adoption of a group system of limiting student positions.

The most important undergraduate positions are listed in group one and no student may hold more than one position in that group or more than two positions in group two. The new system is expected to prevent any one student from having more work than he can handle properly. The regulations adopted do not affect positions determined by natural ability, but applies in the main to non-athletic and managerial positions.

NO NEW PLAN FOR HARVARD ENROLLMENT

CAMBRIDGE, June 2.—Harvard college, considering the problem presented by greatly increased entering and how classes, has as yet adopted no new plan for undergraduate enrollment.

nor is it likely to be able to decide on a new plan for a considerable time, it was said at the college office today. The situation stands as presented in a statement authorized by university officials two days ago. It was added, but it was pointed out that the statement was composed of answers to several specific inquiries. This it was explained, accounted for the fact that reference was made by name to Jews.

Antwerp, Belgium, is the center of the human hair industry.

BIG STEEL MERGER IS ANNOUNCED

NEW YORK, June 2.—Thomas L. Chadbourne, attorney, late yesterday announced adoption of a plan whereby the properties of the Midvale Steel & Ordnance company, Republic Iron & Steel company and Inland company will be united under ownership of Midvale. The name of the new corporation probably will be the North American Steel corporation.

Terms of Merger

The terms of the plan were outlined as follows: "All existing obligations of the three companies are to be assumed by the unified company. Existing preferred, and common stocks will be changed into new common stocks of the unified company. "The new preferred stock is to have a par value of $100 per share, is to be 7 per cent. cumulative, is to be non-voting and is to be convertible at $115 per share and accrued dividends, and is to be convertible for 15 years into new common stock at the rate of five shares of new common for four shares of new preferred. The common stock is to be without par value.

"All assets of the three companies are to be owned by the unified company except the Nicotown plant (Armour-Making Ordnance and forgings) of the Midvale Steel company, which is to be transferred to a separate company with a capital of 500,000 shares without par value.

"Participation in the new stock will be as follows: Under the plan Midvale company stockholders will receive 75 per cent. new common stock and 25 per cent. stock in the company formed to take over the Nicotown plant.

"Republic Iron and Steel preferred stockholders are to receive dividends in cash to date when the new preferred dividends begin to accrue and 100 per cent. in new preferred stock.

"Republic Iron and Steel common stockholders are to receive 25 per cent. new preferred stock, which is to be purchased from them at $95 a share, and 70 per cent. new common stock.

RADIO MUSIC REPLACES DANCE ORCHESTRA

Dancing to music from the air has been taken up in New York. It's spreading to other places. Instead of its regular orchestra, the Pennsylvania Hotel installed a large machine shaped like a phonograph and tuned in on the Newark radio broadcasting station. Dance music came over by radio. Other hotels are copying this stunt.

Vampire of Lost Continent Turns Husbands to Gold

MARIE LOUISE IRLBE, FEMININE LEAD IN "MISSING HUSBANDS," BELOW, SHE CONVINCES WITH THE HERO TO FREE HIM OF THE VAMPIRE

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 2.—Somewhere in the desert fastnesses of French North Africa lies a hidden continent, the inhabitants of which have lived shut off from the world 7000 years.

There reigns heavenly y-clept Antinea, of form divine and eye hypnotic. A legion of vasaals protect her in all her ancient glory. Whenever a man of stately bearing and handsome face passes the desert at the bounds of her sovereignty, her servants capture him and bring him before her.

No man who has thus been lured into this hidden kingdom has ever been known to return until recently when one Lieutenant Saint-Avit of the French army came back to tell of his harrowing experiences.

Saint-Avit was accompanied by Captain Morhange when he entered the kingdom. While awaiting an audience with Antinea they were shown the Hall of Red Marble.

There, in surried rows, stood 24 golden mummies, such a former husband of Antinea. Antinea, it seems, possesses a process that turns the body to gold immediately after death.

throws off men—witness the 24 golden mummies.

Saint-Avit fell for her good and heavy as the saying is, but Capt. Morhange was the first man ever to resist her. That angered Antinea, so she slipped Saint-Avit a doped cigarette and after he had become woozy handed him a silver hammer, telling him Morhange was the only thing standing in the way of his happiness.

Saint-Avit croaked Morhange with the silver hammer—if he hadn't been doped he wouldn't have done it—and Morhange became Golden Mummy No. 25.

Antinea's lady-in-waiting had fallen in love with Saint-Avit. She helped him to escape after he had come out of the dops. She died on the way back to civilization.

You'd think after an experience of that kind that Saint-Avit would want to stay away from the hidden continent, but even at this writing he is on the way back to Antinea.

Of such fanciful fables is woven the story of "Missing Husbands," by which the silly American title is known the screen version of Pierre Benoit's "L'Atlantide."

This is the best picture that has yet come to America from France. It was adapted and directed by Jacques Feyder and is in every way superior to Louis Mercanton's translation of Sir Anthony Hope's "Pharos," which was also burdened with a silly American title, "Possession."

Feyder has told his story in narrative form with never a slip in continuity. Many of the scenes have been taken in the desert and are of surpassing beauty. The interiors are gorgeous and have been arranged with the three dimensional idea in view.

Stella Napierkowska, in the role of Antinea, may not cause many American husbands to be missing from home for long but she does present the popular European conception of a vampire. Marie Louise Irlbe, the lady-in-waiting, seems to be a better screen actress than Napierkowska.

REELGRAPHS
Snub Pollard burlesques the small town movie theatre in "In the Movies," his next.

One reel of "The Light in the Dark," Hope Hampton's next, is hand-colored. It represents the quest of the Holy Grail.

Two companies have been capitalized at $2,000,000 for the production in and distribution from Atlanta, Ga., of feature pictures.

Pathé has produced a one-reel called "Boy Scouts of America."

Icebergs towering 500 feet above the water are shown in "Arctic Spring," part of the next Pathé Review.

And seven-eighths of an iceberg is under water.

The convention unanimously selected Dr. Ganfield last night.

William J. Morgan, state attorney general, who led the fight two years ago against the state backed by the Non-Jordan league in Wisconsin, was nominated to run for governor.

The convention placed a full state ticket in the field.

The platform denounced radicalism

and attacked the stand of LaFollette in the senate.

On the prohibition question, the platform calls for "enforcement of the law."

One resolution declared: "The vital issue in the state of Wisconsin is to efface and forever eliminate the shame and disgrace that became attached to this great commonwealth through the display of Senator LaFollette."

"It was not true to his country in the time of its extreme need and pain. He failed to act when patriotic action was imperative and by his public utterance and open opposition to participation in the world war he has shown himself unfit to represent the state."

HOUSE KILLS AUTO INSURANCE BILL

BOSTON, June 2.—The house yesterday killed the bill to require automobile owners to take out liability insurance to the amount of not less than $2500, the veto on passing the bill being 90 to 104.

Representative Hays of Boston moved reconsideration and the fight will be renewed in today's session.

The bill, which was sponsored by Representative Mitchell of Springfield,

MERRIMACK PARK

The management of Merrimack Park announce a grand concert for Sunday afternoon and evening. The program is said to be one of the best arranged music that has been seen or heard locally in some time. There will be selections from our most famous authors and then there will be popular melodies with just enough of the "jazz" element to make them worth while. The program for the afternoon will be entirely different than the evening. There will be two well balanced programs under the direction of Professor Giffin with numerous solos introducing some of the latest and most popular music hits of the day. The afternoon concert will commence at 2:30, and the evening at 8. The Eastern Massachusetts railway has promised ample street car service and will run special cars to the park to accommodate all those who wish to enjoy this offering.

The time difference between New York and London is 5 1/2 hours.

Yes, that is just what Ida Delmo did. She was playing in stock in Portland, Ore. A few winters ago a small carnival

got stranded in that territory, and amongst the animals left with the receiver, was three elephants. Ida heard about this, and went to see them. One of the pachyderms was a baby. Ida started to pet it a little, and it wanted to follow her. She was so much in love with the little fellow that every day after her stock rehearsal, Ida would go out to the park and cuddle around him. It is just as well to state here, that Ida was born in Denver, the home of the Sells-Floto circus. Her success in handling the elephants in Portland gave her the idea that she would like to be a trainer. She wrote to the circus people and the result was as mentioned. She gave up her stock engagement, and went to work with the big out-door attraction. Now Ida handles the mid-get elephant herd, with the Sells-Floto circus, now combined with the Buffalo Bill Wild West show, and you will see her here Saturday, June 10th.

Blue Serge Suit

WITH EXTRA PANTS OF SAME MATERIAL TAILORED TO YOUR MEASURE FOR

$26.50

The reason why the average motorist carries a spare tire is for emergency. A blow-out, a puncture or stone bruise is liable to happen any moment. So it is with a pair of trousers, they stand most of the wear, and an extra pair doubles the life of the suit.

Lymansville Blue Serge of Rhode Island

I buy several pieces for spot cash. I don't claim these goods are $40 value—because I don't know by what standard $40 value might be measured in clothing. I do say they are 14-oz. in weight, twisted worsted both ways, absolutely wool, and no tailor advertises this make serge under $30 for a suit of clothes.

I don't care how big you are, if you can get through my door without blocking traffic, there will be no extra charge. I am going to turn these goods into cash in the next ten days. Every man should own a Blue Serge Suit and you can't find a better value than this 14-oz. material at this price of suit and extra pants of same material, made to your measure, while they last, for $26.50.

Lost Breath, Heart Fluttered After Slightest Exertion

Weak, nervous woman obtains "New Health"

"Some months ago," writes Mrs. Lizzie Corcoran, of 416 West 25th Street, New York, "I found that after the slightest exertion I suffered from shortness of breath accompanied with a fluttering of the heart. Frequently I would get a stabbing pain in my left side. I tried various remedies but instead of improving I became worse. My appetite failed and soon even the sight of food became repulsive. I forced myself to eat because I was losing flesh, but what little food I ate turned to gas and gave me sharp pains in the chest and loins. Then my nerves became so weak that I would 'jump' at any sudden sound, whilst my heart would flutter violently. I became thoroughly alarmed. My condition seemed indeed desperate. I almost gave up hope of ever getting well again. One day a friend called and, seeing me nervous and in bad condition, told me that what I needed was Wincarnis. But I had already tried so many things without benefit that I didn't much faith in her advice. Nevertheless, she persuaded me to send out for a bottle of Wincarnis and I began taking it right away. In all I have taken four bottles and I am amazed at the wonderful result. Words fail me to describe what Wincarnis has done for me. Where other remedies failed, it has succeeded far beyond my expectations. Today I am strong and well. And I owe all my renewed health to your wonderful Wincarnis."

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

John Collins, aged 2 years and residing at 42 Marginal street, was struck by an automobile in Marginal street late yesterday afternoon and received slight injuries, which were treated by Dr. Boyle. The auto that figured in the accident was being operated by Frank Evans of 20 Saratoga street, who claims that while he was driving his machine through Marginal street, the little fellow ran from the sidewalk into the path of the car, and was wounded. He had toured the world on the office of Dr. Boyle.

Catholics Flee From Belfast

or sources of last night's Central News despatch reporting fighting between republican troops and special Ulster constables along a mile front on the Louth border. Seven lorry loads of British troops were said to have been rushed to the scene from Newry.

Set Fire to Servant's Clothes
When a gang forced the door of a doctor's residence in the southern side of the city, they were told by the servant, Susan McCormick, that he was not at home. Thereupon they poured a can of petrol over her, and set her clothing afire.

She ran screaming into the street, where neighbors extinguished the flames, but not before she had been severely burned. She was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Heavy Firing Reported

BELFAST, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—Heavy firing between republican army forces and Ulster special constables occurred during the night at Dungoley cross, on the Louth-Arragh border. It lasted seven hours and it is believed three specials were killed. The border inhabitants in the vicinity have fled to Dundalk.

Firing also occurred at Colvaile, continuing for several hours.

In Irish republican army quarters it was stated that the republican forces suffered no casualties in either clash.

IMPROVEMENT IN SITUATION INDICATED

LONDON, June 2. (By the Associated Press.)—Premier Lloyd George will leave for Crickleth tonight, to open a war memorial there tomorrow. He will probably be away for a week.

The fact that the premier is planning to absent himself from London so long encourages the belief that there is improvement in the Irish situation.

Further informal meetings were expected today between Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies and Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann. It is understood the present discussions are covering principally upon the draft of the Irish constitution submitted by the Irish representatives, with a view to framing it in such a manner that it will not be at variance with the provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Although outward indications show little change in the situation, informed quarters are more optimistic regarding the outcome of the negotiations than they were yesterday.

SATISFIED WITH THE ELECTION

There seems to be a feeling of general satisfaction in the local Greek community over the result of the annual election, which was held last Tuesday, when Apostolos Johnson, a prominent business man of the district, was chosen president.

Mr. Johnson has been a resident of this city for over 15 years and a very successful business man. For a number of years he has been at the head of a cigar factory in Merrimack street, and he is also financially interested in other businesses in the Greek district. He is recognized as a man of sound judgment and a great many predict that under his administration the community will progress.

Some of President Johnson's supporters say that he has been chosen as head of the community at a trying time, as just now the community is involved in a financial tangle. A local bank, which holds mortgages on the community real estate, is threatening to foreclose and it is practically up to the president and his board of directors to raise the necessary funds to straighten out matters. It is believed, however, that the officials of the community with the sound advice of President Johnson, will be able to meet the financial obligations of the society and that within a short time everything will be all right.

SEC. ROOSEVELT AT ANNAPOLIS

Presents Diplomas and Welcomes Class of 400 Into Naval Service

Declares Graduates Dedicate Themselves to Life Not of Gain, But of Service

Today it was Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late president, who as acting secretary of the navy, in the absence of Secretary Donby, welcomed the more than 400 midshipmen of the class of 1922 to places in the permanent naval establishment of the United States. In doing so, Mr. Roosevelt impressed upon the members of the class—probably the largest class to be commissioned for years to come—that they were starting on a life service.

"Your career is the sea," he told them, "but your career is not simply the sea for your career is the sea and public service. We speak of the men of the navy as being 'in the service.' Those simple little words constitute a full recognition of the fact that our navy men are public servants. In embracing the naval profession, men dedicate themselves to a life not of gain, but of service. I know of no higher resolution than this."

Although congress has shown indications of cutting down the size of the graduating classes at Annapolis, Secretary Roosevelt foresaw no time when midshipmen would be abandoned. "Military and naval forces," he declared, "are of great value to our country and to the world's civilization when they are devoted to the defense of our rights and to justice among the nations. Our country's aims are clean and her ideals are high. Our joint strength, our arms and our armament have been used in the past and will be used in the future only for the defense of our rights and for the benefit of humanity."

"Navies and armies properly employed correspond among the nations to the law enforcement bodies within the various countries. As civilization is based upon law and law enforcement, so civilization is dependent upon the navies and the armies of the great, high-thinking countries."

JUDGE GOFF SEES WAR ON SOCIETY

NEW YORK, June 2.—Former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff yesterday declared that, in the present country-wide crime wave, "we have an actual war on society."

Justice Goff appeared before the committee on law enforcement of the American Bar association, holding a crime symposium in various cities, after Henry W. Taft, a leader of the New York bar, had asserted that inadequate enforcement of the criminal law constituted one of the greatest evils on civilization.

Justice Goff asserted accused persons should be brought to trial more quickly, as delay gave an opportunity to disappear and caused public interest and the energy of prosecuting officials to wane.

He also deplored the facility with which bail is obtained from bonding companies, and declared sentences should be imposed promptly after a verdict of guilty, as the interim gave well-meaning persons opportunity to annoy judges with pleas for the convicted.

Council Tables Nominations

Continued
Installation of 27 ornamental street lights in East Merrimack street, as an extension of the white way system.

The board of public service reported favorably upon a petition to lay sidewalks of concrete and edgestones on both sides of Quimby terrace and the order was adopted.

A similar report was made upon a petition for a sidewalk in front of 124 and 130 Riverside st., and this order was adopted.

A favorable report was made upon a petition for widening a portion of First street and the order for the work was passed.

After a favorable report, the council passed an order to lay a granite sidewalk in front of 757-759 Merrimack street, to replace a brick sidewalk, now laid there.

The board recommended that Emory street be laid out and accepted and the order attached was passed.

An order was passed to lay a cinder sidewalk and edgestones on a portion of Riverby street.

An order to relay a portion of the surface drain in Middlesex street between Black brook and Burnside st., was adopted.

$25,000 Mandamus Order
The council adopted an order authorizing the city to borrow $25,000 for mandamus paving. The order previously had been advertised.

The mayor nominated Edward P. Mulry, Wilfred Jackson and Clinton P. Tuttle for positions on the board of assessors for terms respectively of three, two and one year.

Councilor McMeniman moved immediate action. The motion was seconded by Councilor Chadwick.

Councilor Chretien opposed the motion, as did Councilor McPadden. The latter stated that if the names were not voted on separately, litigation would surely follow, for if a man should be confirmed it could not be determined as to who should replace on the present board.

Councilor Gallagher moved that the nominations be laid on the table and it was so voted.

Councilor McMeniman moved that the mayor's nomination of Mrs. Sarah Kiltredge as assistant superintendent of state aid, be taken from the table.

Councilor Chadwick questioned the council's legal right to vote on the matter and it was referred to the city solicitor for opinion without further action.

The mayor's nomination of Albert F. Hogue for purchasing agent was taken from the table.

The roll-call vote was recorded as follows:

"Yes"—Councilors Adams, Cameron, Chadwick, Chretien, Gallagher, Genness and Steaghs.

"No"—Councilors Appleton, Dagley, McMahon, McMeniman, McPadden, Moriarty and Sadlier.

Absent—Councilor Quennan.

As the vote was tied, confirmation was denied.

The name of William T. McGrovey, mayor's nomination for inspector of wires, also was taken from the table. It was not confirmed by a vote of 11 to 5, with one absent. The councilors voting in favor were Messrs. Dagley, Cameron and Chadwick.

HOW TO KEEP FLIES AWAY FROM LIVE STOCK

Free your horses and cattle from the torment of flies with COBURN'S ANTI-FLY OIL. It's the "fly dope" that keeps cattle good-natured. When used in the stable it allows the horse complete rest. It kills the dangerous blood-sucking pests. Anti-Fly Oil is a clean liquid, does not irritate the skin, nor injure the hair. It is easy and absolutely safe to use. This preparation has also been used successfully as an exterminator of chicken mites, and when used in the interior of hen coops, keeps the quarters in a clean and healthy condition. Freed from the fly and insect pest, horses do more work—cows give more milk—poultry profits increase. Light spraying with Coburn's Anti-Fly Oil does the trick. Gallon 75c, including can.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR THE POLISH ARMY

WARSAW, June 2.—The Polish republic has begun the unification of its armament which, it has been found, will involve the scrapping of the bulk of the material accumulated from various sources during the past four years.

The renewed equipment will be one more step in the transformation of the Polish emergency force to a methodically organized national body.

Purchases are being made principally in France to replace that part of the old material that cannot be used for the equipment of the new army which, on a peace basis, was fixed at 25,000 men in the last budget.

French officers are helping in the reorganization of the army, but in much smaller numbers than served during the campaign against the Bolsheviks. There were then 1988 French officers in the field; there are now 53, all told, attached to the army as instructors in the Polish military school.

CULINARY SCIENCE IN SCANDINAVIA

STOCKHOLM, June 2.—Co-operation and scientific management have reached the kitchen in Scandinavia. The calorie contents of the market basket are no longer dependent on chance or the persuasive eloquence of the grocer and butcher, but regulated by culinary science.

The annual congress of Northern Housewives' unions, attended by delegates representing some 50,000 Scandinavian and Finnish members of the National League of Swedish Housewives, the Danish Housewives' association, the Norwegian Home Welfare association and the Martha union of Finland, has just adjourned in Stockholm after a successful session where most of the modern problems of the modern housewife were deliberated and discussed at length. There were no theoretic or revolutionary measures on the agenda, only practical problems such as face any housewife any day of the week.

These housewives' unions have exerted considerable influence in dealing with servant questions and regulating market prices on necessities. Thus the Swedish league during the war and during the hard times following established co-operative stores and formed buying associations that exercised a strong regulating effect on the price level of household necessities, especially foodstuffs.

The congress just closed adopted resolutions to arrange for a vacation course of instruction in domestic science and other matters affecting the home at the Aas Agricultural school in Norway, where students will receive instructions in various household duties under capable instructors and will witness demonstrations of the latest methods of running a modern home.

Mrs. Agnes Ingelmann, president of the National League of Swedish Housewives, said in an address to the delegates that women nowadays have to keep in touch with politics, public administration and legislation affecting the home. They must get together, she said, and work for the safeguarding of the home, as for instance in its building and fitting up, in arranging home exhibitions and stimulating public instruction in domestic sciences and in establishing employment bureaus, libraries and day nurseries.

"Knocks germs cold"—said our druggist

"Mr. Perkins has an awfully attractive and up-to-date drug store. He says he selects the goods he sells as carefully as he fills prescriptions. He advised me to use Sylpho-Nathol.

"You'll hunt a long time before finding anything as reliable or as effective," he said. "I know, or I wouldn't have it on sale. Sylpho-Nathol knocks germs cold."

"I wouldn't be without Sylpho-Nathol now for anything. I used Sylpho-Nathol first in our sink. For months, it had had an unpleasant odor that we couldn't get rid of. I followed the directions on the bottle—a teaspoonful in a quart of water—and poured the clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution down the pipe. That ended the sink smell.

"I used Sylpho-Nathol for the garbage can. I never could keep it from smelling before—not keep the flies away from it. Sylpho-Nathol ended that trouble also.

"I never felt that our bathroom was completely sanitary. But Sylpho-Nathol disposed of that difficulty.

Sylpho-Nathol meets a great need for a household antiseptic, disinfectant and deodorant because it is free from the objections that householders have to ordinary disinfectants. Sylpho-Nathol is sure. It absolutely destroys germs and odors. Sylpho-Nathol is pleasant to use. Its faint, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is safe. Although 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, it is no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt the skin nor injure household things. Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. Just a teaspoonful in a quart of warm water, and it is ready.

Your grocer, or druggist, has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If he hasn't it, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

ECONOMY DISCARDED IN COURT FUNCTIONS

LONDON, June 2.—Economy is no longer to be the keynote of court functions at Buckingham Palace. "No more economy courts," as they were called, are to be held. These were established by their majesties after the war to set fashionable society a much needed example in curbing extravagance. The seal of royal approval has now again been bestowed on court trains. Indeed no woman can be presented at court who does not wear them. Of course as a man the lord chamberlain cannot presume to be an expert on fashionable, feminine dress, but it is one of his many official duties to lay down the rules and regulations to which women must conform at the most exalted of court functions.

That is one of the things for which he is paid $15,000 a year. He has to be a peer besides to qualify for the exalted office which is accounted among the political plums that the prime minister has to give away. The present lord chamberlain is in the top class of the peerage. He is the Duke of Atholl.

By restoring the court train he has earned the blessings of the fashionable dressmakers. But they would have lengthened their blessings if he had lengthened the train. Before the war three yards was their regulation length, while Queen Victoria didn't consider four yards too long. By the new regulations they need be only two yards in length and should not extend more than 18 inches from the heel of the wearer when standing.

To walk backwards before royalty in a train three yards long without getting tangled up in it, imposes a severe tax on the agility and skill of not a few socially ambitious women. Queen Mary is a very kind woman and she would naturally wish to spare her sex making exhibitions of themselves. Hence she was in favor of the shorter length for trains.

PLAN AUTONOMY FOR SCOTLAND AND WALES

LONDON, June 2.—A bill "to provide for the better government of Scotland and Wales, and for other matters relating thereto," has been introduced into the house of commons.

This action follows upon renewed talk in some quarters of "home rule all around." In other words autonomy for Scotland and Wales as apart from England proper, and is a direct outcome of the birth of the Irish Free State. Prime Minister Lloyd George, himself a Welshman, has indicated that he would not oppose a comprehensive home rule measure.

According to the present proposals, parliaments each consisting of two chambers, would be set up for Scotland and Wales. The lower house, in the case of Scotland, would be equal in membership to the present representation at Westminster and elected by the same constituency. The lower house in Wales would consist of twice the present representation, each of the Welsh constituencies being divided into two. The upper house of the Scots parliament would be elected by the lower house in accordance with a plan proposed by Lord Bryce's committee, and would number 36 members. The Welsh senate also would have 36 members.

Provision is made in the bill for joint sittings in the event of disagreement. Representation at Westminster is to continue unchanged pending the application to devolution to England.

THE PRIMITIVE CAPITAL OF ALBANIA

TIRANA, Albania, June 2.—The distinction of being the "toy capital of Europe," so long enjoyed by Cetinje, the old site of the palace and court of King Nicholas, of Montenegro, falls now to Tirana, the capital of Albania, whose regents, chiefs, boys, ministers and diplomats are beginning to congregate to set up the governmental magnificence of the new state, the last to be admitted into the League of Nations.

Tirana still burns off for light. She has no communication with the outside world except a wagon-road leading to "her airport," Durazzo. She boasts a market place and five mosques and has lately adapted an old building into a hotel called "The International Hotel." The government palaces are scattered throughout her winding narrow streets, which are lined with merchants displaying their wares sitting with crossed legs in the Arab fashion. The stores and houses, roofed with a red tile, are all of one story. Distinction is given the government buildings in the fact that they have two stories. All are old buildings adapted to the use of government by the introduction of a few chairs and desks. Each building has no more than six or eight rooms. The ministers enter their offices with great solemnity and ceremony. Orderlies and ushers stand at attention while the heads pass. Inside his office, the minister calls his ushers by an old-fashioned table bell, electric bells being wholly unknown in this primitive land. With stern severity, everyone addresses the minister as "Your excellency."

Diplomats have only a legal residence in Tirana. Minister Ayera, the British plenipotentiary, who has the unique dignity of being the representative of the only country to recognize Albania formally, lives in Durazzo making the trip to Tirana when state functions demand it. He also maintains a diplomatic residence in Durazzo.

MONUMENT TO GERMAN AIRMEN

BERLIN, June 2.—An imposing monument in honor of German airmen who fell in the war is to be erected on the summit of the Regenstein, a precipitous sandstone cliff 970 feet high, situated in a romantic spot in the Harz region. Field Marshal von Hindenburg has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the committee.

The Regenstein was one of the great strongholds of the "robber barons" of the middle ages, and figures largely in German history.

as his probable hiding place, was revealed by Cunningham, according to the authorities.

Arrest of Cunningham revived stories of phunges made by Ward at various tracks and his acquaintance with many well known horsemen and gamblers. One story was to the effect that Ward disappeared some time ago and that detectives quickly sent out to find the missing man discovered him at a race track near Baltimore.

Cunningham is of slight build and has black hair and a small mustache. He is said to have worked for Commander J. K. Ross, Canadian horseman, as an investigator of race track frauds and gambling rings. Commander Ross is the owner of the Barton. New York detectives are also searching for two well known characters of the underworld who have been seen recently in the white light district driving a red automobile. The police say the men are apparently in funds, although both have but recently been released from prison. Ward described the blackmailer's car as red and his general descriptions are said to fit these men.

District Attorney Weeks, who now has three groups of investigators at work, expects the Cunningham arrest to bring a sudden break in the mystery surrounding the death of Peters. The state police have entered into the chase, and agents of a private detective agency are also active.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Russo and Raymond Hill, county flagger print expert, planned today to visit a hospital in Stamford, Conn., where Cunningham was reported to have said the second man wounded by Ward was taken.

They declined to name the hospital or discuss the purpose of their visit. It was indicated that Sheriff Warner might accompany them.

Detectives are trying to trace an ex-pugilist and semi-pro ball player known as "Charley Ross" with whom Ward was reported to have had a fight at the Boston race track last spring. The fight was continued in a roadhouse near Baltimore, according to the story.

Investigators at Stamford STAMFORD, Conn., June 2.—Deputy Sheriff Fred Russo and Raymond Hill, a deputized expert, came here today accompanied by Sheriff Thomas J. Warner and several private detectives, to follow up supposed clues in the Ward-Peters case. They called on Acting Chief John Hammett and later Charles Rogers, who is well known in town, and Louis Natale, a taxicab driver, were called in for questioning, separately.

It is understood the search is made for one Joe Jackson, whom Acting Chief Hammett was told was brought to Stamford for treatment for a bullet wound in the stomach and two wounds in the leg. This wounded man was brought here in a touring car, and he thought to have been placed in a private hospital.

It is understood that James J. Cunningham, arrested last night, who has made certain statements in the Ward case, had mentioned a Charles Rogers but it was said at police headquarters that the Charles Rogers denied by Cunningham, Rogers and Natale to be the same man who this noon was being questioned. The automobile used to transport the wounded Joe Jackson is said to correspond with the make of a car which the Charles Rogers under examination has been recently driving.

when officers raided the Vialdo home, they found a number of men seated in a room. One of them was drinking from a glass that resembled a whiskey glass. A half-pint of moonshine was found under the table. A quantity of beer was also confiscated. Vialdo explained the presence of the moonshine by saying that he had a bad cold and that he bought it for that purpose. He said that it was not under the table as he had put it out of the reach of the children. He further testified that he told the raiding officers that the beer was sour and that they would find it of no value and would return it to him later. He said that he made the beer last winter. An analysis of the beer showed it to contain only a small quantity of alcohol and was not strong enough to come under the ban of the law. A number of jars and bottles were also found by the raiders.

In making his finding the court said that a man in a public dwelling should be allowed more latitude in the quantity of liquor kept than if he conducted a store but the fact that a number of instruments connected with illegal traffic were found was pretty good evidence. Also the fact that a man had been seen drinking something and the finding of the moonshine weighed heavily against Vialdo.

night, when the council prepared to act upon the nomination of Mrs. Sarah Kittredge. It was decided to refer the matter to the solicitor, as there was doubt in the minds of several members of the council as to whether or not they had the right to consider anyone for the place.

The city solicitor's opinion, however, D. C.

will settle the matter and undoubtedly by Mrs. Kittredge's name will be taken up and acted upon next Thursday night.

FOR POLICING THE AIR FITCHBURG MILLS TO BE

REOPENED MONDAY

Sec. Weeks Urges President to Ask Congress to Enact Code of Air Rules

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The commercial aviator who joined unbidden in the dedication ceremonies Tuesday at Lincoln Memorial has awakened a train of official reflection which may end in comprehensive national legislation for policing the air.

Indignant at the action of the Memorial Day pilot, who drowned out a large part of President Harding's address by circling low about the Memorial, Secretary Weeks has suggested to the president that congress be asked to enact a code of air rules of the road.

Other government officials have had similar experiences and the secretary's proposal found quick sympathy in many quarters. It is possible the pending measures may be so amended as to put a stop to indiscriminate sight-seeing trips over the heads of public gatherings.

Secretary Weeks thinks he has found a method of punishing the aviator which will not require congressional action. The department believes the offending pilot is a reserve army officer, and Mr. Weeks holds that he was guilty not only of disturbing a solemn public ceremony, but also of showing gross disrespect for the president of the United States. Departmental officials say that not even a court martial would be necessary in these circumstances to take away a reserve commission.

FITCHBURG MILLS TO BE REOPENED MONDAY

FITCHBURG, June 2.—The Park-hill Manufacturing company, whose textile plants have been closed 10 weeks by a strike against a 10 per cent wage reduction, announced today that the mills will be reopened Monday. The announcement follows: During the 10 weeks we have been closed, all of the eight cotton mills in this city and neighboring towns have continued to operate at the February reductions, and our competitors make day similar fabrics, where hours of work have not been changed, have also operated under the schedule adopted in February.

"Textile wages are settled in textile centers, not in Fitchburg with its small number of textile workers. We reaffirm our statement made prior to March 25 to a committee of our employees, that we will readjust rates to correspond with competing ginghams mills, if changes are made by them."

"So many employees have inquired when the mill will start that we have decided to open Monday, June 5, for those who wish to return. The United States laws assure protection to any who wish to work, so there need be no fear of interference."

U. S. BEST FIELD FOR AVIATION

GENOA, June 2.—Gianni Caproni, the Italian inventor and constructor, considers the United States today to be the best field in the world for the development of civilian aviation. He prepared and brought to Genoa a comprehensive program for aerial communication over Europe, but this will have to wait, he said today, owing to the limited financial strength of the various countries embraced in his scheme. "But in the United States," the Italian inventor continued, "civilian aviation promises to make rapid progress."

"The country covers roughly about the same area as Europe," and all the elements for speedy growth are present. I hope to contribute to this branch of American activity."

Germans are showing the greatest activity in Europe, at the present time, in the field of aeronautics, according to aerial observers at Genoa during the recent conference. Anthony Becker, Prof. Dukes, both German experts, have leased three airplane factories in Holland. The Zeppelin company is active in a factory on the Swiss side of Lake Constance, and at the same time has leased an Italian factory near Genoa and is organizing a company for aviation construction near Seville, Spain.

The chamber issues special invitations to the public to be present on this occasion. The ex-senator is expected to stay over in Lowell until Friday, June 8, when he will be available for at least three addresses before any business organizations or employees.

TO SETTLE $700,000,000 WOMEN ELIGIBLE FOR JUDGES IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, June 2. (By the Associated Press).—International bankers, headed by Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., were called in conference today with Adolfo de la Huerta, Mexican secretary of treasury, in an attempt to settle the long standing problem of the $700,000,000 Mexican debt on which no interest has been paid since 1914.

The conference is regarded as having at least an indirect bearing on the troublesome question of export oil taxes.

MEASURE TO AID JUDGES DEFEATED

BOSTON, June 2.—By a vote of 57 to 148 the house yesterday killed the bill to allow the judges of the supreme court to accept the increase of $2000 in salary, voted to them two years ago, without losing their right to a pension of $7500 a year at retirement.

The bill had the backing of a majority of the members of the judiciary and the ways and means committees, two of the most influential committees in the legislature. It had the support of the republican leaders almost to a man, and it was argued that the bill should be passed as a measure of justice to the seven men on the supreme bench who accepted their appointments with the knowledge that they would be granted pensions on retirement. None of the supreme court justices accepted the $2000 increase voted by the legislature of 1920, because acceptance of that increase would require them to waive their rights to retirement allowances.

Opponents of the bill argued that the $10,000 salary now allowed the judges of the supreme court, with $7000 a year pension, is sufficient compensation for the performance of the judicial duties.

MISS ROACH HONORED
Miss Annie M. Roach, a nurse, stationed at the Chelmsford Street hospital, in the Women's ward, was pleasantly surprised last evening when at a gathering of the hospital nurses and attendants, she was presented a beautiful traveling bag, the presentation being made by Miss Catherine Gill. Miss Roach is to sail the 16th of this month for Ireland where she will spend the next few months. Those present last evening wished the popular young lady a pleasant and successful voyage and she responded gracefully, thanking her friends for their gift and kind wishes.

YANKS RELEASE HARPER
NEW YORK, June 2.—The New York Americans yesterday announced the unconditional release of Harry Harper, veteran left-handed pitcher. Harper was procured from the Boston club in a trade last season, but was of little service as the result of injuring his pitching hand. Harper has not appeared in any of New York's games this year.

LONDON, June 2.—There is nothing to prevent properly qualified women from being appointed judges in England, and wearing the black gowns, big horsehair wigs and other symbols of judicial dignity, the attorney general, Sir Ernest Pollock, has ruled. He said: "Any woman who possesses the statutory qualifications required for the appointment to a judicial office, is equally with any man, eligible for appointment to that office."

TO KILL BILL FOR FIVE CENT FARE

MAKE DELICIOUS DISH

Another delicious combination of meat and fruit into an appetizing and wholesome dish is ham and pineapple. The pineapple serves admirably in supplementing the ham and bringing out its flavor.

Ham and Pineapple
One slice ham through center of joint. Cut pineapple cubes, 2 whole cloves for each pineapple cube, paprika.

Trim fat from ham and rub over a hot frying pan. The spider should be very hot. Put in ham. Stick two cloves in each pineapple cube and add to ham in frying pan.

Broil first on one side and turn and broil on the other. When the ham is seared on both sides cover the frying pan. This will draw the juice from the pineapple and the meat and fruit flavors will be blended.

Put ham on a hot platter and sprinkle with cubes of pineapple. There should be some fat and drippings in the frying pan.

Add one cup water and bring to the boiling point. Add caramel if necessary to make brown and thicken with one tablespoon flour stirred to smooth paste in a little cold water.

Let boil five minutes, stirring constantly after the hour is added.

NATURE LOVES BRIGHT COLORS
We see the truth of this statement in the varicolored flowers; the vivid songbirds, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why, in the rosy cheeks, the transparent skin, the smooth red lips of such a woman. And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The ailing woman is deficient in natural coloring, and does not even appear to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women, who long for glowing health will find that they, too, can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Adv.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Memorial day brought another chapter of serious accidents resulting from the large motor traffic induced by the warm weather. It appears that with the increase in the number of motor vehicles, in spite of all the efforts of Registrar Goodwin, the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, keeps on growing. Last year motor cars killed 193 children and maimed 3000 others in Massachusetts. Two years ago the number of killed was 180 and the injured, 2300. It is a fact that while the drivers in many cases were to blame, in a far greater number of cases, the parents of the children killed or injured were wholly responsible. When parents allow young children to run the streets at will they need not be surprised to hear of their little ones getting killed or maimed in street accidents. Here in Lowell a great many parents who work in the mills leave children under school age to run wherever they please during working hours. We see them on East Merrimack street, on Central street and many other thoroughfares in which the traffic by motor vehicles is continuous. The children romp at will on the sidewalks and frequently run across the street without a thought of the danger they undergo. Is it any wonder that every few weeks we hear of such children being struck by autos and killed or seriously injured? At a safety conference recently held at the state house, Mrs. James D. Tillinghast of Cambridge made an appeal to parents not to let their children play on the streets. She also advised parents not to send small children unaccompanied to stores, nor let them play marbles or other games on the sidewalks, much less on the middle of the streets. She felt that it would be better to pen them in the yard or even to tie them to the end of a clothes line so that they could not get to the streets, than have them run the risk of being killed at any moment. It seems that appeals of this kind are thrown away upon the parents who are most culpable in this respect. It is, therefore, up to the police to drive small children off the streets and to impress upon parents the responsibility of allowing little children to be at large on streets in which there is heavy motor traffic.

The Massachusetts safety council sends out an appeal for a general effort to reduce the number of fatal accidents during the present summer. It calls attention to the fact that there were 66 deaths from accidents in this state last June, and it points out three ways in which it hopes the number may be reduced this year. One of these has reference to the common offense of driving across intersecting streets at an excessive rate of speed. The law which limits speed in such cases to eight miles an hour when the view is obstructed, is violated hundreds of times daily in every city in the state. To be convinced of this, one has only to watch the autos passing along any street in the city that has many intersections. Many of the motorists pay little or no heed to the cross streets, expecting that the other fellow will do all the watching.

The safety council appeals to the police throughout the state to send the names of such offenders to Registrar Goodwin who will deal with them in a proper manner. That would assuredly teach them to be more cautious.

A second suggestion is, that playgrounds be opened as soon as possible so as to keep the children off the streets. The schools will close in a few weeks and then the children will be at large to enjoy themselves in play. They should have ample opportunity for amusement where there is no danger and there should be constant attractions to draw them there. The council furnishes interesting stories which if related to the children, will hold them for a part of the time and to that extent keep them off the streets. The third suggestion is, to guard against the hazard of drowning. Boys should be taught to swim under safe conditions and they should also be instructed in the proper pressure method of resuscitation. As this also applies to certain accidents in gas and electric light plants, the managers of these, too, may be interested in promoting this knowledge. Boys who want to go swimming should be attracted to the municipal bath house up the river, and even there, they will have to exercise care lest they get beyond their depth or become exhausted while swimming so that they may sink before help reaches them.

If all these suggestions and preventive measures were adopted, we should see a gratifying reduction in the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, during the summer. This aim can be accomplished only by having each individual do his or her share. Talk alone will accomplish nothing unless followed by appropriate action.

THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

It is important that New England railroads shall remain under New England management. To place them under control of the great trunk lines would still further handicap New England industries and, therefore, injuriously affect the interests of all the people who live in New England.

But this is the day of big combinations and the undoing of the smaller units in industries of all kinds. New England depends for its food supply and the raw material of its factories upon other parts of the country. It has the advantage of climate, natural ability, inventive genius and plenty of capital; but it has the serious disadvantage of distance from the coal fields and the supply of raw materials. The railroads have the disadvantage of being controlled by short hauls in which they have to compete with the motor truck and the freight steamers. That is one reason why our New England roads are in a very poor financial condition. As part of a trunk line system, they would lose their local character; but at the same time they would be operated to the disadvantage of New England industries. Here, then, is a big problem that calls for solution. It is one on which the New England industries must depend for their very existence.

Who is to settle these railroad problems? The stockholders who see their investment dwindling in value will be the deciding factor. They can save the transportation interests of New England; but if it comes to an alternative of that or sacrificing their own, they may be excused if under the conditions they try to retrieve their past losses. That is what they may be expected to do, regardless of any other consideration involved. The situation calls for active intervention by chambers of commerce and other interests that can exert an influence favorable to New England.

WARNING FOR GIRLS

From Chicago comes the report of a vice commission that makes some startling revelations. One is that the old-time hardened woman of the underworld is vanishing and in her place is found the young girl of 18, fresh from the country, who, under other, perhaps in an automobile, under some form of deception or else the victim of betrayal or bad home influences who, sought the glare of the big city and landed in the vice dens, where after a while she is caught and seldom a prospect brighter than an early grave.

The commission has found that a large percentage of such girls are from homes broken up by divorce or separation of parents. There is here a serious warning for young girls who may at some time be deceived into the acceptance of offers in distant cities or in places with which they are wholly unacquainted. Unfortunately many of them, from disregard of friendly advice, become the willing victims of men and women engaged in the white slave traffic. What is true in this respect of Chicago is true in some degree of every other metropolitan city in the country.

INVENTION PIRACY

Many large corporations have been built up on discoveries or ideas stolen from poor inventors. This form of piracy has been so widespread in the past that it is a trade saying that an inventor rarely realizes as much profit from his discovery as the salesman who markets it.

Who the market is.

The radio industry is in its swiftest climbing, constantly being improved. But the General Electric company and the Radio Corporation, according to a Wall Street Journal announcement, are refusing to discuss unpatented ideas with inventors. They are alert for improvement, but tell inventors to get their patents before trying to talk business.

It's a healthy, decent start for the new industry.

MEAT-EATING

Back in 1907, the average American ate 150 pounds of meat a year. This has dropped to 155 pounds a year. Meat-eating has been declining since man discovered that a heavy noon-day lunch tends to make them lazy for the rest of the day. It takes time to convince the heavy meat-eaters that when the blood is drawn to the stomach to perform a big job of digestion, it cannot be used in the brain at the same time.

On the other hand, especially among women, light lunches incline to become candy fountains. In solving one problem we usually create a new one in its place.

Who owned that barrel of tar that caught fire in the rear of the Stott block Sunday? How, or by whom, was it set on fire? Why, after it was first extinguished, did it start up again? Would it not be a good idea to get the fire marshal here to find out the answer to some of these questions and to determine, if possible, the origin and cause of the fire and, if it should come here, there are one or two other fires that might engage his attention as rather mysterious.

Must Stick Together

"Whom do you love best, Willie dear," asked the fond mother, "your father or me?" Willie pondered for a minute, and then, seeing that all the cake was gone, replied "Dad!" "Well, Willie," said his mother, "I am surprised at you, I feel sure that you loved me best." "Sorry," replied the young hopeful, "but we men must stick together, mum."

Verdict For Plaintiff

A young lawyer was so nervous over his first defense that he broke down in opening his case. His kindly colleague whispered, "Read it off your brief." For a time this succeeded, until he read the name of the counsel should avoid putting defendant into the box, as he cannot be believed on oath and has a long list of previous convictions." Verdict for the plaintiff.

Are We Growing Stupid?

People are not becoming wiser. Instead, they are becoming more stupid. Modern stupidity is not shown in little things, but in big things; people are stupid now in trying to fly, in trying to be gods; in trying to locate the fountain of youth in world betterment; universal brotherhood; flat money; shorter hours—having discovered the immutability of natural law, they declare with an impudent oath that they will change it.—H. W. Howe's Monthly.

Didn't Bother Him

Dicky and Charlie were told by their mother not to play at the back of the school building, where there was a swollen stream and plenty of mud. When they returned home at nearly a clock that evening, their shoes were covered with mud. Then mother said: "Charlie, I do not know how your conscience let you go to the stream after promising mother that you would not go." Charlie answered: "I expect my conscience was working just right today, mother."—London Answers.

The Porter Won

He was a smart young traveling salesman, and he rather resented the fact that the hotel porter had directed him to the room reserved for members of his profession. "You're a traveler, aren't you?" said the porter. "Yes, but what's that got to do with you?" "It was only wondering what your line was; what you carried." Seeing an opening for business, the young man said: "O, I wouldn't interest you. I deal in brains." "You ought," replied the porter, "to carry samples."

Today's Word

Today's word is "palpable." It's pronounced pal-pal-ble, with accent on the first syllable. It means—capable of being touched or felt; perceptible to the touch; plain, distinct, obvious, readily perceived. It comes from Latin "palpare," to feel, to stroke; the Latin word being derived from "palpus," the soft palm of the hand. It's used like this—"Critics of Attorney General Daugherty's connection with the Morse case say that his supporters' attempt to answer by attacking their motives is a palpable evasion of the issue."

Cow-Killing Engine

A farmer sued a railway company for damages resulting from the death of one of his cows, the poor animal having been run into by a freight train. The engineer was giving evidence. The lawyer for the farmer heckled the witness on all kinds of technicalities, but kept reverting to his one pet question: "Now, tell me, was the cow on the tracks?" "The engineer became peeved and, having been asked the same question so often, answered: "Well, if you want me to tell the real truth the cow was bathing in the stream on the other side of the bank. But the sign said 'left the track,' dashed over the bank, and landing clean on the cow, strangled it to death without a word."

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of The Lowell Sun:

My Dear Editor: I would you allow me space in your paper to state that the Volunteers of America are in no way connected with the Salvation Army, and people giving their money to the Volunteers will not be making a mistake. Our organization is making a canvass of Lowell at the present time, do not help our organization. It seems as though very many of the Salvation Army puts on a drive in Lowell that the Volunteers of America come to our city and solicit funds during the time our campaign is going on. Many people are making the difference between the two organizations and think they are giving to the Salvation Army.

The Volunteers of America are not a local organization, and have no branch in Lowell, but the money that they raise in Lowell is taken out of the city to support and help people in other cities that can far better afford to help their poor and unfortunate than we can. The money you give to the Salvation Army is spent for the benefit of the people of Lowell. It is turned back again to Lowell's people. Our organization is in full Salvation Army uniforms when calling on the public, and there should be no mistake.

Thanking you for this space in your paper, I am very sincerely yours,

MARK ARNOID, Adm.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Members of the Yankee Division—and there are many in this city—will be interested to know that a blue and white insignia has replaced the familiar YD on the uniform of Maj.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, former commander of the 26th. The insignia is a blue circle on a white background which the "Daddy of the 26th" now wears. Some people thought this was the insignia worn by general officers only, but I am told that it is the new insignia of the First Army corps area which the former commander is now wearing.

The mountains or the seashore is the question that is bothering most of us now as the vacation season draws near. You will meet some who will say, "Go to the mountains by all means. You will have the best time. There is nothing like a mountain vacation for a real good rest and plenty of fun." Right around the next corner you will meet another who will say: "Why the seashore is the only place to go for a real rest." So there you are. Both places have their backers and boosters. As we see it, you can get a fine rest in the mountains and an equally good rest at the seashore. A sunburn can be obtained at either place or a gentle tan, which seems to be one of the desires of all vacationists.

The race for first honors in the popular player contest being conducted by Frank Ricard among the members of the Lowell Twilight League seems to be warming up quite a bit now that the season is fairly underway. Mr. Ricard is sure his contest will be the most popular attraction, outside the playing of the games, connected with the season. The Central street merchant reports that votes are coming in faster than last season and more are on hand now than at this time last year. The voters evidently believe in getting an early start. Most everyone knows that the Sun is the only paper in Lowell which carries Ricard's vote. It is printed each night in all three issues. The only other possible way to get coupons is at Ricard's store.

Thomas R. Atkinson, newly appointed superintendent of police, in years to come will look back upon last Saturday as a red letter day in his career. From the moment he stepped into the station shortly after 9 o'clock until he left late at night, he received congratulations from many parts of the city. Some people called in person, while those unable to call used the telephone. The first man to congratulate the new chief was his own right-hand man, Deputy Chief Hugh Downey, in the warm handshakes and the few words that passed between the two men, there was a deeper meaning than the handclasp and words could convey. Chief Atkinson stepped into his office to be interviewed by newspapermen a few minutes later. While standing there conversing, Fred Cotter, superintendent of the chauffeurs, stuck his head in the door and said, "Telephone, chief." For just the slightest fraction of a second Mr. Atkinson forgot. Then he smiled and said, "His face as he picked up the phone. As usual it was a congratulatory. Frank Ricard, president of the Lowell Advertising club and head of the Retail Jewellers' association, called in person and, on behalf of the two clubs extended his congratulations. Later in the day Chief Atkinson received two beautiful bouquets of flowers.

Lawrence rosters cheering fans of Lowell athletes against Lawrence teams seems almost unheard of to most of us who for years have witnessed the bitter struggles and intense rivalry between representatives of these two cities. But such a thing really did happen and it was so unusual as to draw the comment of Lawrence newspapermen attending the game. It was during the hotly contested 11 inning baseball game between Lowell and Lawrence, in Lawrence Tuesday and which was won by the Lawrence team, 3 to 1. Lowell was leading by a score of 1 to 0. Lawrence had men in a position to score. A sharp hit went to the infield. A Lowell boy raced over, made a nice stop of the ball and relined the slide. It cut off Lawrence runs and at a time when runs were mighty hard to get. Fully 2000 spectators were there and the stands rocked with applause for the Lowell team's fine work. One Lawrence sport writer remarked, "Well did you ever see anything like that. Lawrence rosters cheering Lowell." And as the game wore on, Lowell was applauded several times for meritorious work. And then when Lowell went into the eleventh inning and scored three runs, more than one Lawrence rooster was heard to remark, "I will be satisfied even if Lowell wins. The boys have surely earned the victory by their fine work." Actions and remarks of this kind are always pleasing because they indicate the cleanest kind of good sportsmanship. Rivalry is all right, if it is the good natured kind, and if the axe is buried as soon as the contest terminates. While small in a way, the events of Wednesday surely show that the rivalry between the two cities is reaching a degree of perfection as far as sportsmanship is concerned.

The one time popular sport of dog-breeding and the rivalry which it developed seems to be returning once more in this city. On Memorial day the Lowell Kennel club held a monster dog show in the Crescent rink. While the club has held several smaller shows in the past, this one surpassed anything yet to be held. There were dogs of every breed shown at the exhibition. Visitors to the show were really surprised by the strides this organization has made in the past few months. Credit for the success of this organization to a large part must be given to the officers, but the membership at large has been loyal and worked earnestly to make every effort a success. The Lowell Kennel club will surely be heard from in a greater degree before many months.

Inspirations

BY BERTON BRALEY

I sat at my desk by the window
And gazed at the busy street,
And saw grim tragedy limping by,
And Victory, and Defeat;
And Age weary and Youth glow
And love that is blithe and sweet.

And a breeze blew in at my window
And whispered of restless seas,
While a soft piano twanged a waltz
Of rollicking melodies,
And I said to myself, "I will make a song
From lyrical things like these!"

without
And the busy and surging throng,
And there is a joy in each sight and sound
To make me a lovely song:
So it's easy enough for a bard to sing
Of life, as it moves along."

So I sat at my desk by the window
While the world passed by outside,
And I started a dozen different songs
But my Pegasus balked and shied;
And the net result is this: here—
But you gotta admit I tried!

"WILD MAN" IN COURT

Savage Held on Charges of Assault With Intent to Murder Templeton Farmer

GARDNER, June 2.—John Savage, 38 years old, who was arrested in bed in a house in Old Park, Orange, last night, after a search of nearly a week, was arraigned in district court today on charges of assault with intent to murder John Templeton, a farmer, and with attempting to poison Templeton's stock. He was held in $2000 bail for the August grand jury.

Savage pleaded not guilty to both charges. Court records in Gardner showed he was arrested in January on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

Savage is a native of Lithuania, and came to the United States 15 years ago. In default of bail, he was removed to Fitchburg Jail.

NEW NO LAW AGAINST MAKING WHISKEY

PETERSBURGH, W. Va., June 2.—"I've been making whiskey for nigh on 40 years and this is the first time I know there was any law against it," said Henry Housa, venerable resident of the Smokehouse district, in Grant and Pendleton counties, when he was visited by state police and arrested today.

A native of the district proffered information to the troopers that "old man" Housa was running a still and had done so ever since he could remember. Dr. Briner, who led the state policemen, said the episode was the beginning of an educational campaign in the Smokehouse region.

Frankie Burns Pulls Man From Thames—Latter's Companion Drowned

LONDON, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Awakened last night by cries for help, Frankie Burns, Australian middleweight champion, rescued a man from the Thames river, where he saw a capsize canoe, and two men struggling in midstream. Burns rescued one. The other sank before he could reach him.

HALF OF HAMLET SWEEP AWAY BY FIRE

CURLING, N. F., June 2.—Forest fires fanned by gales of high velocity swept away half the hamlet of Woody Point at Bonno Bay, yesterday. Several business places were wiped out. The village is frequented during the fishing season by American crews. The fire destroyed a large stretch of standing timber at Bay of Islands but touched no houses there.

WAGE CUT IN SHOE FACTORIES

BROCKTON, June 2.—The Brockton Shoemakers' association and the Brockton Local, Boot and Shoe Workers' union, have been notified by a board of arbitration of a decision cutting the wages of piecework workers 10 per cent in 28 factories in Brockton, effective June 1. The reduction will be extended to most of the factories in the Old Colony district and will affect the wage of 550 piecework workers. Independent factories will receive the benefit by concession by the union. This decision completes the 10 per cent wage reduction in all branches in the industry of the Brockton district. Other branches were cut by the general decision dated March 13.

JOSEPH WALKER FOR McCALL FOR SENATOR

BOSTON, June 2.—Former Gov. Samuel W. McCall arrived in Boston yesterday to find waiting for him a letter from Joseph Walker of Brookline, pledging support for a primary fight against Henry Cabot Lodge for the republican nomination for United States senator.

Walker, himself an avowed candidate against Lodge if no other candidate offers to take the field, will retire from the primary contest and support the war governor of Massachusetts for the senate of unionism.

McCall was not ready last night to state whether or not he will oppose Lodge in the primaries, but he made it clear that he does not intend to run as an independent candidate simply for the purpose of aiding in the election of a democrat over Lodge.

"I do not propose to break into politics," said Mr. McCall on his arrival in Boston yesterday afternoon, "until I have had a chance to get some of the Massachusetts atmosphere and look over the situation."

"I can say this, however: I have never run for office for the primary purpose of defeating anybody. Of course the defeat of somebody takes place in every contest, but the defeat of the other fellow has been incidental in my purpose."

"When I decide to run, and if I should decide for the United States senate, it will not be as a sacrifice candidate for the primary purpose of defeating Senator Lodge."

"Does that mean that you will not run as an independent candidate on election day?" the former governor was asked.

"If an independent candidate I would be little more than a side show," replied Mr. McCall, "because of course the democrats will nominate."

"Do you think there is any likelihood of the democrats turning their endorsement over to you?"

"That does not seem at all probable to me," said Mr. McCall.

U. S. Expects $200,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(By Associated Press)—Announcement of Great Britain's preparations to pay this country $100,000,000 next fall as interest upon that government's war debt to the United States, had reached the allied debt funding commission only through newspaper reports, officials said today.

Payment of interest by Great Britain in the fall has been apparently counted upon for some time by this government as estimates of receipts for the coming fiscal year transmitted to congress by Secretary Mellon contained an item of $200,000,000 as receivable from England in interest during the year.

War This Week or the Next

of staff, by the cabinet and the introduction of the Earl of Balfour into the conference are everywhere regarded as emphasizing the gravity of the Irish situation.

Southern forces have been massed at certain points along Ulster's borders with the apparent intention of invading the north. This, together with the new outbreak of outrages in Belfast has caused great concern, adding to the government's perplexities.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier is understood to have emphasized in his interview with the cabinet, the magnitude of the Sinn Fein forces concentrated along the border, and to have expressed fear for the safety of Londonderry.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional Irish Free State government, is said to have assured the government that he is in no wise responsible for this menace, which he utterly disapproves, and to have declared he will do what he can to remedy the situation. It is also reported that the Ulster premier is pressing the government to order the British forces in Ulster to scatter the Sinn Fein concentrations.

Another point contributing to the government's difficulties is the proposed new Irish constitution provided for under the treaty. This, it is said, temporarily overshadows the Collins-Vaughan political agreement.

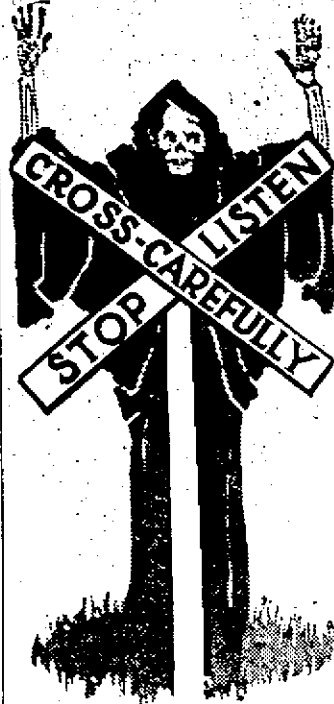

Reports are current that the constitution as drawn up in Dublin and brought here for submission to the cabinet is unacceptable.

Coalition Election Panel

DUBLIN, June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The Sinn Fein headquarters today issued the national coalition election panel, resulting from the recent agreement between Eamon de Valera and Michael Collins, which governs the present composition of the Dail Bireann only slightly altered.

The panel gives 66 seats for proponents of the Anglo-Irish treaty and 30 for opponents. There are only four candidates who are not members of the present Dail.

Independents probably will contest 24 constituencies. The Irish farmers' union has between 20 and 20 candidates ready, the labor nominees number 20 and half a dozen candidates will run in the cities of Dublin, Cork and Limerick on behalf of business interests.

MANY KILLED EACH YEAR AT R. R. CROSSINGS

BY NEA SERVICE

NEW YORK, June 2.—Cross crossings cautiously!

That is the slogan adopted for the Careful Crossing Campaign, which began June 1 and ends September 30.

During that period the American Railway Association wants to educate the public to think and act safely. Backing the campaign are the United States Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Highway Traffic Association, the National Safety Council, and numerous other organizations.

Tremendous increases in the number of fatal accidents at railroad crossings, in most of which automobiles were involved, brought about the campaign of education.

Accidents Increase

Since 1910, statisticians of the American Railway Association point out, the population of the country has increased 68 per cent, while crossing accidents have increased 345 per cent. In fatalities and 652 per cent in injuries.

The United States Bureau of Standards has just announced the figures for 1921. But in 1920 automobiles were involved in 76 per cent of all crossing accidents. Persons killed (death resulting in 24 hours) totaled 1791, while 5077 were injured, 116 of the latter dying subsequently.

Here are the figures for automobile accidents at crossings:

Year	Accidents	Killed	Injured
1918	2270	1131	3109
1919	2571	1232	3533
1920	3012	1273	3977

Railroads are concentrating on public education because they feel that total elimination of crossings is impossible.

Preventive Work Costly

There are 251,233 highway crossings in the country. Of this number only 393 were eliminated in one year. Each elimination cost $50,000, making the cost of eliminating all crossings $12,600,000.

The association pledges co-operation by the railroad in keeping crossings in good condition, in giving reasonable notice of the existence of crossings and seeing to it that flagmen do their full duty in warning of the approach of trains.

The value of safety first campaigns is shown by railroad officials say by the reduction in deaths from 1914 to 1921 to 2578 in 1920.

Safety engineers urge automobile drivers to form the habit of shifting gears into low speed at all crossings. This practice causes drivers instinctively to slow down, and also reduces to a minimum the risk of stalling on the tracks.

COTTON CONDITIONS REPORT ISSUED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Condition of cotton on May 25, was 69.8 per cent of a normal, compared with 68.0 last year, or 62.1 in 1920; in 1919 and 1918 the 10 year average, the department of agriculture announced today in its first condition report of the season. A forecast of production was not issued but will be announced with the first estimate of cotton acreage in July.

Revised figures for 1921, were announced as follows: Area in cultivation at end of June, 81,678,000 acres; area picked 30,608,000 acres, and yield per acre 121.5 pounds of lint.

CHAIRMAN GARY MAKES DENIAL

Denies Other Members of Finance Committee Were "Rubber Stamps"

NEW YORK, June 2.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, testifying before the Lockwood legislative committee today, thwarted efforts of Samuel Untermyer, committee counsel to draw from him admissions that J. P. Morgan dominated the corporation.

"Is it not a fact that J. P. Morgan names the directors?" Mr. Untermyer demanded.

"Certainly not," retorted Mr. Gary. "Who does name them?"

"The stockholders," Mr. Untermyer smiled, and Mr. Gary smiled back at him.

"Who really name them?" Mr. Untermyer persisted.

"I'll have to admit and claim," said Mr. Gary, "that I do more of that than anyone else and always have."

Mr. Untermyer then tried to get Mr. Gary to admit that he and Mr. Morgan together controlled the corporation, and that the other five members of its finance committee, which he had testified selected the directors were mere "rubber stamps."

"That is not a fact," said Mr. Gary. "The other members sit in the selection."

He then recounted how, last year, he and President Farrell had selected direct directors, who were elected against Mr. Morgan's judgment but against his wishes.

"The belief that the firm of Morgan controlled United States Steel, he continued, probably arose from the fact that the banking house, in a sense organized the corporation."

It was left to the late J. P. Morgan, he said, to fix the relative values of the companies entering the merger.

The older Morgan, he admitted, named the first board of directors.

Reverting to J. P. Morgan, Jr., Mr. Gary testified he had never shown any desire to dominate the corporation, and that he received merely as one of seven members of the finance committee.

Mr. Gary testified his corporation was able to deliver its products at $3 a ton less than its independent competitors.

He did not think the differential was as high as $5 a ton, as testified yesterday by John A. Topping, chairman of the Republic Iron & Steel Co. Mr. Topping had testified that the great difference in costs made it practically impossible for the independents to compete with United States Steel.

Mr. Gary conceded the difference in costs was largely accounted for by the fact that United States Steel owned more than 1500 miles of railroad connecting its plants with ore centers.

REVENUE AGENT KILLED BY TRAIN AT DEPOT

SAUGATUCK, Conn., June 2.—Joseph P. Courtney, employed in the estate tax division of the United States internal revenue department, and attached to the New Haven office, was killed by a N. Y. N. H. & H. R. train at the Saugatuck-Westport station early today.

The body was identified by letters and documents found strewn along the track. Courtney's home was at Bloomfield, N. J.

Friends said that Courtney during the war was a captain in the air service and was credited with bringing down two enemy airplanes.

Hoover Confers With Coal Dealers

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Having obtained agreement among operators producing 80 per cent of the bituminous coal now being mined to restrict spot prices to a maximum of $3.50 a ton for the duration of the strike, Secretary Hoover was understood today to be considering a conference of wholesale and retail coal dealers to discuss means of insuring to the public the benefits of the price agreements. Definite plans for the conference are yet to be determined, it was said at the department of commerce. The general proposal is to obtain the co-operation of the two classes of dealers. Secretary Hoover was called upon in a resolution offered by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, and adopted today by the senate, to report the effect of the strike upon coal prices and what steps the government had taken to terminate the strike and to protect consumers from exorbitant prices.

RADIO INVENTION WILL DIRECT FISHERMEN

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Earl C. Hanson, radio experimenter, has added another product to his list of inventions.

HANSON'S LATEST INVENTION

tion of a miniature radiophone that amplifies sound for persons hard of hearing.

Hanson's latest is small enough to take up little room in a fisherman's dory. While away from the schooner the fisherman equipped with this instrument can hear signals from the mother ship, in spite of fog or distance.

The schooner is equipped with a one-kilowatt transformer, a motor generator, a "chopper wheel" to send out the signals and an aerial. The chopper wheel issues a continuous moaning noise which is caught by the receiving set in the dory.

The receiver not only catches the sound but tells the fisherman from what direction it comes so that he could row toward its source.

GUARD YOUR HOME AGAINST LIGHTNING

By PAUL F. GODLEY,
America's Foremost Radio Authority.

Does a radio set add to the chances for fire which may result from lightning discharges? Thousands ask the question, wonder about it—and, then let it go at that.

In many years' experience with radio installation I have never heard of lightning having actually caused the destruction of a building in which an amateur outfit was housed. But I have heard of many cases where fires were narrowly averted.

Therefore the one rule that all radio fans should follow is: Safety first. The precautions necessary are few and easily carried out. The sense of safety more than compensates for any trouble, for a properly installed antenna forms a first-class protection against lightning.

Lightning.—It is not necessarily lightning that does real damage. Heavy discharges in the clouds even at a distance of a quarter of a mile may induce currents in the antenna of sufficient strength to overheat small conductors.

Hot Wires.—Where the wires connecting the antenna or ground to the receiving apparatus are of small gauge, or where they have been laid carelessly over the cloth cover of a table or along the dry woodwork, the currents may heat the wires to a red heat. I have seen this happen innumerable times.

When lightning actually strikes the antenna it may completely destroy some of the smaller connecting wires and, if no ready path to earth is available, may take a short cut through the woodwork to produce a great heat and set fire to the building.

Fire underwriters' rules, which should be followed by everyone, call for the provision of a "lightning ground wire" outside the building and some form of approved lightning arrester. In some states there is also required a "lightning switch."

In nearly all states the lightning ground wire switch and arrester must be placed outside the building. The ground wire must be kept from the building at a distance of several inches on insulating supports of either glass or porcelain.

Instructions Free.—Detailed instructions for the proper installation of protective means are available upon application to your fire insurance company or a representative of the American Underwriters' association.

A little care now will save you considerable worry and inconvenience when the season of heavy electrical storms comes along later in the summer.

It may also make it easier for you to collect insurance in case of a fire due to other causes, where otherwise it may be impossible on account of an infraction of the underwriters' rulings.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL MACHINISTS EXPERT

Two pupils of the Vocational school, Louis Kochanek and Ralph Haavie, have become quite proficient in the art of handling the machinery.

A few days ago, a four-way flush-hydrant post, the property of the local fire department and valued at $125, was completely put out of commission when it accidentally fell from one of the fast-moving fire vehicles.

The damaged flush was sent hither to the Vocational school for repairs and to the above-mentioned boys was allotted the difficult task of reconditioning it. Energetically, the boys undertook the delicate work and through dint of personal effort, succeeded in restoring the piece of apparatus to its original shape.

The result was such that the alterations could hardly be detected; in fact, officials proclaim the flush in better working order now than at any time previous to the mishap. All this is credited to the young machinists, who labored under the additional handicap of a small lathe machine, the operation of which in the reverse of the natural order. Ordinarily the piece to be repaired revolves and the tool remains stationary, but in this particular instance it is just the opposite, thus necessitating greater care and skill. The boys were equal to the occasion, however, and clearly demonstrated the ability so characteristic of the majority of Vocational school pupils.

DISCUSSED BRICK WALL ORDINANCE

The council committee on ordinances met prior to the council session last night to discuss the new ordinance relative to eight-inch walls for two-story brick dwellings.

Councillor James J. Gallagher, chairman of the committee, wished to have inserted in the ordinance the proper proportions of materials used in mixing mortar and especially the provision that cement should be used in generous quantities.

It was said by Councillor Appleton that contractors are fairly well agreed that an eight-inch wall is all right, provided that a sufficient amount of cement is used.

The other members of the committee are Messrs. Gallagher, Adams, Sadler and Gonest.

WILL RENOVATE OLD HIGH SCHOOL

The special council committee on public buildings and property, Councillor Appleton, chairman, visited the high school yesterday for the purpose of determining the need of interior renovation of the old building to bring it up to a fair comparison with the new.

The committee unanimously feels that the building should be kept in good condition and generally freshened and several of the stair flights need new treads.

The work, which would probably cost in the neighborhood of $5000, will be done this summer by the department of lands and buildings.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 2.—Speculative or selective issues continued to feature the stock market at the dull opening of today's session. Oil chemicals and food shares again were taken in hand by pools. General Asphalt, California Petroleum, Texas company and Producers and Refiners made fractional gains. Independent steels ignored the prospective combination of Republic, Midvale and Inland, the only noteworthy movement in that group being a one-point advance in Republic preferred. Virginia-Carolina Chemical and National Enamelling, at gains of 1 and 2 1/2 points, respectively, represented the specialists. Fractional advances among rails embraced Chesapeake & Ohio, Lehigh Valley, Southern Pacific and Rutland preferred. Foreign exchanges were irregular, aside from further strength in sterling, which duplicated yesterday's record price of the past three years.

Call money opened and renewed into the coming week at 5 per cent. This is the highest initial quotation in over three months. Further consideration of the latest steel merger provoked selling of Republic and Midvale at declines of 1 1/2 and 2 points, respectively. Steel also reacted. Cokes fell 1/2 point on profit-taking, and some of the major rails were inclined to fall back. In the general list, however, especially among oil, motors, shippings and miscellaneous shares, higher prices ruled. Leaders of those divisions included Mexican Petroleum, Studebaker, Mercantile Marine, American Sugar and Sars, Roebuck.

Reductions in the call money rate to 4 1/2 per cent, the buoyancy of sterling and the recovery of the wheat record for the year in United States Steel at 103, a rise of 2 1/2 points influenced active buying of a wide assortment of stocks. Early weak feeling turned to a more active buying of stocks such as Republic and Midvale Steels and American, Sumatra Tobacco, rallied vigorously. Swift, Penobscot, American Can, Allis-Chalmers, Overholt, Martin, Parry, Pierce Arrow preferred, Hendon Manufacturing, Du Pont, Lake Erie & Western common and preferred and Studebaker were marked up 1 to 2 1/2. These shares reflecting the varied character of the buying.

Extreme gains in two to eight points in California Petroleum, Pacific Oil, National Enamelling, Crucible Steel and minor rails, indicated the speculative character of the inter dealings. The closing was strong.

READY TO START FOR ICE FLOES

Amundsen's Exploration Ship
Maud, Crammed With Sup-
plies Sails Tomorrow

Two Airplanes to Be Used
in Investigations Loaded
Aboard the Vessel

SEATTLE, Wash., June 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Captain Roald Amundsen's exploration ship, Maud, crammed with equipment and supplies, is ready to sail tomorrow on the first lap of the long voyage through the ice floes about the North Pole. Captain Amundsen said today:

Two airplanes, to be used in meteorological and topographical investigations in the uncharted Polar basin, were loaded aboard the vessel. Captain Amundsen will join his ship at Nome, Alaska, leaving Seattle Sunday on the steamer Victoria.

Lumber forms an important item in the Maud's cargo. The explorer explained that after the ship is frozen into the Arctic ice pack—with which he expects to drift past the North Pole—living quarters for the dogs and huts for scientific observations will be constructed on the ice.

For days the explorer's feminine admirers at the University of Washington have been engaged in making candy for members of the expedition. Candy, it seems, is an essential in the navigation of the Arctic wastes, and Captain Amundsen gratefully has accepted the gifts.

As Captain Amundsen drifts slowly across the endless expanse of the Polar basin, from which no white man ever emerged, he will search the white waste about him for signs of the "phantom fleet"—the frozen company of lost ships that the Eskimo hunters swing around the North Pole year in and year out, gripped in the inexorable clutch of ice.

Vessels have disappeared strangely in the unexplored Polar basin since the beginning of Arctic navigation. In one full season the hungry ice pack in 1876 carried off or whaling ships from the waters north of the American continent.

Will inspect paving in Connecticut

The city's asphalt problem was discussed further at a meeting of the board of public service late yesterday afternoon, when representatives of a number of concerns submitted propositions relative to furnishing an asphalt mixing plant for use this summer. The board became somewhat interested in a form of asphalt paving, known as Amiesite and voted to go to several Connecticut cities next Wednesday to look over samples of this preparation. Hartford and New Britain will be visited, with a view toward using this paving on Lowell streets if it seems satisfactory.

The Traylor-Dewey Co. of Allentown, Pa., submitted a proposal to the board to do the necessary gunning on Central bridge, $5000. While the board favored the proposition it was thought advisable first to take it up with Lewis E. Moore, consulting engineer.

Supt. of Buildings Francis A. Connor called the board's attention to a dangerous condition of a portion of the street department stable in Broadway and stated that it needs new underpinning and flooring, but that the finances of his department will not allow him to do the work. The board voted that whatever work necessary is strictly up to the building department and that the board cannot offer any financial assistance.

A bill of $120 from the health department for the feed and care of horses for the month of May was referred to the street superintendent for investigation.

Residents of West Adams street protested against the oiling of that thoroughfare, but inasmuch as the street already has been oiled, no action could be taken.

The board voted to accept an invitation from the municipal employees union to attend the annual outing of that organization at Willow Dale on Sunday, June 11.

The board voted to all Beacon street, between Sixth and Eleventh streets, in response to a petition from residents of that neighborhood.

MOB THREATENS TO HANG BASEBALL UMPIRE

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 2.—If Umpire Bruneau, who evidently has faith in his own convictions, is on the job today when Three Rivers and Valleyfield clubs of the Eastern Canada league meet, he may expect to step into a cauldron of boiling pitch when he leaves the field at the end of the game.

Yesterday Mr. Bruneau called some close ones against Three Rivers, resulting in the loss of the game by the home team and a close call for Mr. Bruneau, who nearly lost his neck. A mob of neat-eyed fans dangling a rope with a meat noose, waited for him outside the park, and a squad of police escorted him to his hotel.

Harry Poules, proprietor of the local club, today telegraphed President Page of the Eastern Canada league, that if Mr. Bruneau officiates today he will not be responsible for the "mob-baiting" that he says is positive to occur.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM DARING RESCUE BY N. Y. FIREMEN

Mayor Says Maintenance
Money Must Be Provided
Before Building Opens

The mayor reiterated today that no plans will be formulated for the opening of the Memorial Auditorium until the city council sees fit to provide the money necessary for its maintenance for the balance of the year, which is approximately $20,000.

The mayor also said that he was surprised that the council did not take some action on the order last night, but Pres. Patrick J. Bagley, who has with the statement that he should not be surprised, for he, Dr. Bagley, has stated publicly a number of times that he does not believe in the method of obtaining the money and in consequence, will not even read the order to the council.

The order as drawn up by the mayor, provides that the money shall be transferred from the overlay surplus account, and this method of financing the city does not meet with Pres. Bagley's approval.

The mayor points out that when the council, earlier in the year, transferred $10,000 from overlay surplus to the park department, it established a precedent and to be consistent, he feels similar action should be taken in the present case.

City Solicitor Tierney has ruled that the money may legally be acquired in this way, but in the same opinion, rules against the transferring of $1200 for an extension of the white way lighting system to Graham at the present time. The money may be taken from overlay surplus, to meet extraordinary or unforeseen conditions.

BIG INCREASE IN BUILDING ACTIVITY

Ample proof that building activity has greatly increased in the city this year is furnished in the report for May of the buildings department and the summary of the permits issued the first five months of this year, compared with the same period of a similar length of time in 1921.

For the first five months of last year permits were issued that entailed a total approximate expenditure of $555,552, while this year the department has issued permits that have a gross value in dollars and cents of $1,114,533.

In the month of May the department issued 102 permits for building, estimated expenditure of $251,558. Ninety-one of the permits were given for new buildings, including 42 garages, while 102 permits were given for alterations.

ANNUAL DRAWING FOR VACATIONS

An event occurred at the postoffice today which is of more or less consequence to the employees. It was the annual drawing for vacation periods. The 70 or more clerks and parcel post men made their drawings this morning while the 10 clerks will pick numbers from the hat late this afternoon.

The manner of drawing is simple. A number for each employee is put into a hat. Then in turn the men step up and pick one piece of paper. The number on the paper entitles the picker to a certain position in the list. Those that pick low numbers are considered the most fortunate because they have first choice and naturally choose the best made times. It is not so much difference to the clerks, but the carriers like to get off during the hottest part of the year.

GALLAGHER FOR WIRE INSPECTOR

Mayor George H. Brown today made out the nomination of Charles L. Gallagher, electrician, for the position of city inspector of wires, which he will send to the city council at its meeting next Thursday night. He said that he has not made up his mind whether or not he will again send in the name of Albert F. Hogue as a nominee for the position of purchasing agent.

One of the most widely followed professions in the far north is that of the wire carrier.
